WEATHER SYNOPSIS

The barometer remains high over Northern British Columbia, and fine, hot and dangerously dry weather will increase the forest fire hazard. Fine, warm weather also prevails in the Prairies.

MIGRATION PROPOSALS ANNOUNCED

British Chancellor of Exchequer Tells of Plans for Relieving Unemployment Situation

WHOLESALE EFFORT TO BE UNDERTAKEN

Large Numbers to Be Sent Annually to Canada — Eventual Cost $10,000,000 in Each Year

LONDON, July 24.—The House of Commons tonight, by a vote of 331 to 151, defeated the Labor party's motion of censure of the Government for failure to solve the unemployment problem.

An amendment, moved by Sir Henry Paget Croft, Unionist, deploring the opposition of the Liberal and Labor parties to the Government's policy of reform of local taxation and to its policy of safeguarding industries, was carried by 305 to 136.

Rt. Hon Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, declared that the coal industry was the crux of the whole problem, and that he hoped that relief would shortly be forthcoming from the tax reform policy which the Government has resolved to push through Parliament as quickly as possible and from a reduction in freight rates on export coal.

The problem of more than 200,000 miners who, it was declared, would be permanently without work unless they were shifted to other industries or to the Dominions and Colonies, was dealt with at length.

MIGRATION PLANS

Continuing, Mr. Churchill said the Government was going to approach the migration question from three angles. First, they would make migration easier by sweeping away obstacles; second, they would provide a larger grant to enable emigrants to purchase an outfit in the new country, and thirdly a scheme would be put into effect by which 2,500 boys, 7,000 single men, 2,500 families and 2,000 women would be migrated annually to Canada from the British mining districts. The cost of this undertaking would reach £600,000 per year. Finally, said Mr. Churchill, the Government is contemplating a scheme of betterment loans with the object of stimulating Empire settlement. The scheme was expected in time to cost £2,000,000 annually.

DOGS ATTACK MAN

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Attacked by two dogs which he was attempting to chase out of his chicken coop, on Tuesday morning, Constable A. Rae, after battling for some time with the enraged animals, was forced to draw his revolver and fire at them, killing one and wounding the other. The constable escaped serious injury, but his clothes were torn. All efforts to find who owned the dogs failed.

ASPHYXIATED

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Asphyxiated by gas which gathered in a tunnel in which he was working at Woodfibre, Howe Sound, Kenneth McIvor, died on Monday afternoon.

New Regulations On Traffic Must Receive Respect

IMMEDIATE steps to enforce the new traffic regulations with reference to the new stop signs installed at the approaches to the various arterial highways will be taken by the city police, according to a statement by Chief of Police John Pry yesterday. Very few motorists are at the present time obeying these signs, stated the Chief, but a continuance of this practice will prove costly. The signs are installed for the benefit and safety of the traveling public, and must be respected.

Motorists are advised that where there are no stop signs at an intersection the traffic regulation giving the person approaching on the right, the right of way is still effective.

A number of motorists have already been apprehended for not stopping, and will appear in police court in a few days.

SITUATION IN MEXICO SHOWS GREAT CHANGE

Labor Leaders, Lately Dominant, Are Threatened With Outlawry by Followers of Obregon

AGRARIAN PARTY ASSERTS STRENGTH

By TOM WALLACE
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—The resignation of Luis N. Morones, Labor leader, from the Cabinet of President Calles, was the most sensational political occurrence—with the exception of the Obregon murder—which has taken place recently in Mexico City.

Morones' resignation brings Antonio Diaz Soto Y Gama to the front as a Mexican, not a military leader, who has accomplished a coup under circumstances in which it was believed only a military leader could be effective.

Soto Y Gama's flat declaration charging Morones and his associates with being the psychological authors of the assassination was the climax of a plan, adopted after the publication of the report of Inspector-General of Police Zertuche that the Catholic clergy was blamable for the crime.

LOOKING FOR SCAPEGOAT

General Zertuche's statement was handed to the correspondents on the day the assassin was presented to them to show that he had not been maltreated in captivity and followed the reported police discovery of a photograph of Father Projuarez in the possession of Toral. Father Projuarez was one of the four men who were executed by a firing squad after the attempt on Obregon's life last November.

Following the Zertuche statement, a newspaper, El Grafic, published an interview between President Calles and Toral in which the assassin was depicted as a religious fanatic, who declared he had committed the crime at the order of Christ.

In the meantime, President Calles gave out a statement to the press in which he laid the blame on the Catholic clergy, while the Obregonistas continued to insist that the

LORD WILLINGDON AT JASPER PARK

Governor-General and Lady Willingdon Return From Peace River —Guests at Dinner

JASPER, Alta., July 24.—After several weeks of strenuous journeying, which included their first trip through the Peace River country, the Governor-General and Lady Willingdon settled down at Jasper Park Lodge this morning for a quiet nine days. They spent part of the day renewing acquaintances with the golf course, which gave them such pleasure last Fall, and it is likely that golf will take up most of their time while they are here.

This evening the Governor-General was the guest of honor at a dinner party given in the lodge by Mr. R. H. Knight, superintendent of the park. Among the other guests were Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior; Sir Henry Thornton, K.B.E., president and chairman of the Canadian National Railways; Dr. H. McCombe, chief medical officer of the National system; Mr. W. A. Kingsland, general manager of Western lines, and Mr. H. A. Dixon, chief engineer of the Canadian National Railways, Western region, and Mr. L. Wubert, Norwegian Consul-General for Canada.

FIRE THREATENS HOMES

SEATTLE, July 24.—With close to 200 men fighting a blaze on North Bainbridge Island, the flames were reported still out of control tonight, and threatening a group of Summer homes of Seattle residents.

A mile of hose was laid from the fire-boat Duwamish to check the progress of the fire towards Port Blakely.

LEBANON, Ore., July 24.—Fire today destroyed the main plant of the Oregon Canning Company with a loss of more than $350,000.

MAGNIFICENT DISPLAY AT GARDEN SHOW

Victoria Horticultural Society Provides Treat for More Than 500 on Opening Day

ORGANIZATION IS WARMLY PRAISED

Fruit and Vegetable Showing Almost as Artistic as Wonderful Flower Exhibition

A MAGNIFICENT display of garden products, both ornamental and useful, was thrown open to the public yesterday by the Victoria Horticultural Society at its fifth annual Summer Show. The event, which is staged at the Crystal Garden, attracted over 500 visitors yesterday, and it is anticipated by the organizers that the attendance by closing time, at 9:30 o'clock tonight, will be well over the 1,000 mark.

In formally declaring the exhibition open yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, Alderman Brown, speaking on behalf of Mayor Pendray in the unavoidable absence of the latter, praised the Horticultural Society for the splendid work it has done in stimulating interest among Victoria's amateur gardeners, particularly in the matter of floriculture. Nothing could better promote Victoria's reputation as a city of sunshine and flowers.

The president, Mr. P. R. Leighton, and Mr. F. E. Boulter, the secretary, welcomed the Mayoral representative, and members of the committee were on hand throughout the day to give any information required by visitors. This evening, at 9 o'clock, Mrs. H. B. Allen, wife of Rev. H. B. Allen, president of the Vancouver Island Horticultural Association, will present the prizes, and at 9:30 o'clock the remaining fruit, flowers and vegetables will be auctioned off.

BEAUTIFUL DISPLAY

The hall presents a very attractive appearance, the west end flanked and serried with tables of gay bloom; the east, devoted principally to the display of vegetables and fruits. The heat of the past few days has been slightly detrimental to some of the exhibits, but has had the advantages in advancing the growth of others. The four big trade exhibits from Mr. R. M. Palmer's place, Cobble Hill; the Rockhome Gardens; the Government Buildings gardens (Mr. H. H. Reed), and Mr. Clarence McTavish's gardens, at Breed's Crossroad,

MINISTER SAYS CRITICS WRONG

NO RESTRICTIONS ON BRITISH OF GOOD HEALTH AND CHARACTER

Immigration Department Blamed for Bringing Too Few and for Bringing Too Many

OTTAWA, July 24.—"Apart from the common sense requirements concerning health and character, there are no restrictions on Britishers coming to Canada to live." Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, said today, when asked about complaints published in British papers that Canada was too strict in its provisions for admitting people from Great Britain into this country.

For some time, the minister added, both here and in England, Canadian immigration regulations have been subjected to severe criticism in so far as the admission of Britishers is concerned. It is claimed in England that people are not being encouraged to emigrate to Canada, while in this country it is said that immigrants are being induced to come when no employment is available for them. "It is difficult to see what the propagandists have in mind, but the result can only impair the prestige of Canada in the eyes of residents of the Mother Country."

QUEBEC SUBURB HOLDS MYSTERY

Two Russians Found With Stock of Dynamite, Rifles and Radio Outfit in House

QUEBEC, July 24.—Three officers from the Department of Justice at Ottawa and a squad of investigators were today inquiring into the circumstances surrounding the discovery in a house at Sillery, a Quebec suburb, of a stock of dynamite, rifles and ammunition, and a radio outfit said to be capable of communicating with European capitals.

Two men—Arsene Nelna, twenty-one, and Auguste Nelna, sixty-four, son and father—who occupied the house, were arrested and brought before the court of sessions.

Arsene, who was born in Lemberg, Russia, but has been a resident of Quebec for years, was charged with having stolen a "Kolster Decremeter," a radio instrument, the property of the Canadian Marconi Company, and with having illegally in his possession fifty pounds of dynamite and several boxes of detonators.

Three Years' Silence

KING Fuad of Egypt has suspended both Houses of Parliament for three years, or longer, if deemed necessary. TEMPERATURE RECORD FALLS ONE DEGREE

Victoria Still Swelters in the "Eighties," While Interior Cities Reach 104 —Wave Is General

MODERATE WINDS ARE PROMISED

Victoria's temperature yesterday fell one degree, as compared with the record for the year on Monday, the maximum recorded at Gonzales Observatory being eighty-six degrees. Vancouver was cooler, the maximum being eighty-two degrees.

Most of the points in the Interior, except Kamloops, registered lower readings than the previous day, but at Spokane the unusual record of 104 was attained.

Grand Forks, which had registered 102 on Monday, advanced to 104, and thus reached the record as the warmest place in the province reporting. High temperatures are general throughout the Canadian Prairies, Calgary with 88 being the highest.

While fine and warm weather is forecast for this district, the heat of the last three days is likely to be tempered, as moderate winds are promised. The forest fire hazard is serious, and another warning of caution is sounded by the Superintendent, Mr. F. Napier Denison, at Gonzales Observatory.

WARM IN INTERIOR

SPOKANE, July 24.—In nearly all Eastern Washington cities from which reports were received the temperature yesterday indicated the warmest day of the year. Spokane's record has only been surpassed three times in the history of the weather bureau.

Reports of temperatures follow: Walla Walla, 106; Davenport, 98; Ellensburg, 103; Odessa, 106; Pasteros, 103; Wenatchee, 105; Othello, 104; Nespellem, 101; Dayton, 100; Colbert, 104, and Spokane, 102.

Five towns in Idaho report temperatures ranging from 98 to 106.

HEAT WAVE IN EUROPE

ROME, July 23.—Four deaths sunstroke and three drownings occurred yesterday during the heat wave which is sweeping Italy. A temperature of 95 degrees Fahrenheit was recorded at Rome, Milan, Florence and Bologna, while at Tripoli, in Africa, it was 94.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 24—Turkey today was suffering from a heat wave. Two persons died at Constantinople, where the temperature passed the 87 degrees mark in the shade. At Angora it reached 94 in the shade.

Conservative in Kamloops Wins by 21 Report States

KAMLOOPS, July 24.—With all polls in, it is unofficially reported that J. R. Michell, Conservative, has a majority of twenty-one over J. R. Colley, Liberal, in this constituency.

NEW ZEALAND MAKES TREATY WITH JAPAN

WELLINGTON, N.Z., July 24.—The first treaty negotiated between Japan and any of the British Dominions has been concluded here. Under it New Zealand and Japan agree to give each other the most favored nation treatment in commerce, customs and navigation affairs.

The pact is to go into effect on September 8 and grew out of recent large shipping service between the two countries.

Ellen Terry's Ashes Rest in Covent Garden

LONDON, July 24.—The ashes of the beloved British actress Ellen Terry rested tonight in a silver casket in the "Church of the Actors," St. Paul's Church, Covent Garden, where so many distinguished thespians have been buried. Funeral services were held earlier in the day in the little Kentish village of Small Hythe.

In deference to the great actress' last wish—"No funeral gloom, my dears, when I am gone"—the utmost simplicity marked the services at Small Hythe and at the chapel of the Crematorium at Golders Green, London, where the body was cremated. At Small Hythe her friends and relatives wore no mourning, and brightly hued flowers from village gardens deprived the scene of any touch of sombreness.

MR. BENNETT AT SUMMER SCHOOL

CONSERVATIVE LEADER ADDRESSES MARITIME STUDENTS AT MT. ALLISON

Young Men and Women Urged to Make Contribution to National Life and Future

SACKVILLE, N.S., July 24.—In the convocation hall of Mount Allison University, where his mother, father, sister, and he, himself, were students, Hon. R. B. Bennett addressed members of the Maritime Summer School today.

More than 200 professors and students greeted the Conservative leader, and college yells and cheers broke forth as he tok his seat on the platform.

"Nothing was more pleasing to public men than to see so many young men and women adding to their store of knowledge," declared Mr. Bennett in opening his remarks. "It augurs well for the future of this country, and I realize that it requires some sacrifice to come here at this time of the year and devote yourself to study."

Mr. Bennett paid a tribute to the contribution of the Maritimes to the national life of Canada.

INDIVIDUAL AND NATION

"Young men and women, you are on the threshold of life," Mr. Bennett proceeded, addressing himself to the student body, "and I am past it."

"My purpose," he continued, "is to urge you to make your contribution to the national life of Canada. I did not say political life, mark you; I said national life."

Pleading for his audience to think in terms of Canada as a whole, Mr. Bennett said it was thirty years ago since he left his native province of New Brunswick for the West. The journey to the Prairie Provinces had unfolded to him the greatness and vastness of Canada. But the future of this country did not rest with those who were gone, he said, but with the young men and women of today.

"We have a democracy in Canada, probably as free as in any country in the world," Mr. Bennett declared. "Those of you who have studied political science realize that democracy is an experiment. If democracy is to succeed, we must bear in mind that the success of democracy depends on the character of the young men and young women who constitute this country."

HORNET KILLS MAN

NANAIMO, July 24.—Local provincial police received word from Lasqueti Island that D. Uyeda, a Japanese employed in a logging camp there, had died suddenly, death apparently being due to hornet stings.

Surgeons Report On Condition of Mayor Taylor

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Mayor Louis D. Taylor was resting comfortably in the General Hospital this evening following an operation today on his skull.

Dr. R. E. McKechnie, who performed the operation, declared the vitality of his patient was wonderful, and no change was to be expected in his condition for the next three or four days.

The surgeon's probe revealed what an X-ray taken this morning indicated—a small piece of bone pressing against the brain. This was successfully raised and no complications are now looked for in the immediate future.

WIDE REGION SWELTERS IN WAVE OF HEAT

Records of Thirty Years' Standing Broken in Pacific Northwest States—Forest Fires Worse

TEMPERATURE AT WALLA WALLA 110

SEATTLE, July 24.—The Pacific Northwest sweltered today as the mercury continued a three-day climb. Weather forecasters predicted a slight moderation tomorrow from the hot wave which sent temperatures well above the hundred mark in the Interior and in the upper 80's and 90's on the Coast.

Records of thirty years' standing were broken in Spokane and Wenachee, Washington, when the thermometer reached 104.1 and 106, respectively.

Walla Walla reported 110, the highest Washington temperature recorded here today. Yakima reported 108, Seattle 89, Portland 98, Roseburg, Ore., 104; Boise, Idaho, 102.

With the continued excessive dry spell, fire fighters battling a dozen minor forest fires in Western Washington were increased.

Despite the high temperatures, there were virtually no heat prostrations reported.

Canada Presents Nominations for Court of League

GENEVA, July 24.—Lyman Pocre Duff and Eugene Lafleur were nominated by Canada today for the vacancy on the permanent court of international justice, caused by the resignation of John Bassett Moore.

Germany and Holland nominated Charles Evans Hughes, with Germany giving a second vote to Walter Symons, chief justice of the German supreme court.

JAPANESE DIPLOMATS IN GENERAL SHUFFLE

TOKIO, July 24.—Katsuki Deduchi has been formerly appointed Japanese Ambassador to Washington, and expects to sail some time in October to assume his new post. He will succeed S. Tsuneo Matsudairo, who goes to London. M. Deduchi will not leave Japan until the wedding of Ambassador Matsudairo's daughter to Prince Chichibu, heir apparent. After the Imperial ceremony in November Shigeru Yoshida, Minister to Sweden, will succeed Deduchi as Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs.

NEW MOTOR CO. TO BUILD GARAGE

The Motor House, Limited, Will Construct Building at Yates and Vancouver Streets

Another garage is to be added to Automobile Row. Late yesterday afternoon it was announced by Mr. J. E. B. Dickson, president of The Motor House, Limited, that a $35,000 two-story garage was to be built immediately at the southwest corner of Vancouver Street and Yates Street. The site is now occupied by a vegetable store. Mr. C. Elwood Watkins will be the architect.

The Motor House, Limited, was organized only a few days ago, with Mr. Dickson as president; Mr. R. Wilson, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. H. C. "Cliff" Lupton as manager. Mr. Lupton was formerly sales manager of the Chrysler Garage, Thomas Plimley, Limited. This new company will handle the latest product of Walter P. Chrysler, one of America's foremost automobile manufacturers, the De Soto "6." The new car is to be announced about August 1.

"It is our intention to build immediately," said Mr. Lupton yesterday to a Colonist representative. "The garage will be the last word in garage construction and will be of unique design. Everything that will assist us in giving a super-service will be included in the plans.

Plans for the garage will be completed within a few days and construction will be rushed with all possible speed. We will open a temporary garage."

GENERAL FURSE ON COAST

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Lieutenant-General Sir William Furse, K.C.B., C.B., D.S.O., with Lady Furse and his daughter, is spending a few days in Vancouver prior to sailing for Australia and New Zealand.

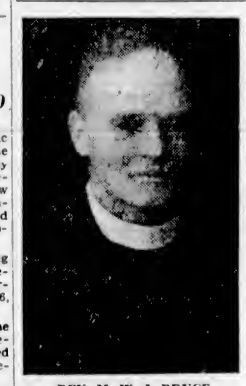

Cowichan River Flume Proposal Is Discussed In Convention Address

Presidential Statement Made to Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island at Qualicum Beach by Rev. M. W. J. Bruce—Suggested Freighting Service on East Coast

Forbidden Plateau as National Park Is Commended as Desirable Objective

QUALICUM BEACH, July 24.—That the proposed Cowichan Lake-Cowichan Bay logging flume deserved the careful consideration of all commercial bodies on Vancouver Island, was the point made in the presidential address of Rev. Montague W. J. Bruce, president of the Saanich Board of Trade, to the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island, in session here for the annual convention.

Presidential Address Covers Many Issues

REV. M. W. J. BRUCE

On this subject he said: "A matter of very vital importance, particularly to one area, and generally affecting the whole Island, has arisen in the suggestion that a flume should be erected to take the logs from Cowichan Lake to Cowichan Bay. Notwithstanding the special pleading before the Duncan Chamber of Commerce, I feel that the result, if this flume is allowed to be erected, will be so inimicable to the climate of the section of the Island which is effected through the rapid deforestation that will occur, that the water will be so lowered, notwithstanding assurances to the contrary, that during the Summer there will be little or no water in the river, thereby absolutely destroying the Cowichan as a nursery for the salmon, which frequent our coast, and in the Winter the streams will become raging torrents, a source of danger to the people living on their banks, and a menace to the town of Duncan. The company requires eighty cubic feet per second for the transportation of their logs. During 1915 at the late outlet in September and October only thirty-two cubic feet were registered, while even in October 1916 only eighty-five cubic feet passed the guage. These figures speak for themselves. This is a matter though, which requires experts to look into and decide on, and therefore, apart from this warning note it would be presumptuous to advise it.

THE NEW FERRY

"The more people who are encouraged to move about and especially to visit this Island the better it will be for us," said Mr. Bruce, "therefore we welcome unhesitatingly the new ferry plying between Edmonds and Victoria. This should not be regarded as running in opposition to the existing ferries, but rather as tapping new resources. To show that this is so, compared with this period of last year, every existing line has shown an increase in its traffic, notwithstanding the newcomer. On July 4 the Victoria-Edmonds ferry brought to Victoria 1,120 passengers on one trip. A few other items will show the trend of the times. Building operations have jumped astoundingly compared with last year.

"The export lumber trade has improved considerably, and as a result, showing the healthy financial conditions bank clearings show a decided advance.

"A start has been made on the West Road with its first objective as Port Renfrew, and although this of itself will eventually be of great use to the neighborhood by opening up new country and meeting the wants of the settlers who are there, we must not lose sight of the

KASLO-SLOCAN SEAT IN HOUSE IS CHALLENGED

Right of Captain Fitzsimmons to Return Is Questioned on Steamer Subsidy Affecting Qualification

REGISTRATION OF COMPANY AT STAKE

Investigation of the statement that Captain James Fitzsimmons would be unable to take his seat in the Legislature for the Kaslo-Slocan riding, to which he appears to have been elected by a small majority over the late member, Mr. C. S. Leary, was made here yesterday.

The story reached the capital that Captain Fitzsimmons' return, when made by the returning officers next month would be challenged on the ground that he received a bonus of $4,000 a year from the Public Works Department to operate a steamer on the Arrow Lakes, and was therefore ineligible.

Inquiry shows that a company to carry on the business was recently formed, and that the registration has not yet been issued. The legal technicalities, it was stated by a prominent barrister, were beyond the applicant's control, and the opinion was expressed that Captain Fitzsimmons could not be held liable for events which he could not control.

B.C. Cannot Send Quota to Aid in Prairie Harvest

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Canadian Prairie farmers will have to look elsewhere than British Columbia for harvesters this year in the opinion of Government officials here. This province generally supplies from 6,000 to 10,000 men each year for the prairie harvesting. "Conditions in British Columbia are better than they have been for several years past," James H. McVety, superintendent of the Dominion Employment Service, said today, "and from my observations I would say there are not nearly as many men out of work in this district as usual at this time of year."

DISEASE FROM MILK

VANCOUVER, July 24.—"Where we have one case of disease from water, we have five or six from milk," declared Dr. Howard Spohn, specialist in diseases of children, when he spoke in the witness box at the milk investigation today. "Proportionally, there is far more money spent on securing a healthy water supply than there is on securing a healthy milk supply," the witness said.

MONTANA TREMOR

HELENA, Montana, July 24.—An earth tremor unofficially noted by the weather bureau was felt here at 11:45 a.m. today. It was so light as to pass unnoticed generally. The last record of a tremor was on February 29.

SOCIETY AIDS INFANT HEALTH

SIR F. T. KING EXHORTS HEARERS IN VANCOUVER TO FORM ORGANIZATION

Intelligent Care of Infants Leads to Virile Manhood and Womanhood, He Points Out

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Exhorting his hearers to form a Plunket society and, by the dissemination of accurate knowledge on the care of infants, to not only cut down the percentage of infantile mortality but also promote a healthy and virile manhood and womanhood, Sir Frederick Truby King, eminent New Zealand physician, addressed the Canadian Club at the luncheon at the Hotel Vancouver today. "The work I have been doing is not very remunerative personally, but I would be pleased, if you will allow me, to be the first subscriber of $100 to the fund, and we in the sister Dominion of New Zealand will be glad to give you all the assistance we can by supplying you with information and literature on the subject," he said.

THE PLUNKET SYSTEM

Sir Frederick, who is a native of New Zealand and the founder of the Plunket system of nursing, which has special reference to the care of infants and the instruction of young mothers, arrived in Vancouver today on his return to New Zealand from a visit to the Old Country. He was accompanied by his daughter, who is also a trained Plunket nurse. Miss Olive M. Garrodd, an Australian, who received her training in the Commonwealth, and who is working as a Plunket nurse in Kamloops, was also present.

"We can say that there is practically no woman in New Zealand who does not avail herself of the services of these nurses," he declared, referring to the widespread interest in the Plunket system aroused in that Dominion.

furnish a blaze of color about the walls. The gladioli and zinnias were particularly remarked in the Palmer collection; delphiniums, rock plants, several uncommon perennials, Shasta daisies with frilled edges, bergamot, Russian rat tail, several heathers, Swiss edelweiss, some new and handsome carnations, butterfly budleia, penstamen, climbing lilac, and numerous other fine things are to be seen in the Rockhome Gardens' collection; and from the Government Buildings gardens, as might have been expected, are several rare and beautiful roses, including the "Cheerful," the "Red Cross," "Mrs. Henry Morse," and "Captain Wiley Stewart," also schyzanthus, ferns, enormous Shasta daisies, and some fine specimens of the dahlia family. The McTavish display consists solely of gladioli, the rich coloring of which is shown to advantage in the niche where they are displayed.

ARTISTIC DISPLAYS

A great amount of interest centred in the Section A part of the exhibition. This was devoted to artistic displays, the highest percentage of marks being awarded for artistic arrangement as against variety and quality specimens. Mr. J. Naysmyth and Angus McKay won first and second prizes respectively in Class 1, for best group display of potted plants. In her collection Mrs. Naysmyth emphasized gloxinias, coxcomb, calceolarias, Rex begonias, and ferns in achieving a beautiful result; and Mr. McKay used chiefly begonias, coleus, schyanthus, Mimulus, petunias, Easter lilies, and tobacco plant. The next glass of special interest in this section was that devoted to group display of cut flowers, the winners being Mrs. J. A. Hibberson and Mr. R. O. Lamb. The former's collection included a big variety of garden blossom: marigolds, erygeum, phlox, godetia, Coonara, sweet peas, mombretia delphiniums, heaths, Michaelmas daisies, scabius, campanula, etc., and Mr. Lamb's contained, in addition to several of the above, two glasses of Africal daisies, candytuft, St. John's wort, cornflowers, cosmos, and some handsome specimens of the Passion flower.

Still another section of the flowers which attracted great attention was the wild flower display. One entry, sent by a little girl, contained no fewer than sixty-five wild flowers, all of them found in the Oak Bay district; and a second entry had over thirty specimens.

WINS TROPHY

Mr. J. A. Hibberson was the winner of the coveted trophy presented by Dr. A. G. Price for the best sweet pea exhibit in the show. Mr. Hibberson's collection of twelve varieties of this ever-popular flower was notable for the clear, bright color and magnificent size of the bloom, among the rarer specimens being "Mrs. A. Searles," a brilliant orange pink; "Pinkie," described in its name, and the handsome grape-colored "Black Bess."

There was a larger and better entry than ever previously in the collection of outside-grown cut flowers, the winners being A. Tyrell and F. B. Robinson. Gladioli, dahlias and roses were particularly strong entries this year, and the pansy and viola, penstamen, antirrhinum and carnation also had good representation.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

The more practical part of the exhibition was almost as decorative, in its way, as the flowers. Doris Hibberson's display of vegetables, for instance, showed artistic design as well as horticultural merit, with neatly set out squash, beets, potato, cucumber, radishes, beans, onions, cauliflower, carrots peas, corn, broad beans, string beans, parsley, tomatoes, parsnips and cabbage. Among the vegetables, potatoes were a strong entry, and Swiss chard, rhubarb and cabbage were remarkable for their size. Victoria has not made much boast of its gooseberries, but Mr. A. Smith had a plate of magnificent fruit to demonstrate the possibilities of this fruit here. Raspberries and logans were strongly represented with big entries.

Following is the prize list:

murder was political. The Morones' resignation, it is now believed, will lessen the tension.

YOUNG OBREGON ACTS

Immediately after Obregon was assassinated, Umberto Obregon, his son, asked a group of his friends to aid him in killing Luis N. Morones. Young Obregon was dissuaded from doing so, but the name of Morones was on the tongues of Obregonistas constantly. From the time of the murder, the question was whether President Calles would be able to retain him in the Cabinet. It was not believed that there was any Obregon leader who was strong enough to force the Labor leader out.

Manuel Trejo, who is alleged to be the link between the Laboristas and the assassin, and who, according to the alleged statement of Toral, gave the assassin the pistol, is now being sought.

The only known fact is that Soto Y Gama, the Agrarian leader, nonmilitary and intrepid champion of the murdered Obregon, has forced Morones from the Cabinet. What will follow is a matter of speculation.

POLITICAL MOTIVE

Discovery yesterday of a letter written by Obregon some time ago in which he advised against the execution of Catholics and recommended that they be held in custody or sent out of Mexico until the situation improved, throws a new light on his views. That his murder was political is now generally believed. The theory that Toral was the tool of politicians—a man who was persuaded to sacrifice himself, possibly influenced by religious feeling, but not a crazy fanatic—is gaining adherents.

Prior to the arrival of the body of Captain Emilio Carranza, fear was expressed that the occasion would result in a clash between the Obregonistas and their foes, but no disorder developed.

AGRARIANS PRESS

MEXICO CITY, July 24.—The Union of Revolutionary parties, in which the Agrarians are represented, decided during a meeting last night to petition President Calles to eliminate all members of the Labor party from the administration. The union was not satisfied with the resignations of Luis Morones, Minister of Labor; Celestino Gasca, chief of ordnance supplies, and Eduardo Moneda, who withdrew from the Government after Agrarian leaders had asserted that Labor leaders were the "psychological authors," of the assassination of General Alvaro Obregon.

The union also decided to request the Obregonista blocs in both houses of congress to expel the Laborite deputies and senators.

A committee was appointed to find a means to obtain the dismissal of those state governors who were either members of the Labor party or were guilty of "serious outrages."

The meeting was characterized by a radical change of attitude on the part of the Agrarians, who, instead of threatening civil war, counselled serenity.

The youthful author had just had his first book published, and was rather thrilled when a reporter called to interview him.

"You're going to ask how I did it?"

"No—why you did it."

ACTION RESTS WITH VICTIM

Charge Against Man Detained Here Depends on Decision of Gerald Griffin Moriarity

ATLANTIC CITY, July 24.—Matthew Biggar, held by immigration officials of Victoria, B.C., in connection with a $31,485 alleged swindle perpetrated here last Summer, will be extradited from Canada, if Gerald Griffin Moriarity, wealthy rubber planter of Sumatra, Dutch East India, his alleged victim, so instructs the local police.

Otherwise the man will not be brought here.

Biggar, in the company of a man known as Arthur Ernest Cox, is alleged to have worked a race horse swindle on Moriarity. The two men met first in Alberta.

Inspector T. W. Parsons, of the Provincial Police, who returned on Thursday evening from a tour to New Zealand, learned of the case while in that Dominion, and as a consequence Biggar, who was on the steamer, was detained as a suspect in the case and was held by the United States immigration authorities here for investigation.

TRIAL LASTS SIX YEARS

Westinghouse engineers experimented six years before placing the AC Batteryless Radio on the market—a worthy product of the pioneers in radio.

Westinghouse Batteryless Receivers have been developed in Westinghouse experimental laboratories simultaneously with the new Westinghouse alternating current. Radiotrons, which make possible the operation of your set direct from the light socket.

While Westinghouse "AC" Radiotrons are used by the leading radio manufacturers, they afford the owner of a Westinghouse Receiver the maximum possibilities of "true-to-life" reproduction, being, in fact, the very foundation of the Westinghouse Batteryless Sets. (Advt.)

MURDER CONFESSED

EDMONTON, Alta., July 24.—Vernon Booher, twenty-year-old farmer son of Manville, Alberta, has confessed to police that he killed his mother, his older brother and two hired men on his mother's farm, July 9. Provincial police made this announcement today, after holding up the boy's confession for twenty-four hours to give him an opportunity to react or amend his confession, which police say he gave them yesterday "to get it all over with."

Husband: "But, dear, what is this? How can we eat apple pie with onion sauce?"

Wife: "Well, dear, I didn't notice until afterwards that I had stuck down two pages of the cookery book."

FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Forestry District Officials Report Number Practically Extinguished —Others Are Held

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Of several minor forest fires reported this week to headquarters of the Vancouver forestry district, a number are said to be practically extinguished. Among these is the three-acre blaze in the slash of the Mayor Lumber Company, near Duncan, which was surrounded by a cordon of fifty men on Monday night.

Three acres of old stumps are said to be smoldering in Surrey, but the condition is not considered serious. Fire fighters busy at Lillooet have been successful in confining the blaze there to the high rock bluffs, officials state, and the outbreak reported Monday over six or seven acres on Alberni Summit is practically out.

Rescued by Russian Ice Breaker Krassin

WHILE the world was rejoicing over the rescue of Captains Mariano and Zappi and the recovery of the body of Dr. Malmgren, word was received by radio that the Russian icebreaker Krassin had smashed its way to the ice floe on which five more members of the Italia's crew were marooned, and after many difficulties, had taken them aboard. This group comprised G. Biogi, radio operator; Professor Behounek, meteorologist, and Lieutenant Viglieri, left to right, at top; and Filipio Troiani, bottom left, and Natale Ceccioni, bottom right. All were in a pitiful state of exhaustion.

Rescue Plane Wrecked On Its Second Trip to Nobile's Camp on Floe

This is the third article written for the North American Newspaper Alliance by Captain Einar-Paal Lundborg, in a series in which he has been describing modestly his heroic exploit in rescuing General Nobile from the ice-bound Arctic camp of the Italia's survivors. In this series Captain Lundborg has been telling, for the first time, the graphic details of the rescue.

Royal Swedish Flying Corps
Special dispatch by wireless and cable to the North American Newspaper Alliance.

ABOARD STEAMSHIP QUEST, AT SEA OFF SPITZBERGEN, July 23—The first thing we did after having taken General Nobile to the camp on Ryss, or Russian, Island, was to put him into one of our excellent sleeping bags and give him the best possible food.

He had Swedish sandwiches with cheese, finely minced beef with roast potatoes, and whisky to thaw him inside. Of course, he had cigarettes after this meal.

One of the first remarks General Nobile made was that he couldn't sufficiently express his admiration for the taste we had shown in our choice of articles we had dropped from our planes to the Italia's survivors in their desolate camp on the ice floe.

When later I became one of this marooned group myself, I appreciated how Nobile felt, when supplies came down to us from the air and were opened and examined.

"Swedes are practical folk," General Nobile said.

I repeat this remark not to brag, but simply as a proof of the appreciation which was shown the organization of the Swedish expedition.

Nobile's dog, Titina, shared the General's first meal at Ryss Island, but wouldn't lie down in his sleeping bag. Therefore the dog received one of its own.

By means of that plentiful supply of Siberian firewood which drifts up on the coast of Northeast Land, and of which Ryss Island gets its share, we made a tremendous fire. It gave good heat and spread a still more cosy and intimate atmosphere over the camp.

I now told General Nobile that with another Swedish airman I had flown along with the Italia on her journey toward Stockholm and had escorted her to Nynaeshamn. There we had turned. Nobile remembered this episode well and promised to send me a photograph of the escort, taken from the Italia.

OFF AGAIN

But there was was no more time for conversation. I had promised them that I would bring them all back to safety. I knew they relied on my word. Therefore I must keep it even though it would have been far more pleasant to get a little rest.

I informed General Nobile that I must start again for the Italia's camp. He didn't say much in reply, but his feelings were plainly visible in his glance and gestures. His big, beautiful eyes, tear-filled, were directed toward me with a pathetic expression of hope and gratitude. His last words to me were:

"When I see you all here again—my comrades from out there on the ice and yourself—it will be the happiest moment of my life. They deserve help, those men."

This leave-taking made a deep impression on us Swedes. But I wanted to shift into a lighter mood, as much for Nobile's sake as for my own. Therefore I pulled myself together and replied:

"We'll be back soon with all of them."

My comrades, headed by the chief, now carried some cans of gasoline up to my Fokker. This fuel had been brought by the Hansa machine. I wasn't allowed to lend a hand in filling up the tanks. My comrades wanted to make everything ready for me, to insure a successful start.

I now left my entire personal equipment, knapsack, sleeping bag, etc., there. The only things I took were a box of ammunition, my rifle and a little chocolate. Then I bade good-bye to the chief and the others and started the Fokker. The plane was now very light. This time I flew alone. The machine raised itself from the ground almost instantly. Flying low I led it close over my comrades. After they had signaled me that the under edges of the skis were faultless I got altitude and steered eastward.

Two of my comrades, Jacobsson and Rosensvaerd, also went up in their Hansa. This time it was their turn to escort me to the ice floe. The flight out to Foyn Island was child's play in the brilliantly beautiful weather. Sometimes I was quite close to the Hansa. At other times I went very low to look at the seals and the bear tracks again. All the while in my innermost heart I was treasuring the uncertain hope of seeing the missing Malmgren and his two companions from the wrecked Italia.

HAS ENGINE TROUBLE

When I was halfway between Foyn and Broch Islands my motor began knocking. What was I to do now? I cut off and tried each of the two petrol tanks separately, because I had been instantly aware that something was wrong with the gasoline. But it was no use. Going half-motored, the Fokker slowly lost height.

I was now considering whether I should try to land on a small ice floe which I had seen, or try "landing it high" on Foyn Island. The latter method meant putting the machine down in such a way that it would have crashed, though it would have remained standing on the spot aimed for. By the use of a little calculation, there isn't much danger for the pilot in this second procedure. As Foyn Island would at any rate mean firm ground under foot, I decided to adopt that method.

Just at that moment my motor suddenly resumed working again with full power and normally. Perhaps, I thought, there was only a trifle of water in the gasoline. But this was very unpleasant, so far from land and landing possibilities.

However, everything now was in order again. Here Jacobsson came looking for me. He and Rosensvaerd had become worried about me. After having circled Foyn Island a few times without further gasoline trouble, I again set out at full speed toward the ice floe. Jacobsson's Hansa was escorting me on my right.

A FORCED LANDING

The remaining miles were quickly covered. I had already caught sight of the tent and the smoke at the Italia's camp, and was thinking of making an observation flight over the camp at a low height, when the motor again started knocking.

It was now a question of keeping mentally cool. It was necessary to go down at any price, and the ice floe where I had already once landed, when I took Nobile off, was my only chance.

Gliding downward, I did everything possibgle to get the motor working normally again, but without result. In a slow wing glide, I approached one of the narrow sides of the floe. I was compelled to land on the edge of the floe to be able to utilize its full length.

Only a few meters in front of a big ice barrier my machine took firm ground and began sliding forward on the floe. But this time I had encountered a worse landing stretch than when I descended to take off General Nobile. My plane hopped and danced over the ice bumps. The skis dug themselves into the snow, which had been made wet and soft by the heat.

It was then 4:30 o'clock in the morning.

If only my motor had been in order, I could have given it gas, gone up again and tried afresh.

But who could know how much power the engine had left? Perhaps so little that I should have crashed against the pack ice at the far end of the floe, and have been instantly crushed. I therefore had to leave myself in the hands of fate. The Fokker surely would stop soon. On the previous journey it had shown itself able to stand hard treatment.

TURNS TURTLE

I had hardly completed this line of thought when I felt the tail of the machine lift and the nose and propellers dig themselves violently into the snow. Before I quite knew what had happened I found myself hanging from my straps, head downward, inside my confounded machine. It had turned turtle.

I loosed the straps and let myself fall into the snow. My nose was bleeding copiously. I had knocked it against the front edge of the pilot's room. With a little snow I quickly stopped the bleeding. Apart from this, I was unharmed and had got away from the accident as luckily as is possible in such somersaults.

Here I stood, in the midst of the pack ice. Certainly I had by my side one of the world's best airplanes, but it was broken and lying on its back.

One of the Italia's crew, Viglieri, came up to me from the Italia's camp. He embraced me and kissed me. He couldn't find words to express his sorrow over my fate.

I saw Jacobsson's Hansa circle over the floe in smaller and smaller swings. I waved both arms to show him that I was unhurt.

"Got you," he signalled back. Then the Hansa steered westward.

There was the injured Ceccioni, one of the marooned Italians, leaning heavily on his Alpine stick. He had been ready to go with me. And there came Biagi and Behounek wading in the snow. They seized my hands as if to give me all their comfort in my despair.

I cannot deny that I was extremely downhearted. It showed in my face.

I looked carefully over my machine and found that such vital parts as the windback stays in the body were broken and bent, and that repair on the spot was impossible.

With a heavy heart I walked to the tent with Viglieri, Biagi and Behounek. Immediately on my arrival there I lay down to drown my first despair in sleep. In my heart, however, I had firm confidence in the comrades I had left behind me. I knew they would try to fetch me, even if there was only one chance in a hundred.

MOTHER OF SIX CHILDREN BENEFITED

Read how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her

Montreal, Que.—"I was very weak and unable to do my work. I could not sweep my house without sitting down three or four times and could not digest even water. For three years I could not get any relief and I was discouraged as I am the mother of six children. I read in the papers of the results obtained with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and resolved to take it. The first bottle gave me more strength. I took three bottles and now I am very well and do all my work without fatigue. I also gave it to one of my daughters who was very weak and I recommend it to all women. I will reply to all women who write me."—DAME CHARLES LAUZON, 579 Sicord St., Montreal, Quebec.

ROYAL AIR FORCE BAND HERE AUG. 7

Organization Is Colorful and Talented and Is Creating Favorable Impression

Mr. Stanley Patrick, manager of the local Arena, has arranged for His Majesty's Royal Air Force Band to visit Victoria on Tuesday, August 7, on its way between the Eastern and Western exhibitions. This band, which has been brought over to Canada by the leading exhibitions as their principal musical feature, is at present touring the West. It will later be featured at the Toronto Exhibition.

The band is creating a profound impression before the Canadian audiences at the exhibitions already visited and has been complimented very highly not only by those who appreciate the capacity of the band in artistic rendition but for the selections of numbers which seem to appeal to all.

The men are all brilliantly uniformed and their soldierly bearing and modest demeanor have been the subject of much favorable comment. In their programme are numbers requiring perfection of artistic skill, and then there are stirring marches, modern operettas, as well as old-time melodies. Many an old veteran comes to his feet as he hears "Colonel Bogey," "The Great Little Army" and other tunes.

CALVIN COBLEY IS FINED $50

Magistrate George Jay Increases Penalty to Put a Stop to Speeding by Motorists in City

Calvin Cobley pleaded guilty in the city police court yesterday to a charge of driving his automobile to the common danger on Quadra Street on July 19, and was fined $50 or ten days in jail in default of payment.

Detective Marcus Phipps, relating the circumstances of the case, told the court that he followed Cobley up Yates Street and he was traveling thirty-five miles an hour. Cobley turned onto Quadra Street and increased his speed to forty miles and then fifty miles an hour.

"Speeding through the principal streets of the city like you did is a most dangerous thing to do, Magistrate George Jay said to Cobley. "Drivers like you ought not to have charge of a car. If you had had an accident, someone undoubtedly would have been killed."

Magistrate Jay declared that apparently the $20 fines had not been sufficient to check reckless driving, and that he would have to impose heavier penalties to stop motorists speeding.

"You are fined $50, or ten days in jail if you don't pay the fine. You must stop driving to the common danger, for you are not only a danger to yourself, but to others, also," the court told the accused.

Gavin Miller was arraigned on a charge of assaulting Mildred McNeil on July 18. The accused pleaded not guilty, and the case was remanded until this morning.

Peter Quan, a Chinese, pleaded not guilty to driving to the common danger on Johnson Street on July 15. Hearing of the case commenced, but an adjournment was ordered until today. H. Hyde was fined $15 for using insulting language. He pleaded not guilty to the charge. Alex. Brayshaw was charged with driving his automobile to the common danger on Johnson Street on July 18. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until Monday.

Jennie Smith, charged with vagrancy, was remanded until this morning. She pleaded not guilty through counsel, Mr. R. C. Lowe. Evidence for the prosecution and defence was heard.

Fair Management Will Provide for Parking of Cars

Every effort to meet the burning problem of parking, becoming more acute every year, will be made at the Willows next month, W. H. Mearns, secretary of the Provincial Fall Fair, reports. Just outside the main gates a big area will be set aside for free parking space, which will be under the joint supervision of police and fair officials.

Other plans for the fair this year include the installation of twelve great spotlights which will throw their rays over the entire area, making nighttime at the fair as bright as daylight. Space continues to be booked up rapidly, and florists are keen rivals for positions. McTavish Brothers have reserved a space in the mens building for a gladioli display. J. Elder will have an exhibition of dahlias. R. M. Palmer, of Cobble Hill, will have a display of gladioli and bulbs in general.

INTER-EMPIRE TRADE

Sales managers from Great Britain to the number of sixty are to tour Canada next Summer. The visit is complementary to an effort to promote greater trade between the Dominion and the Motherland, and inasmuch as those chiefly instrumental in such trade development will be able to examine conditions at first hand, with the ability to do business on the spot, the visit promises to be more than usually fruitful. The principal business houses in the Old Land will be represented by the visitors.

British industrialists are beginning to pay more attention to the predominance of the United States in Canadian commerce. Britain now exports to this country only a little more than one-quarter of the value of the goods which we receive from the United States. Engineering, in a recent issue, said that this situation has been brought about by want of enterprise and adaptibility on the part of the British manufacturers. Those manufacturers, in some respects, have failed to appreciate the value of the Canadian market. Engineering says: "Other things being equal, the average Canadian has a preference for British commodities; he knows their high standard of quality. Most British commodities, however, can be placed on the Canadian market under a preferential tariff of from 5 per cent to 15 per cent, as compared with American commodities. Yet in spite of these two great advantages British producers are failing entirely to meet United States competition in the Dominion."

The reason assigned for the lack of British initiative and enterprise, so far as this country is concerned, is traced to the fact that the British manufacturers as a class do not adapt their products and their selling methods to the requirements and practices of Canada. Engineering urges that they should begin to study Canadian conditions and the tastes and needs of the Canadian consumer. They should also, that publication says, begin to push their products by the aggressive advertising and selling methods which Canadians have learned to expect from association with American business practice. When they do this Engineering predicts that the present value of British exports to the Dominion will easily be trebled, and possibly quadrupled. The forthcoming visit of the British sales managers should be educative in the sense of showing Britain what methods are necessary to increase the facilities whereby British products can find their way to the markets in this Dominion.

TOTALIZATOR IN BRITAIN

The Government in Britain has taken charge of the Race Course Betting Bill, which introduces the totalizator. In other words, the bill, first advanced by a private member, now becomes a Government measure, which means that its passage is assured. It provides for the introduction of totalizators on the British race courses. One thing that this method of betting is expected to do, is to lead to a largely increased collection of the betting tax, which, so far, has failed to provide as much revenue as the Chancellor of the Exchequer estimated. The new bill is a step forward in the legalizing of betting, which might as well be legalized, inasmuch as, no matter what restrictions are imposed, the people will gamble.

In other countries where the totalizator has been put into force it has proved an undoubted success. In Britain, under the new measure, the totalizator will not abolish bookmakers, but it will restrict their activities, and on the race course provide a certain way whereby the betting tax cannot be evaded. Hereafter, indeed, to a large extent, the betting tax will be collected automatically and inevitably. No tax should ever be enforced where the machinery of collection is deficient. It is to provide that machinery that the totalizator is being sanctioned in Britain.

SALARIES IN THE WORLD'S WORK

The theory that if the State demands exceptional abilities, these cannot be secured, and certainly not retained, unless they are rewarded at figures bearing some relation to market rates, is put forward by The London Observer. It is a theory which applies to all walks of life. Salaries are the vitamins of business. They have an influence on the personnel of a staff or on the efficiency of a corps of employees that it is difficult to estimate. Where they are adequate for the character of the task they act as a constant spur to endeavor. Where they are inadequate there is a feeling of hopelessness regarding the future which cannot fail to leave its mark on the work performed. The London Observer says that, "in an age when life is expensive and the competition for brains exceedingly fierce the money question cannot be ignored." The history of practically every business goes to prove that the vitamins of adequate salaries are the tonics which make for success.

"UNBOUNDED HOPE"

"In no other land could a boy from a country village, without inheritance or influential friends, look forward with unbounded hope." This is the language of Mr. Herbert Hoover in expressing thanks for his nomination as Republican candidate for the Presidency of the United States. It is an illustration of how so often in the United States even those highly placed indulge in the language of hyperbole—language which is at variance with actual facts. Mr. Oswald G. Villard has been writing in The Nation, of New York, on the Republican Convention at Kansas City. He chides Mr. Hoover for the language quoted above, and says somebody ought to tell him of Mr. J. Ramsay MacDonald, a man of obscure parentage, "born without heritage, save ability and honesty, yet he, without influential friends, looked forward with such unbounded hope that he became Prime Minister of Great Britain." Mr. Villard also reminds Mr. Hoover that a harness-maker was the first President of the German Republic—a man born of the humblest parentage and with no such inheritance as was Mr. Hoover's. He alludes also to Signor Mussolini of Italy, and to M. Georges Clemenceau of France. Then he concludes sarcastic comment on the Hoover telegram with the following: "No country but America which offers opportunity? Faugh, Mr. Hoover! That is buncombe. You know vastly better."

AFFAIRS OF THE HEART

In an Illinois court recently a judge expressed an opinion in a ruling to the effect that men sometimes initiate affairs of the heart. The Kansas City Post takes issue with this theory and says somewhat flatly that it is seldom true, even when the man believes it is. In other words, in affairs of the heart it is women who are almost invariably the leaders; it is the men who are the cowards. The Kansas City paper says that George Bernard Shaw was right when he said that if it was left to the male sex the marriage rate would fall enormously and the race would die out. The first signals of affairs of the heart are sent up by the female sex, the sending being a subtle art. Man is ever waiting to respond, but it is rarely that he makes the first signals himself. The Kansas City Post points out that many a woman remains in single blessedness "because she will not or cannot master this art and because men are cowards." This theory disposes of the theme so often forming the basis of novels that woman believes she always is the pursued, and, as well, the theory of the deception that man practises in the belief that he is doing the pursuing. The conception of the Illinois judge is in reality a re-statement of a fact which has been lost sight of and which is perhaps more a fact today that it was in the times of Cleopatra and Antony.

The Manitoba Free Press, in commenting on the recent provincial election in British Columbia, says: "The new Premier of British Columbia is a man widely known and highly respected throughout the whole of Canada. He has been a member of the Dominion Parliament since 1917 and was a very competent Minister of Agriculture in the Union and suceeding Conservative Governments. A majority of the electors plainly wanted him for Premier; and he is, in the character of the administration he will supply, not likely to disappoint them."

Engineering draws attention to the safety of air traffic in the British civil air services, a safety which would indicate that aviation has less risks than any other form of transportation. In 1927 the completed percentage of flights actually commenced was 99 per cent. The chief causes of interruption was bad weather. The regular air services were free from accident for three years, while on "joy-ride" flying there was only one fatal accident in the period 1925-1927 and one in the preceding three years. The mileage covered in flights during those six years was 978,000 miles.

Japan is willing to import wool from Canada; has indeed already received some shipments from this country. The question is, will the Dominion be able to meet this new demand? Some years ago Canada had 20,000,000 sheep, but now has only some 3,000,000. The country is passing up a great opportunity in not encouraging the wool industry.

THE DEATH OF A STAR

The idea that a star has a history is essentially modern, writes Prof. Dingle in The Outline. To our predecessors a star was the supreme example of permanence and immutability. Far removed from the ceaseless agitation of our earthly affairs, the stars looked down with their cold, unvarying stare on a world in whose change and decay they had no part. The sky which revealed omnipotence to Job was the sky we look upon now, and in the whole history of mankind no perceptible change has disturbed the "sacred, everlasting calm" of those tiny points of light which make up the material universe.

And yet, if we could only withdraw ourselves from the peculiarities of our local circumstances and survey the universe with an impartial eye, we should see that the true type of stability is not a star but the earth. Compared with the mighty cataclysms and destructions going on in the stars, where the main purpose of the physical universe is working itself out, the most violent of terrestrial changes are perfect peace. If the earth changed at the rate and in the manner of some of the stars which appear to us so constant, it could vanish away in a few thousand years, leaving not a trace behind. The apparent calm is an illusion; quiescence is to be found in an earthquake rather than a star.

It is better to have too many interests than too few. It is better to be worried to death than to die in the sleep of boredom.—Arnold Bennett.

Note and Comment

By R. B. D.

It has been said of the average motor car driver that he is in a desperate hurry to get somewhere to do nothing. We believe it is safe to say that most motor car drivers would have ample time to do all that they have to do when they got somewhere if they took a minute or two longer to reach the places they were going to. But the foolishness of preaching has never been more clearly demonstrated in any abstract case than it has been demonstrated in the concrete case of the average motor car driver. The truth of the proposition is that the rushing motor car driver is simply a victim of circumstances, a creature affected by environment, and his victims are the hapless victims of circumstances. The mania for speed is in the air just as at certain times and seasons the microbe of the "flu" is in the air and bores its way into the human system.

* * *

In the good old days when the stage coach was the fastest thing that moved on wheels nobody ever was in a hurry, and yet everybody had plenty of time to get somewhere and to do everything that was to be done. Then somebody discovered the principle of the steam engine, somebody else invented the locomotive, and things began to move in a hurry. The first train that was used in the business of passenger transportation ran over and killed a man. And although the man killed was a person of considerable importance, one of the most enthusiastic advocates of the new and fast system of transportation, trains have increased and multiplied and have been running and killing people ever since.

* * *

But the people who built the first railway and the first locomotive were not satisfied with a fast system of land transportation. They were an island people. They were more deeply interested in water transportation than they were in land transportation. They could not quickly reach other countries and transact business with the people of those countries through the agency of railways. They were a seafaring and business doing people. They possessed great fleets of ships, but their ships were wafted across the waters by the winds, and the winds are variable in disposition and capricious in temper. So the island people furled the sails on their many ships and stowed them away forever. They substituted steam power for wind power. They equipped their ships with paddle wheels first and speeded up business to a considerable extent. Their ships were going faster; but they were not going fast enough to meet the requirements of the business that was waiting to be done. Then some ingenious individual discovered the principle of the screw propeller, and in a remarkably short time that discovery had driven the paddle wheel steamer into the boneyard to wither and decay in the company of the obsolete sailing ship.

* * *

The invention of the screw propeller marked the beginning of a new era in water transportation. The screw propeller turned by steam developed in high pressure boilers pushed ships through the water at a speed equal to the speed of railway trains. It brought America and Europe within four or five days of each other for purposes of pleasure and of business. But that was not by any means the most important of the achievements of the screw propeller. The invention and improvement of the gas engine enlarged the field of practical usefulness of the screw propeller. Another ingenious and inquisitive individual discovered that the screw propeller could take a comparatively tight grip of the air as well as of the water. So he coupled the gas engine to the propeller and produced the aeroplane. Thus, instead of travelling over the land or through the water at the rate of from thirty to sixty miles an hour, men (and women too) are flying through the air at the rate of from eighty to two hundred miles an hour.

* * *

Such an achievement as that surely should satisfy human craving for speed in both business and pleasure. But, whatever men do, there are always other worlds to conquer. The gas engine has entered the field of competition against the once arrogant steam engine, and it is conducting a land campaign as well as a marine campaign. The steam railways of Great Britain, the most efficient in the world, have been so affected in their business by the competition of motor cars that they have asked Parliament for authority to enter the business of motor transportation. The electric cables, which a few years ago seemed a sound investment, have found out that they cannot effectively compete in speed or efficiency with the wireless systems. Our own Pacific Cable, which was a remunerative enterprise until the "beam" system, recently adopted, began to compete with it, is going to be closed to general business and reserved entirely for Government business. In every line things are moving faster and faster. One of the sages has told us that it is the pace that kills. Thus far experience has proved that it is the pace that giveth life. Undoubtedly it is interesting to stand as far off as possible and in the safeth place possible and watch the wheels go round.

BETTER MOVING PICTURES

Sir,—This better picture movement first started in the United States and has declared war on all films made by the American motion picture industry that are not clean and wholesome.

A scene, in what will probably prove the greatest moral struggle in the history of the country, is being enacted right here at your door, and the newspapers have been blind to the news value.

The writer is a Canadian, born right here in Victoria, and has been selected by the Canadian executives of the Better Picture Movement on the British side, to force a showdown with the American motion picture interests.

Certain things have occurred in the United States which leads the United States of America Better Picture Movement to suppose that the American motion picture industry has tried to wreck and destroy its movement.

Before shooting off the big guns in a great crusade against the picture industry, it was decided by the American leaders of the Better Picture Movement to let the British side sit in with them, so that the world would not just take the movement as just a Yankee affair.

The whole motion picture industry of Hollywood and New York is watching the stage here in Victoria. The Better Picture Movement of the United States is also watching the stage here and just let the American motion picture industry pull off one trick to wreck or destroy or crush what the writer has started out to accomplish in Victoria (the establishment of a British theatre and the production of British-made pictures) then the guns will boom in the church field of the United States in a crusade that will make the liquor question look like an infant.

The writer has reason to believe that the American motion picture interests are lining up their Canadian forces to destroy and crush out our activity here.

The British flag will come down before we are defeated, for our next move will be the greatest political campaign Canada and the Empire has ever known. We will sweep every municipal and every Provincial Government, if necessary, to accomplish our objective in forcing objectionable American pictures out of Canadian and British theatres, and the same holds good on the American side of the line.

The writer congratulates your paper on encouraging British production in British Columbia.

President, British Better Picture Movement.

CORDOVA BAY WATER SUPPLY

Sir,—Some time about a year ago a proposal was brought forward to supply a water pipe line service through Cordova Bay district. As far as I remember the plan fell through on account of some people having a water supply, and also on account of the supposed high cost of installing such a system. As I understand the true ethics of living, if my neighbor requires the real necessities of life, I ought to be willing to stake my share of cost of supplying same.

If a main supply pipe had been available our neighbors would possibly not have been burnt out in the recent fire we had in this district. It was fortunate that not even a moderate breeze was blowing at the time of the fire, else a greater amount of damage would have been done. There are great chances of a dire calamity with an indifferent supply of water, especially at this season. It is about time we woke up and marched with the times.

Cordova Bay is a popular place and should have an up-to-date water supply. Again, the present supply is nothing like enough for the residents and campers' supply during the Summer season.

Another aspect of the situation is this: There is too much risk for a large number of people to depend on limited supplies of water from a health standpoint.

THE BOYS' CAMP AT ROD HILL

Sir,—It has been my privilege to meet one of the mothers of the boys who so enjoyed their experiences at the recent boys' camp at Rod Hill, Esquimalt Harbor; and she has only the very nicest things to say regarding the camp itself and about her visit to her son in the camp last week.

Mrs. Newbigging tells me she went out to the camp a few days ago, just before it broke up, and she was astonished how superbly clean and spotless everything there was, and all so orderly and comfortable, too.

Her account of the food arrangements and the food itself made one positively hungry. She says that the boys were having an "excellently good" time and all enjoyed themselves immensely, even enjoying the discipline and strict hours; and she wishes to thank the officers and others in charge for the good care and kind attention given to the boys at the camp. But, she has one suggestion to make, and it is this: that in the future the camp be held for twice as long. The boys themselves, she stated, were anxious for a longer training in the out-of-doors and hope that this may be arranged for next year.

Mrs. Newbigging calls herself a "Burnside schoolboy's mother" and has asked me to make her suggestion as to the next boys' camp public in this way, which I have much pleasure in doing.

B.C. EGG POOL PLANS ADVANCE

ISLAND DIRECTORS ARE APPOINTED BY POULTRYMEN TO HANDLE AFFAIRS

Protest Made Against Increase in Express Rates on Canadian Lines

The British Columbia egg pool, in which 3,000 poultrymen of this province expect to be united, will shortly come into existence, provisional directors having been chosen at a meeting held on Monday at St. Patrick's Hall, New Westminster.

Island directors include Mr. C. G. Golding, of Qualicum Beach; Mr. R. W. Tull, of Duncan, and Mr. Allan Georgeson, of Gordon Head.

The organization is a sequel to the recent visit and series of meetings addressed on the Lower Mainland and on Vancouver Island by the president of the Canadian and of the Manitoba egg pool, Mr. W. A. Landreth.

Mr. Landreth, by letter, informed the meeting that in Saskatchewan the pool had advanced more money to egg producers this year than they had previously received, and that up to July 1 about 225 cars of eggs had been sold by the organization, and it was expected this Fall 125 cars of dressed fowl, culled from laying flocks, would be marketed.

The report of the committee previously appointed to draft a form of contract between producers and the pool was accepted after certain minor changes had been decided.

The British Columbia organization will be affiliated with the Canadian Egg and Poultry Pool, which had headquarters in Regina, and with which the principal organizations co-operate with regard to prices, freight rates and other matters.

It was resolved to petition against the proposed increase of railway express rates, in the interests of the industry.

DELEGATES GIVE CONCLAVE REPORT

Messrs. A. D. King and H. M. Diggon Review Great Kiwanis Parley at Club Luncheon

Mr. Atwell D. King, delegate, and Mr. Harold M. Diggon, district trustee, who attended the recent international Kiwanis convention in Seattle, gave their reports of the conclave at yesterday's luncheon of the Victoria Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel, with President C. Elwood Watkins presiding. Messrs. King and Diggon reviewed the proceedings of the convention, outlined the business sessions and entertainment features, and closed with recommendations to the local club for consideration. They were heartily thanked for their reports.

Mr. A. E. Humphries, chairman of the On-To-Edmonds committee, informed the clubmen that the local club had decided to accept the invitation of the Kiwanis Club of Edmonds, Washington, to hold a joint luncheon in the American city. The Victoria party will take the Ss. City of Victoria next Wednesday, and will dine with United States Kiwanians the same evening. The party will return to Victoria on the night boat, leaving Edmonds at 7 o'clock.

Owing to the fact that the Kiwanians will visit Edmonds next week, the club luncheon scheduled for next Tuesday, has been cancelled. Guests present at yesterday's meeting included Professor David Thomas, dean of the faculty, University of Washington, Seattle, and Mr. J. M. Cameron, formerly a Kiwanian of Calgary, and now manager of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, with headquarters at Victoria.

SIX JAPANESE DROWN IN CAR

Bodies of Victims Are Recovered—Auto Ran Off Seattle Ferry-boat at Dock

SEATTLE, July 25.—Bodies of the six Japanese who were drowned when T Suda, Bellevue truck driver, drove his automobile off the ferry-boat Mercer, at the Leschi Park dock, were recovered today in thirty feet of water off the end of the dock. The bodies recovered were those of Suda, who was forty-five; Minoru Suda, his ten-year-old son; Sumako Suda, his eight-year-old daughter; Suda, child about six; Yakiko Takiseaki, ten, and Mrs. Suda.

The bodies were recovered after hours of effort by divers and by men in boats with grappling hooks.

HAUNTED HOUSES

Here stands a haunted house, and here,
Long row and row down all the city's maze;
A haunted house is mirrored in the mere
And haunted houses wait down quiet ways.
Dim ghosts of vanished joys and sorrows glide
Along old rooms when dusk has stolen in.
They linger by the lonely chimney-side,
They wander where a baby's toys have been.
And within little houses almost new,
Still brave and gay in all their fresh array,
The ghosts are gathering, as yet but few,
Some grave, some glad, on silent feet they stray.
Each house where men have ever lived and loved,
With passing years, a haunted house is proved.

Interim Resignation

NEW YORK, July 24.—John J. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic committee, has resigned as chairman of the General Motors' Corporation finance committee, it was learned today from authoritative sources.

Mr. Raskob will continue as the vice-president of the motor company, and will resume his position as the head of the finance committee at the close of Governor Smith's campaign for the presidency, it was learned.

An official statement was to be issued later.

AIR MAIL ROUTE RATES CHANGE

Effective on August 1, the air mail postage on letters transmitted by the United States air mail routes will be 5 cents for the first ounce, 10 cents for each additional ounce, instead of 10 cents per half-ounce as at present.

Canadian postage at the usual rates must be paid in addition to the United States air mail postage, on letters posted in Canada.

FIGHT GRAIN DISEASE

EDMONTON, Alta., July — Ergot, a disease of rye, wheat, barley and grasses, which reduces yields and causes sickness or death when the affected grain is eaten by animals or fowl, should be controlled by its elimination from the soil and seed by immersion of the grain in a solution of common salt, Dr. G. B. Sanford, of the Dominion Plant Pathological Laboratory here, declared recently.

Dr. Sanford also advised against a succession of crops susceptible to ergot. Common wheats, barley and oats were rarely affected by the disease, so that one of these crops should follow rye in crop rotation.

Ergot is a fungus parasite, the spores of which enter the floral parts of the plant at blossom time. These blackish, poisonous bodies mature with the plant, and no suitable variety of rye or of wheat has yet been found to resist them.

NOTABLE PEOPLE TO COME SOON

ENGAGEMENTS FOR LATTER PART OF SUMMER BRING INFLUENTIAL VISITORS

Peak of Movement Will Be Reached in Middle of September—Tourist Traffic Increasing

The latter part of August and the early part of September promise to bring to Victoria a number of people prominent in many walks of life. It is usually the peak season from the point of view of prominent visitors, and the year 1928 will be no exception to the rule.

Yesterday it was announced that Rt. Hon. Ramsey MacDonald, former British Labor Premier, would be here on August 28 and 29, in the course of his Canadian tour. At the same time the Dr. M. J. Rendall party of British public school boys is due.

On September 11 the members of the British Empire Parliamentary Association will arrive in the city in the course of their extended tour, and on September 14 there will be a group of leading British manufacturers here, also on a Dominion tour.

September will bring more conventions than have been arranged at any period this year.

Obituary

BROWN—The death occurred in this city on Monday of Annie Maude Brown, wife of George H. Brown, of 423 Helmcken Street, aged sixty years, born in Stratford, England, and a resident of Victoria for forty-two years. She leaves besides her husband, one daughter, Miss Enid Maude Brown, and one son, Edward Frank Burton, all of Victoria, also one brother, Captain (Rev.) F. L. Stephenson, of Vancouver, B.C. The remains are at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick will officiate. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

MANN—Funeral service for William John Mann was held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon, Rev. J. G. G. Bompas officiating in the presence of many friends. The hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Lead, Kindly Light." Numerous beautiful floral designs covered the casket and hearse. The following acted as pallbearers: Messrs. Henry Holmes, John Greening, N. McPhee, W. S. Curry, Edward Jones and W. D. Taylor. Interment took place in Royal Oak Burial Park.

HOWARD—The remains of Mrs. Jeannie Howard were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Ross Bay Cemetery, the funeral taking place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, Rev. F. A. Ramsey officiating. The hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Abide With Me." A solo was also rendered by Mrs. T. Hall, "Vale." A large number of friends were present and the floral tributes were many and beautiful. The following were pallbearers: Messrs. James Hamilton, J. Hill, W. E. Farmer, P. Hancock, J. W. Ackerman and S. Osborne.

PETERSON — The funeral of Douglass McKay Lewis Peterson will take place from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, proceeding to St. John's Church, where service will be conducted by Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick at 3:45. Interment will take place in Ross Bay Cemetery.

COLLAN—At St. Joseph's Hospital yesterday morning the death occurred of Patrick Collan, of 930 Hillside Avenue, aged sixty-three years. He was born in Ireland and had been a resident of this city for fifteen months. He is survived by his widow, four sons and two daughters in England, and two sons, Edward and Louis, at home here. The funeral will be held from the Sands Funeral Chapel on Monday at 8:50 a.m., proceeding to St. Andrew's Church, where mass will be said at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

COWAN—The funeral of Mr. Andrew Cowan, who passed away on Monday at St. Joseph's Hospital, will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel. Rev. W. A. Guy will officiate and the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

BARRY—Funeral services will be held at the Sands Funeral Chapel this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock over the remains of Mrs. Barry, who died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last Monday morning. Rev. deL. Nunns will officiate, and the interment will take place in the Royal Oak Burial Park. Mrs. Barry is survived by her husband, Mr. Michael Barry, at the family residence, 798 Dominion Road; two daughters, Mrs. G. Lawson, of Esquimalt, and Mrs. A. Bear, of London, Ont.; three sons, James, of Detroit, John, of England, and Patrick, of London, Ont.

McKRIMMON — Funeral service was held yesterday afternoon for Mr. Kenneth McKrimmon, who died at the Royal Jubilee Hospital last Sunday. The family and friends were in attendance. Rev. W. A. Guy officiated and the hymns sung were "Jesu, Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me." The remains were laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

SMITH—Funeral service for the late Samuel Smith, who passed away in this city on Sunday, will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Rev. Canon Hinchliffe will officiate and interment will be made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

News and Notes of Realty in Victoria and District

By H. D. PATTERSON

The past three weeks has been rather remarkable for the number of sales of residences of the better class, the buyers being, with one exception, newcomers to Victoria. Brett & Ker, Ltd., disposed of Mr. Charles Brown's residence in Uplands to John Christie, the well-known clothier, who has been heretofore residing in Edmonton. The A. Forbes Proctor home on Foul Bay Road was bought by Mr. J. M. Cameron, a recent arrival from Calgary, the sale being arranged by Heisterman, Forman & Co. A fine new residence, with beautiful grounds, on Pemberton Road has just been sold to the head of one of the Island's largest manufacturing plants, who has decided to come to Victoria to reside, the firm making the sale being bound to secrecy for the present. Mr. H. B. Robertson's large residence, with one acre of grounds, situate on St. Charles Street, has been bought by a local mining investor through the Royal Trust Company.

An additional evidence of the confidence of Victoria property owners in the local real estate situation is the refusal by a resident property owner during the past few days of an offer of $140,000 for a piece of central business property.

All local board members who attended the convention in Victoria last week report that visiting delegates expressed the highest pleasure at the reception and entertainment given them by the Victoria Real Estate Board and its members, also the delightful way in which the visiting ladies were looked after by wives of Victoria members. Many return trips will no doubt be made by those who came here for the first time, as practically all the members of the Pacific Northwest Real Estate Association live within one day's journey from Victoria.

Calls on most of the local brokers elicited the following additional news of sales:

Pemberton & Son—A bungalow of seven rooms with two lots on Stannard Avenue to a buyer from Alberta; a residential site in the high part of St. Charles Street to a newcomer from South America; a farm on the Mainland in the Upper Country to a resident of the locality; four acres on Ten-Mile Point to a local buyer; a bungalow of five rooms on Holly Street to a local purchaser; a bungalow of six rooms on Duchess Street to a newcomer from Vancouver; a corner lot in the Parkdale Subdivision to a local buyer, and a bungalow of five rooms on Stanley Avenue to a local buyer.

Heisterman, Forman & Co.—A semi-bungalow of seven rooms on Dallas Road to a local buyer; three lots at Cordova Bay to local buyers; also a new bungalow of theirs on Rockland Avenue, sold for them by J. A. Walker & Co.

Brett & Ker, Ltd.—A bungalow of four rooms on Hollywood Crescent to a local buyer.

J. A. Walker & Co., Ltd.—A new stucco bungalow of five rooms on Rockland Avenue to a local purchaser, and twelve acres on the East Saanich Road to a client from Shanghai.

Christie, Hall & Co., Ltd., who sold the Pemberton Road residence above mentioned, have sold to the vendor a fine view lot in the Uplands for building purposes.

Coles, Howell & Co., Ltd., who have sold a bungalow of five rooms on Oliver Street to a newcomer from Prince Rupert, report a number of inquiries recently for country acreage. They have sold a few more lots in the Towner Bay Subdivision, and state that there are eleven men now working on roads in the subdivision and that the electric light wires are nearing the property.

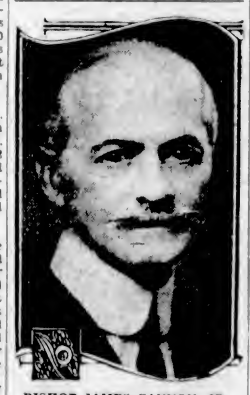

Meharey, Roe & Co., Ltd.—A bungalow of four rooms on Millgrove Street to a local buyer.

The Royal Trust Company—A large waterfront site at Cordova Bay to a visitor from the Peace River country; also two large waterfront lots with cottages in the centre of Foul Bay, one to a recent arrival from the Mainland and one to a resident who is adding to his holdings as an investment.

CIVILIZED FOODS DEATH TO SAVAGES

Cancer, tuberculosis, pneumonia are unknown to real savages who eat natural alkali-forming foods. Dr. Rob't G. Jackson shows why in his 428 page book, "HOW TO BE ALWAYS WELL." Dr. Jackson wrecked his own body by eating acid-forming foods of civilization so that nineteen years ago the great Sir Wm. Osler gave him only four months to live. But he did not die. Instead he invented Roman Meal, a highly alkali-forming food, and lived entirely upon it for two whole years, at which time he was entirely well. At sixty-eight he is still 100% physically perfect and gets younger each year. The secret? The 25% flaxin in Roman Meal, which no other food can ever contain, because it is owned and controlled by Roman Meal Co., Ltd.

Roman Meal can be eaten uncooked or off the ice, and the alkaline properties keep the blood "cool" in Summer, and constipation cannot obtain where sufficient Roman Meal is eaten.

Write for new uncooked Roman Meal recipe and his free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to Dr. Rob't G. Jackson, 315 Vine Ave., Toronto, (9), Ont. (Advt.)

ALPINISTS REACH FIRST OBJECTIVE

Splendid Weather and Other Ideal Conditions Experienced at Mt. Albert Edward

By Staff Correspondent

LAKE BEAUTIFUL, Mount Albert Edward Camp, Sunday, July 22.—We are at last installed in our camp at Lake Beautiful. Arrangements for the meeting at Courtenay of the Victoria group, Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club, were perfect. After the drive from Victoria on Friday no time was lost in conveying this southern party, which was joined at Nanaimo by five others, to Bevan, the head of the suspension bridge. The crossing of this was a "hazardous" moment to some who were unaccustomed to such airy heights, and whilst the main section of the party swayed to and fro high above the river, those in advance used their cameras to good advantage. One operator of a "movie" machine which has accompanied the expedition, clicked merrily away.

Several horses had been provided to assist the ladies with the idea of speeding up the party in order that they might reach the temporary camp at Mt. Beecher before dark. The mounts did good work.

The party made good time from Bevan to Mt. Beecher, leaving the former point at 5:30 and reaching the latter at 9 p.m. Here they were met by the members of the Courtenay and Comox District Mountaineering Club, which had come in in advance and had a bonfire burning merrily as a welcome to the newer arrivals. Dinner was also ready, and the kindness of Mrs. Paul was much appreciated for the excellent manner in which she had superintended the details of the delicious repast. After this the party turned in readily, finding sleeping bags welcome after a somewhat strenuous day.

The Saturday morning start from Mt. Beecher camp was early, 7 o'clock, after a breakfast prepared by the members of the Vancouver Island section, the camp cook having been sent on in advance to the base camp at Lake Beautiful. The night at Mt. Beecher was ideal, with a clear starlight sky overhead, while across on the Mainland and far below could be seen the lights of Powell River twinkling brightly. Saturday morning was also perfect, the sunrise outlining the Coast Range and its sharp peaks to perfection.

ARRIVE AT LAKE BEAUTIFUL

At 1 p.m. the party arrived at the base camp at Lake Beautiful without mishap en route, and everyone in good spirits. Mrs. Sutherland, a well-known caterer of the Courtenay district, had tea ready, lunch having already been eaten at Goose Lake.

The site of the Camp at Lake Beautiful could not be improved upon. Directly to the south is the lake, with its several islands and shimmering blue surface; to the north lies the smaller lake, joined by a beautiful waterfall and a short stream; on the west is a beautiful view of the Dome Glacier, Castle Mountain, Mt. Albert Edward and Alexandra Peak, all covered with snow and outlined sharply against a perfect and cloudless sky.

Here at Lake Beautiful camp the equipment and arrangement is also admirable and reflects great credit upon the Courtenay Club, in particular upon its energetic secretary, Mr. Wood. Ample canvas, camp beds, dining tent and a rubber boat have been provided. The members of the expedition lost no time in inflating and launching the boat, using it as a raft on which they ventured forth in their bathing suits in search of cooler temperatures. Several Canada geese came at sunset and rested upon Lake Beautiful just as the pack train started back at 8 o'clock for Mt. Beecher.

Coquitlam Shortage

MAILLARDVILLE, B.C., July 24.—Shortage in the funds of Coquitlam municipality first estimated at $5,000, has been found to total $12,200, Reeve R. C. MacDonald told the council last night. Robert Newman, former municipal clerk, charged in connection with the shortage, is free on bail of $6,000. The charge against him will be amended, the council decided, while they took under consideration a proposal made by friends of Newman that charges against him be dropped on promise of repayment of the missing funds.

Dean Laird Tour Of 151 Members Leaves Toronto

WINNIPEG, July 24.—Crowds of relatives and friends thronged the North Toronto Station on Sunday afternoon to bid "bon voyage" to the one hundred and fifty-one members of the special Canadian Pacific train which started its tour of the Dominion under the leadership of Dean Sinclair Laird, of Macdonald College. During the tour, which is the fifth taken out by Dean Laird, no fewer than twenty-one towns and cities will be visited, with a stay of nearly a week at the coastal cities of Vancouver and Victoria. Every Eastern province is represented in the personnel of the special train, while two French doctors from Paris have come all the way to make the trip and so get a first-hand knowledge of the Dominion. The visitors will be absent from Toronto for twenty-one days.

During the train trip a regular series of concerts and plays will enliven the journey.

A Landslide for CHRYSLER!

Chrysler's New Style and Value Sweep the Country and Thousands Rush to Buy!

Nothing in Chrysler's brilliant record approaches the overwhelming reception given to the new Chrysler Sixes—"65" and "75"—and the new Chrysler-built Plymouth, the new value leader in the lowest-priced field.

In every principal city of the country, starting July 9th, when the cars were placed on exhibition, salesrooms and special displays have been thronged from morning to night.

People everywhere are examining, admiring and buying the new style introduced by Chrysler and universally voicing the sentiment that the cars are—each in its class—the greatest dollar's worth in beauty, style and quality ever offered.

Everyone agrees that Chrysler has indeed done it again—that Chrysler has provided wholly new style and performance—unmatched in attractiveness—and strengthening the value leadership of this great company.

Chrysler acknowledges with sincerest gratitude this endorsement and will spare no efforts to continue to merit this expression of public confidence.

Plymouth—Six Body Styles. Priced from $850 to $915

New Chrysler "65"—Six Body Styles. Priced from $1325 to $1460

New Chrysler "75"—Four Body Styles. Priced from $1985 to $2140

Loewenstein's Widow Retains English Home

WITH the definite identification of a body found floating in the English Channel ten miles from Cape Gris-Nez as that of Captain Alfred Loewenstein, who disappeared from his plane while it was flying from Croydon to Brussels on July 4, the way is now cleared for the settlement of the Belgian financier's estate. Madame Loewenstein has intimated that she will retain the captain's country estate at Melton Mowbray, in Leicestershire, and his string of hunting horses. Her eighteen-year-old son is very fond of riding and hunting, and will spend half of each year in England. The Loewenstein home at Melton Mowbray is seen in the illustration, together with its beautiful sunken garden. Also shown is Captain H. Drew, who piloted Loewenstein's plane when the Belgian millionaire visited Toronto in May and who was also at the controls of the financier's big tri-motored machine when it left England for Belgium. Upon approaching the French coast it was discovered that Loewenstein had disappeared while the plane was flying at a height of 4,000 feet. Boulogne fishermen, on July 19, recovered the body, which was definitely identified by a wrist watch engraved with the words: "Captain Loewenstein, 34 Rue de la Science, Brussels," and by certain distinctive dental work and clothing. Captain Drew has expressed his opinion that his employer did not commit suicide but met his death by accident.

Cowichan River Flume Proposal Is Discussed In Convention Address

fact that other roads are required, namely, from Sproat Lake to Ucluelet and Long Beach, and also the road from Cumberland to Alberni.

SEA FREIGHT SERVICE

"There is one direction in which, I think, more could be done, not only to the advantage of Victoria in particular, but greatly so to those on the East Coast. I refer to the possibility of initiating a fresh service by sea on the East Coast. True, we have a railway serving us, but, owing to it not being able to fill all the demands made upon them, the trucking business has crept in. So I feel that if a regular freighting service by sea, on schedule, touching at all the principal ports on the East Coast were started, it would be found to fill a long felt want, felt, perhaps, but not expressed."

The president made references to the industrial situation in the southern part of the Island, particularly with regard to conditions round Victoria.

SAANICH BUS SERVICE

He proceeded: "The great need under present-day conditions are good roads, plenty of them, and good transportation. The Saanich Peninsula has at last got in sight what most of us regard as the ideal system; one man or company in charge of the transportation, coordinating it in its various branches and routes, acting, of course, under stringent conditions from the municipality. But, situated as we are at the southern end of the Island, the ferry from Brentwood to Mill Bay has become a necessity, and the time has now come, seeing its value of this connection to all, that a shorter route should be chosen and a better boat provided. This I hope my successor will be able to report next year. However, it should be noted that those men who were responsible for the idea, who risked their all on this endeavor and who have borne the heat and burden of the day, should be given preferential treatment when this looked for improvement is made.

"We must congratulate the City of Nanaimo on having completed and opened the Malaspina Hotel, a tremendous asset to the town, a wonderful convenience to travelers and vastly to the credit of those who initiated it. The Princess Elaine will be of inestimable value to the Island by shortening the route and giving greater comfort to the passengers.

COAL INDUSTRY

"However, the chiefest concern of Nanaimo and district lies in the coal industry. This is a matter which naturally ex-President Cunliffe particularly stressed in his presidential speech of last year, advocating among other things, Government assistance. I am glad to say that the Government is collaborating with the Board of Trade and to establish the fact that the coal here is suitable for low temperature carbonization. They have arranged to send samples to the Old Country with the least possible delay. I should like to quote a portion of Dr. Sutherland's letter to the Nanaimo Board of Trade:

"'I may say it is a pleasure to meet the wishes of the Board of Trade, and that I sincerely hope the results will conclusively prove that Vancouver Island coals are amenable to economic treatment by low temperature carbonization, and that the demonstrating of same will lead to a substantial broadening of the markets for the products of our collieries.'

"Owing to co-operation, a phase which Nanaimo shines in to their credit, the new hospital, a crying need, is an accomplished fact.

THE FORBIDDEN PLATEAU

"Comox and Courtenay are insistent, and rightly so, in their demand that the Forbidden Plateau should be set aside as a National Park. This is all the more reason, as a portion of Strathcona Park has already been alienated from its original plan.

"Assurance has already been given by the Deputy Minister at Ottawa that this wonderful area, second to none, easily accessible to all, will be recommended as a National Park if the C.P.R. will turn over their area to the Dominion Government free of all reservation. Apparently the Provincial Government stands in the way too, not wishing to relinquish the mineral and power rights. However, if these obstructions can be overcome, not only shall we have an incomparable area for all time, a magnet to draw people from everywhere, but also it will provide easy access to Strathcona, being only twenty miles therefrom.

"I understand that the contract for the bridge over the Campbell River has been let. This, apart from the convenience to the settlers at Sayward, will open up a wonderful new country to the tourist."

METHOD OF PROCEDURE

Mr. Bruce paid a tribute to the work of his predecessor, Mr. F. S. Cunliffe, of Nanaimo, in the presidential chair. He told of his visits to the various boards, and welcomed the revival of the Cumberland Board. He expressed the hope that two dormant boards would revive during the year.

He suggested that the president and secretary of each board should form a committee of the A.B.T.V.I.; that this committee should meet at some general place, say Nanaimo, twice a year, preferably in May, before the convention, and in November, after the convention. The president then would visit the individual boards during the Winter and Spring months.

FIGHT TO TAME LIGHTNING OPENS

Engineers "Digging In" on Mountain Where Thunder Storms Are Frequent

NEW YORK, July 24.—In a battle to "tame" lightning, electrical engineers are "digging in" on top a lonely Tennessee mountain for a campaign that may last six months or six years.

Lightning to date, experts say, has remained an unknown quantity and has hampered operation in long distance, high-power electrical lines.

The "Battle of Chilhowee Mountain," where an average of twenty thunder storms a month occur, the engineers say, will reveal characteristics of lightning which scientists have sought for centuries. The camp will be located at Cheta, Tennessee. Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company engineers will make up the army.

Norinder oscillographs, osiosklydonographs and cameras will provide the heavy artillery. The apparatus, using the power lines of the Aluminum Company of America, will cover a five-mile wilderness.

EXPERTS WATCHING

The interest of scientists is centred on the oscillograph, brought to this country by Dr. Harold Norinder after eight years work in Sweden as engineer and head of the research bureau of the Royal Board of Waterfalls in Stockholm. He is now a Westinghouse consulting engineer.

The oscillograph operates much like the hidden automatic cameras by which wild animals are made to snap their own pictures. Installed on the power line, it keeps watch without attention. Any sort of lightning, from the smallest spark to a 100 million flash a half-mile long, leaves an exact record of its performance. The device measures the rat eof rise of the voltage surge, the maximum voltage attained, the duration of the change and the rate of decrease.

It is so sensitive that it records surges which have an ephemeral life of only a ten-millionth of a second —the time taken for an ordinary rifle bullet to travel the thickness of two hairs, engineers say.

APPARATUS DESCRIBED

The moving parts consist of a beam of cathode rays which are bent here and there by electrical attraction to leave their mark on a drum of photographic film spinning at 100 revolutions per second. The entire apparatus operates in a vacuum.

The klydonographs will record the maximum shock received by the transmission line and thus supplement the oscillograph records. Osiosos will function as part of distance finders to tell the operators how far distant from the power line the lightning flashed. The cameras will record any lightning within their range.

All devices are automatic. Oncoming thunderstorms will give warning by ringing a bell calling the engineers into action.

No Announcement Yet—Another meeting of the executive council was held yesterday by the outgoing ministry. A number of routine matters were determined, but no further action taken with regard to withdrawal from the conduct of affairs by resignation of the British Columbia Cabinet. It is expected that no decisive step to this end will be taken this month.

Empress Hotel Alterations—In addition to the ground floor contract in the north wing of the Empress Hotel, already announced, it was stated at the hotel yesterday that when the present contract is completed in September, attention will be given to the remodeling of the whole of the north wing, an undertaking which will occupy all Winter.

Driver Arrested—James Pomeroy was arrested last night by Chief of Police John Fry and Constable George Varney and charged under the code with driving to the common danger. It is alleged that Pomeroy collided with a Ford touring car which was parked outside the Pantorium Cleaners, Fort and Quadra Streets.

Sumas Area Development—The Department of Agriculture will recommend to its successors the establishment of three model farms, with buildings and equipment, in the Sumas area, to be sold later. The object will be educational, to attract other farmers to the district. The outgoing Minister of Agriculture, Hon. E. D. Barrow, will himself retire to farm in the Sumas district.

NORTHERN ONTARIO SETTLERS DEMAND BEST IN READING

TORONTO, July 24.—Constitutional history, applied science and the classics to a surprising extent constitute the literary fare of the people who live in the scattered settlements of Northern Ontario. The teachers in charge of the two Government school cars operated on the transcontinental railroad lines, who also look after small travelling libraries, are authority for this statement. On behalf of the residents in the Northwest, they continually request works of the standard authors, the classics, commercial law books, technical volumes and works dealing with electrical matters.

The two cars at present in operation have turned out to be so useful that five cars will be traveling when the Fall term opens. The cars started with 300 books each, the libraries being considered a fairly extensive collection. But it was not long before requisitions came in to W. O. Carson, inspector of libraries, for books of a standard not exactly considered popular.

In addition to the books lent to the pupils, there is a big demand from the children's parents, university students and the general public, it is stated by Fred G. Sloman, who is in charge of one of the cars.

In the Fall the teaching facilities will be augmented by picture lanterns operated from battery power, in the usage of which the traveling teachers have been instructed this Summer.

ST. ANN'S COMMERCIAL CLASSES

The Sisters of St. Ann conduct a fully modern training department for young ladies entering a business career.

The classes deal with every branch of commercial operations in which a girl may be employed, including the use of a Class Bank, with Bookkeeping, Stenography, Typewriting and the general work of the average office.

In addition to tuition in business routine, and the branches mentioned, the Sisters test out and perfect the pupils in spelling, punctuation and other necessary ground work, so that a graduate from these classes is not simply a product of a course of superficial instruction in any special subject. This course avoids what might be called mechanically produced graduates, and supplies the business man with a dependable and finished office assistant.

The results of this course of training are apparent in the large numbers of graduates of St. Ann's who occupy responsible positions throughout the Province in

SINKING HILL

HALLONQUIST, Sask., July 21.—A hill which has sunk forty feet in fourteen years has created considerable interest in this district, and a geologist has been asked to come here to study the phenomenon.

The hill was first noticed taking a downward course in 1914, and since then there has been a gradual sinkage of about three feet each year. An underground tunnel or an oil field underneath have been suggested as possible explanations.

Two new schoolboy howlers, the fruits of a lesson on the State opening of Parliament, reach me from a correspondent. DEATH AGONY OF PLANTS IS SHOWN

Sir Jagadis Bose's New Experiments Subject of Lecture—Reveals Marvels

LONDON, July 24.—Sir Jagadis C. Bose gave a fascinating lecture on "The Motor Mechanism of Plants" at University College recently. He exhibited for the first time in London some new instruments which he had devised to record in one way and another the life processes of plants, and the extraordinary sensitiveness of these instruments was demonstrated.

The lecture, delivered with Sir J. C. Bose's accustomed dramatic vivacity, explored once more with what the chairman, Professor Donnan, called "a mixture of poetry and science," his own special field of the mysterious processes of plant life. "The new experiments," Sir J. C. Bose said at the close, "have brought plants much nearer to us than we thought. In many ways the life action of the plant and the animal are alike, and through these experiments we hope to relieve the sufferings of man.

"In opposition to prevailing theories," said Sir Jagadis, "I was convinced more than a quarter of a century ago that the simpler type of plant organization offers a unique advantage in investigation the pursuit of which is sure to lead to the solution of many perplexing problems in animal life. My faith and long persistence have led to the establishment of the great generalization of the identical nature of physiological mechanism in all life. The real difficulty that thwarts the investigator of the life of plants arises from the fact that the interplay of life-action is taking place within the dark profundities of the tree which our eyes cannot fathom. In order to reveal the intricate mechanism it is necessary to gain access to the smallest unit of life, the 'life atom,' and record its throbbing pulsation."

LIFE-AND-DEATH STRUGGLE

The microscope, which magnifies only about two thousand times, had revealed a new world. The new types of supersensitive recorders recently constructed in his institute, magnifying more than a million times, are now revealing marvels of which we had no previous conception.

In the animal there are three important types of tissues—the muscular, the nervous, and that which pulsates automatically. The nervous impulse of plants was demonstrated in that hall two years ago. "I will demonstrate this evening the contractility and rhythmic pulsations of ordinary plants.

"The tree is a colony of innumerable living units. Do the cells in the interior of the tree perceive the shock received from outside, and would it be possible to record the infinitesimal change which is beyond the highest powers of the microscope to detect? The problem has been solved by the successful invention of the infinitesimal contraction recorder by which the shuddering twitch of cellular contraction under mechanical or electric shock becomes recorded. In mimosa pudica, the sensitive plant, each cell of its contractile pulvinus is about one-thousandth of an inch in diameter, and the diametric contraction produced under a feeble electric shock is fifty-thousandth part of an inch, this being the length of a single wave of light."

There had been a prevailing idea that ordinary plants are inexcitable and insensitive to blows from outside. This idea was completely removed by the life-and-death struggle of the plant which the lecturer recorded on the screen, brought within the range of vision by means of his magnifying recorders. A piece of living stem of plant was securely strapped by metal bands to what may be described as the electric chair. A moist sponge made secure the contact of the plant with the death-dealing electric machine. "We wait," the lecturer explained, "till the plant becomes quiescent after rough handling, indicated by the stationary spot of light reflected from the magnifying contraction recorder. I at first send a weak electric shock, and the plant gives a twitch in reply. The electric power is next increased to a maximum. As soon as the circuit is completed the rattling sound indicates the passage of the high-tension electric discharge through the plant. The shuddering convulsion into which the plant is thrown is terrible to behold. I will keep on the shocks a little longer; the convulsive movements become gradually stilled. The shocks are no longer felt; the struggle is over and the plant is dead.

MEDICINAL PROPERTIES

"In the animal certain tissues like the heart pulsate spontaneously, the peristaltic action of which propels the nutrient blood. The resonant cardiograph which I devised inscribes the different phases of the heart-beat with unprecedented accuracy. The specific action of a drug is easily discovered from these resonant records, which show very characteristic changes in different phases of pulsation.

"The plant-sphygmograph exhibits on the screen the actual process of the pumping-in of sap by the cellular mechanism. The plant being dosed with a dilute poison, the luminous record on the screen shows the flutterings and spasms of a creature desperately struggling for life. At this crisis an antidote is applied which removes the death torpor. The pulse-beat now becomes fully restored as in a vigorous plant.

"The experiment on the universal action of drugs was first carried out on plants. The effect of the same drug was next tested on the heart of the animal, and was found to be astonishingly similar. A few drops of a strong depressant was applied on the heart of a frog, and in less than a minute the pulse-beat became feebler and feebler till it almost died away. Life was now swinging in an unstable poise, a little more tilt would interlock it in the rigidity of death. An extract from an Indian forest tree, which had been found most effective in stimulating the pulse-beat of plants, is next injected into the frog. The arrested pulsations now became fully revived, and the dying frog was brought back to life.

"A very large number of Indian plants have been discovered the characteristic medicinal properties of which have not hitherto been suspected. The efficacy of some of these is far greater than any in use. The investigations thus initiated will lead to a new pharmacopoea for the relief of humanity, and the establishment of a vast industry for the utilization of indigenous Indian plants for practical medicine."

POLICING SEEN AS FEMININE CAREER

Foretold as Established Institution by Commandant Mary Allen, of London

LONDON, July 24.—Police work which closely concerns women and children should be done by trained women, and not be men, according to the opinion of Commandant Mary Allen, of the Women's Auxiliary Force, in the Bulletin of the Women's Guild of Empire. "It never dawned on our forefathers that they were not, and never could be, all sufficient to deal with every police problem, irrespective of sex," Commandant Allen comments, adding that in twenty years' time the world will stand amazed that such a natural reform could have come so slowly.

While believing that policewomen will be considered an essential factor in our social life, she does not expect that they will in any way usurp the place, or lessen the prestige, of their male colleagues. A special point of view is indicated for them, only supplementing the abilities of the policemen.

It is contended that male members of the police force, though carrying out their duties admirably, have not been enroled primarily, either to uphold or to enforce a high standard of public morality, while women have specialized in these lines. Thus it is thought that the moral deterrent of uniformed women is incalculable.

Dealing with offenders and victims of offenders is only a small part of the ideal Commandant Allen sets for the policewomen. The prevention of crime is the aim toward which her plans are focused. In this connection, it is stated, the work of policewomen among women and children has interesting phases. It is well known that, in relation to the street life of a large city, children must come into contact with those in charge of the keeping of the law. Offences against children appear to be on the increase. Commandant Allen states, indicating the moral and mental degenerates who are the great danger to children. It should be the special province of women, she contends, to take evidence of such matters as attempted suicide, illegal operations, and soliciting.

At the same time Commandant Allen warns that it is not desirable to have policewomen's powers extended so that they may deal with separate problems in a special way. This might lead to the whole problem being discredited. They should simply be empowered as the regular policemen, and should wear uniform.

The trial of women police in the "Auxiliary Service" in war conditions not only in England, but on the continent and especially in connection with the auxiliary service in Cologne, during the difficult period of occupation, had opened the eyes of the public to the possibilities of the plan, Commandant Allen points out. Several cities in Germany had partially adopted the system of women police. Often, it is stated, the policewoman is likely to be looked upon more as a social service worker, and it is thought better that this confusion of ideas should not exist, as the policewoman, as such, has an important and dignified role to play. From this point of view, Commandant Allen drew to the attention of women considering a career the still unusual profession of policewoman.

Prince Will Take Part in Pilgrimage

LONDON, July 24.—The Prince of Wales will take part in the pilgrimage of the British Legion to France and Flanders in August. The Prince will make his headquarters at Lille, and among the other distinguished visitors staying there will be Marshal Foch, Marshal Petain, General Gourand, General Waygand, Admiral Jellicoe (president of the British Legion), Countess Haig and her son.

Altogether there will be 11,000 pilgrims from the British Isles and the Dominions. Ceremonies of homage to the dead will mark the official opening of the pilgrimage on the fourteenth anniversary of Britain's entry into the war, and the twenty parties to leave England during Sunday, August 5, will proceed to towns and cities in France and Belgium, mostly on the Somme battlefields.

A great concentration memorial service and parade will be held on August 8 at Ypres, and it will not be possible to accommodate anyone in the town on that day, with the exception of the inhabitants and the pilgrims, and no one will be admitted without the printed pass of the British Legion. The scene of the concentration will be the Menin Gate Memorial, where the Prince of Wales will lay a wreath after the service, and all of the pilgrims will march past His Royal Highness, later commencing their return journey.

Brewery Inspector Dies

WINNIPEG, July 24.—A. Code, Federal inspector of breweries and bonded manufacturers for the four Western provinces, under the department of national revenue, died at Rochester, Minn., today, according to word received by relatives here tonight.

Born in Carleton Place, Ontario, in 1868, Mr. Code came to Winnipeg when he was eighteen years of age.

WEEDS EXTERMINATOR

EDMONTON, Alta., July 21.—A machine to dig and destroy weeds has been invented by D. W. Warner, ex-M.P., Edmonton farmer.

A large rotary (horizontal) cylinder is the principal part of the new digger. Into this cylinder are inserted hundreds of large spikes. As the cylinder revolves at high speed the teeth mulch the soil, biting deep into the subsoil. Clouds of earth are thrown toward the rear of the machine. The dirt settles quickly while the weeds float through the air, finally coming down like spindrift over the newly turned earth.

Weeds with extensive root systems, such as twitch grass and thistles, will fall an easy victim to the digger. Experiments carried out recently resulted in a field being left covered with finely minced twitch grass roots, like chaff which piles up behind a threshing machine.

University Girl Is Successful As Prospector

TORONTO, Ont., July 24.—Commenting on the discovery of copper pyrites in Manitoba by Miss Kathleen Rice, The Globe says editorially: "What a determined, courageous, self-reliant and capable young woman this must be who delved all alone into Manitoba's far North and emerged with a valuable find of copper pyrites! Playing a lone prospecting hand, she travelled by dog-sled in Winter and by canoe in Summer, and single-handed has fought off marauder wolves with her rifle.

"Miss Kathleen Rice is a graduate of the University of Toronto. And now the campus co-ed of a few years ago is a successful prospector of the Far North, competing with man in a sphere which was thought to be man's alone, driving her own canoe up unexplored water courses, and not fearing to pitch tent in the dim twilight of a silent wilderness—silent except for the midnight howls of the wolves and the crackling of branches under the feet of the bear and moose and the deer.

"This surely must complete the gamut of women's activities. But this business of prospecting, toiling on up hill and down dale, through forest, wilderness and rugged rock, with no one to talk to and with only the wild game of the country from which to restock a camp larder did seem to be one field which man could forever keep to himself."

FREER IMMIGRATION POLICY IS URGED

Salvation Army Commissioner Believes Report of Immigration Committee Leaves Way Open

LONDON, July 24.—Now that the Canadian Parliamentary Immigration Committee has completed its inquiry, writes Commissioner David Lamb in The Daily Telegraph, Premier Mackenzie King has a great opportunity to lift Canadian immigration and settlement on to a high level away from the consideration of question of detail, to a bold, generous and comprehensive policy born of foresight and vision. "Such a policy is not only necessary in Canada but in the whole Empire," he says.

In Australia, Commissioner Lamb continues, there is evidence of an increasing desire to "broaden out" on the subject of Empire settlement, and recognition of the dangers lurking in the pressure of population in other countries while vast rich areas remain undeveloped; and there is an inclination to take risks to help the Mother Country. When the mission to Australia appointed by the British Government, which shortly leaves England, arrives in Australia, it will probably find that the work of the Federal Migration and Development Commission has prepared the ground for a forward move, "and we may reasonably look for a big and and early move to the Southern Continent."

Commissioner Lamb asks, "What is this country going to do? The national burden, unemployment, presses hardly on industry and people here. If we have spent $2,500,000,000 on nothing, surely we can contemplate undertaking a like expenditure from which there might be a return, even if that return were indirect. The question ere this should have been lifted out of politics.

"This unproductive expenditure must be ever present in the minds of our kinsmen overseas, and if there appears to be a little selfishness in their negotiations that need be no reason for niggardliness on our part. Conservatives always had the reputation of being Imperialists. What a great opportunity presents itself to the present Government! Liberals appear to maintain their historic lukewarmness in the matter of emigration. Labor is no longer openly hostile; indeed some of the Labor statesmen see the practical and political possibilities of a big Empire constructive policy. Anyhow, no party can escape or evade the reproach of a 'fateful million' who persist on the 'live' registers of the unemployed."

Tell a woman only what is necessary—she will find out the rest.

Kitty—The man I marry must be a hero.

Betty—But, my dear, I don't think you're quite so unattractive as all that!

CANADIAN SOO STEEL EXPANDS

Plans Announced Involve Expenditure of $12,000,000—Resources Limitless

SAULT ST. MARIE, Ont., July 24.—The Sault Daily Star, in a front page story, says the plans announced for a $12,000,000 expansion of the Sault steel plant bring sharply into view the near approach of the mining of iron ore in Ontario. When the first iron ore operation is begun by the Algoma Steel Company, it will be necessary to invest $5,000,000 in getting the mine under way.

Pointing out that iron mining is more beneficial, as regards amount of employment furnished, than any other mine operations, The Star continues:

There are vast quantities of iron north of the Sault, unlimited areas of magnetite in the Mississauga Forest Reserve east of Miles 65-68 on the Algoma Central Railway, and great hills of siderite in Michipicoten.

At the New Helen mine there are 20,000,000 tons exposed above grade—that is the mining will be simply blasting the ore from the side of the hill. In one deposit of magnetite in the reserve there are 150,000,000 tons above grade.

No iron ore is mined in Canada. None has been mined since 1921, when the little Magpie closed down.

The Algoma Steel Corporation spent $2,000,000 in working out the problem of beneficiation of low grade iron ores. The reason Algoma iron is not being used is because the big operators in Minnesota mine on so large a scale that a smaller operation in Algoma could not compete in price. "But in any case the Minnesota high grade ores won't last for many years, and Algoma ore must come in sooner or later. The sudden stoppage of Minnesota ore, and the sudden forced development of Ontario mines to supply Ontario furnaces cannot be contemplated with complacency. The only business course is to get ready gradually and by easy stages. Otherwise the change might be disastrous," The Star says.

In Michipicoten one great hill shoulders above all the rest. It can be seen for miles towering above its smaller fellows. From Lake Superior it looks like a mountain. As a matter of fact it is nearly 2,000 feet above sea level. The highest land in Ontario is only a few miles away, a few feet higher.

This miniature mountain is the New Helen mine, 120 miles north of the Soo. It has a tunnel 900 feet long, and it has proved up 90,000,000 tons of iron ore. Not a pound has been shipped to a furnace, outside of the few carloads used in testing out the ore at the Sault. There the mountain stands, waiting the time when Canada will decide to use its own iron. When that time comes, a large and prosperous town will grow below the hill.

TO AID IMMIGRANTS

WINNIPEG, July 24.—Dansk Brodersamfund in Canada, or The League of Danes in Canada, has been formed with headquarters in Winnipeg, with the aim of helping the Danish immigrants to assimilate quickly and become useful Canadian citizens.

Except in special cases, it is not the aim of the league to give financial help, but merely to aid the immigrants in their various professions to get a start in the Dominion.

In November a general meeting will bring Danes from all over Canada in conference for the purpose of giving the organization definite form. A rapid increase in Danish immigration has brought about the need for the organization, officials assert.

SWATHING SAVES HEAT

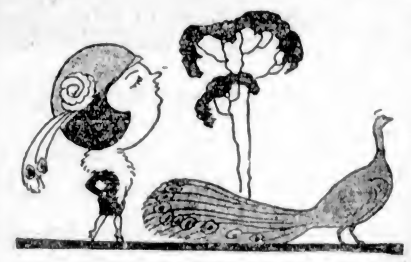

VULCAN, Alta., July [illegible]—ying out in swaths throughout the Winter, and thought by many to have been ruined, 30,000 bushels of wheat have been threshed by W. H. Fletcher and graded No. 6.

"Swathing was the secret of it," Mr. Fletcher stated. The grain was cut in swaths and had to be left on the ground because of early snows last November.

He used a device invented by a neighbor — somewhat like a big cradle—to lift the grain that was flat on the ground.

Governmental Radio Control Is Profitable

LONDON, July 24.—Governmental control of the radio here has proved a profitable matter, at any rate for the Government. The first report of the British Broadcasting Commission shows that its income for the year was $4,500,000, and that after setting aside $500,000 for construction of regional stations, there was still $91,000 to be carried forward. The sum of $4,000,000 was derived from wireless licences. It spent $2,500,000 on its programmes.

Many interesting facts are given in the report. There were, for instance, 68,000 hours of transmission during the year, with only about twenty hours of breakdown. Music occupied about two-thirds of the programmes.

Lessons by wireless seem to be growing in favor in schools, for 4,000—double the number of the previous year—were known to listen to London and Daventry alone. The total number of listeners increased by 217,000 during the year to 2,395,174.

The Earl of Clarendon is chairman of the commission and receives a salary of $15,000. Lord Gainford is vice-chairman, and has a salary of $5,000. As ordinary members, Sir Gordon Nairne, Dr. M. J. Rendall Mrs. Philip Snowden, and Brigadier-General Reith receive $3,500 each.

Hostess and Guest (simultaneously)—Good-bye; I haven't had a word with you the whole evening. Good-bye; most delightful evening I've ever spent.

Anybody could see that Harold had been carefully brought up. One day he sat upon his father's knee in a crowded tramway car. A lady entered.

"Madame," said Harold as he got off his father's knee, "will you accept my seat?"

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The bolero blouse has intrigued the fancy of the clever designers, and each season sees a number of models featuring it. And the designer delights in finding new ways to cut the bolero.

Here, the bolero is cut straight in the back, but full in front, to fall in tiny ripples, eventually closing in the immediate front, in jabot effect. The sleeves, too, carry out the idea of fullness, being straight to the elbow, and then flaring out to the wrist.

White crepe de Chine with red polka dots is the material for this particular model. Of course, any familiar fabric would make up equally well.

Popular Health Lecture Is to Be Given This Evening

Dr. A. F. Barton will give another of his popular health lectures this evening at the New Thought Temple, 935 Pandora Avenue, at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "Fatigue and Its Cause." The lecture will be followed by demonstrations of diagnosis from observation of the eyes. These demonstrations are very interesting, as they bear out the evidence of the various lectures that Dr. Barton has given from time to time. Dr. Barton is a great advocate of the biochemic theory of disease, and his teaching indicates that the trend of healing in the immediate future will be along the lines of preventive medicine.

Gingham Slips; Reptile Golf Bags in Fashion

NEW YORK, July 24.—It is a season of contrasts and contraries, so far as fashion goes. But then, fashions have been like that for several years—felt hats in August, Summer furs and the sheerest of openwork stockings in January.

Now there are gingham slips under georgette or chiffon frocks—golf-club cases made of snakeskin, as if a section of the whole skin of some giant snake were just fitted with a golf bag top and bottom—evening frocks high at the back—bathing suits of crepe de Chine—serge trimmed with lace—handkerchiefs made of every unwashable material under the sun—shoes of printed linen.

There was a time when fashion talked of seasonable materials, of suitable combinations. Those days have gone. We use all materials for all occasions—combine anything. Just another hallmark of the age we live in.

Brides-Elect Honored At Gibbins Road

Mrs. A. Burkholder was a tea hostess at her home, at Gibbins Road, Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Ethel Weismiller, whose marriage to Mr. A. J. With the exception of Mrs. William Eakin, of Clearwater, Alta., the thirty guests were residents of Gibbins Road. During the afternoon, the brides-elect were presented with pastel-shaded paper parasols, which when opened showered them with dainty handkerchiefs. Tea was served on the lawn, the tables being decorated with sweet peas and dahlias.

"LADY BETTY"

By JOHN L. CARTER

Author of "The Cinema Girl," "Peggie the Aeronaut," Etc.

"He crept up behind and touched her on the shoulder, and she turned and met his eyes. Then her cheeks flushed and her eyes misted over. As for him, he told me he felt he could read everything that was in her heart, knew that she had been thinking of him, day after day, week after week, and was thinking of him just at that moment when he surprised her. But he didn't speak then. She was rich and he was poor. And he was so proud and independent.

"But he did speak in the end, and she rejected him, hinted that he was hardly a catch as a husband. He never blamed her. He told me he thought she was wise to give him as wide a berth as possible. Why should she wait, he would say, and spoil her life for a miserable penniless painter? And he was always blaming himself for not going in for business as his father wanted him.

"But if he loved this girl, why did he marry Madame Bovier?" asked Lord Alister. He was curious on his own account. He had not noticed Lady Betty flushing and paling as Michelais told of Jimmy's constant harpings on the string of his love, in his solitary life in Paris.

"That is rather a long story," said Michelais. "Madame Bovier joined the league with a gang of international good-for-naughts, and immediately assumed command. Another of the gang was a Count Velasq, and these two soon had full control. We artists used to go down to the rooms as before, but we treated it solely as a club, and took no interest in their wild, revolutionary talk. Well, one day Madame Bovier spotted Jimmy Weston—he is not one whom a woman would be likely to miss—and from that evening she was always seeking him out. It was amazing to see how soft and gentle she was when he was about. She was a different woman. Jimmy took it all very calmly. He was used to women and their complete devotion to him and his blue eyes and yellow hair. It is strange how the Latin women go mad over a fair-haired Englishman!

"Well, one evening these mad revolutionaries held a solemn meeting, and pledged themselves to serve the cause with their last drop of blood. They took the oath; each swore to obey the league, and Jimmy and I, who never took them seriously, and, fools that we were, scoffed at their large talk, laughingly joined in and took the oath with them. They were anxious to secure us, because Jimmy was an Englishman of good family, and I could speak English like a native. It was this that was our undoing.

"I had not been a blood brother more than a few weeks when I was chosen to go over to London, and do my best to get on The Daily Post staff. I was not without journalistic experience, and I have many influential friends over here.

"I refused. I laughed at them, assuring them that I had taken the oath merely in jest, and had no sympathy with their scheme, and I threatened to send you a warning of their intention. In the end they locked me up in a cellar until they should have decided what was to be done with me. I believe the majority were in favour of the garrotte.

"This is where poor Weston came in. Madame Bovier had been throwing herself at his head in a way that would have sent anyone but Jimmy into a flaming passion. Jimmy kept very cool, and very polite. Nothing more. He was a fool not to make a run for it, but he would not leave me behind. He knew they were dangerous, and that his life was no safer than mine, but he never budged. Finally he got Madame Bovier alone and did his best to induce her to release me. She saw her chance and started out to make a bargain, and in the end he married her—just because that was the only condition on which she would allow me to live. She had some wild idea of Jimmy and she being the king and queen of the new democracy, I understand.

"Well, I don't know exactly how she did it, but I know it was done. There was no doubt that the league were set upon killing me, and things were in a very critical state. And, knowing Jimmy, I am not surprised that he gave way and married her. As he told me later, he had long since given up hope of marrying the girl he loved, so why should he not do something to help me? It would be no loss to Jimmy himself. He is like that! Thus one evening my prison door was thrown open and Weston came in and led me out into the evening air, taxied me across to the Gare du Nord, and put me in a train for London, where I was to settle down without letting a soul in Paris know of my whereabouts. I begged him to come too, but Jimmy wanted to see things through. Besides, he had his pictures to think of, and he was doing some work for a Birmingham manufacturer, who needed an interpreter and secretary. He could not run away like that. When he told me he had married her, I cursed him for a fool and a false friend. I would rather have died than that. But he only laughed and said that he had tried to get me out by every other means, and that this had been the only one left.

"I heard yesterday for the first time, how he never returned to his bride after seeing me off. He cunningly disguised himself, and you may be sure he kept away from the neighborhood of the league's headquarters. He worked hard and was beginning to rise out of the mire; he got commissions for illustrating, designed original house decorating schemes, wall-papers, and so on, besides helping the Birmingham business man, acting as a sort of agent when he was absent.

"But three months ago they tracked him down. And ever since then he has gone in peril of his life. They have twice kidnapped him, and have attempted his life in several ways. But they found their best weapon in driving him from one job to another, until at last he hastily packed up a few of his treasures and fled to England. They traced him, though now that he is with me I hope that he may not be discovered. At least there are two of us, and we are less likely to be taken unawares."

"It is an amazing story," said Lord Alister. "And to think of poor Jimmy tied for life to that woman!"

"I dread to think that I might some day meet the girl he loved," said Michelais. "Indeed my miserable life was bought at too dear a price. One feels that he would be almost justified in tapping Madame Bovier on the head in the same way that she disposes of her undesirable friends. I shall never forgive myself if things don't turn out right for Jimmy!"

At ten o'clock he stated his intention to go at once. He reminded them that he had enemies whom he must outwit, and that it was not wise his being noticed. And so, with a warm invitation to come again, they let him go.

It was then that Lady Betty let forth the pent-up ocean of grief that had burdened her during the whole of Michelais' story.

"Oh, father! And only this afternoon I scorned Jimmy for marrying! I accused him of turning to another woman the moment he left me! I must nearly have broken his heart, with my want of trust! As if Jimmy were nothing better than a drunken rowdy!"

Lord Alister did his best to comfort her. But in the end he had to urge her to go to bed and try to sleep.

But it was long past midnight before she undressed. She had cried and sobbed until she fell asleep—in her evening frock. And now she woke, cold and shivering, and, hastily undressing crept into bed, and then lay in the blackness wondering if Jimmy would ever forgive her. But even should he do so, what would be the use? He had one wife already!

And if she again had recourse to tears, at least they helped her to go to sleep, though even then it was not before three, and the dawn was beginning to break.

Exhibition at Hastings Park To Open Aug. 8

"Ten Great Days," is the slogan of the Canada Pacific Exhibition, which will be held at Hastings Park, Vancouver, from August 8 to 18, and according to reports made by the chairmen of the thirty-six sections of the big fair, the title will be more than justified.

With superlative displays in every department, new buildings arranged for several of the departments, a great attractions programme of entertainment, and a magnificent new permanent skidroad costing a quarter of a million dollars, the Vancouver Exhibition Association directors and management state their preparedness for the verdict of the populace.

Playing twelve concerts, the Royal Air Force Band will be one of the great features. A wonderful Oriental pageant with 555 in the cast, will also be presented, while the Kootenay Indians in all their pristine glory, will be down. The Caledonian games, Elks' Day, whippet racing and a hundred and one things new will add to the interest, it is stated.

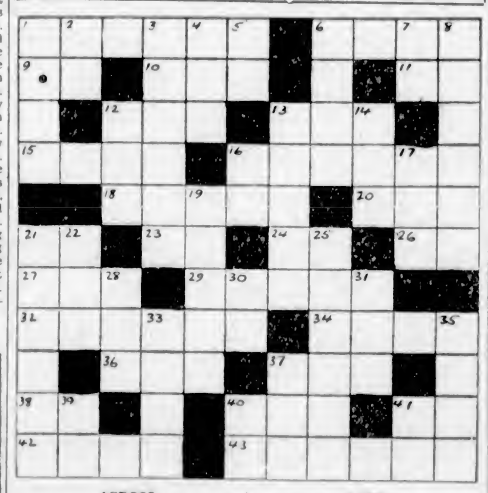

Agriculturally and horticulturally the prize list has been added to by several thousands of dollars, and a record entry is anticipated. Women's and children's departments, music, Indian basket work, the fine arts, dogs, cats, cage birds, rabbits, honey, will be represented.

The forestry display will be a fair in itself, and there will be great manufacturing and automobile displays.

There will also be four automobiles given away. Tickets are selling now at reduced prices. Get into the swim and send by mail for your admission tickets, which entitle you to participate in the draw for the cars.

Mother (coming home at 2:30 a.m.)—But you needn't have waited up for me—I had my latchkey, Daughter—I know, but someone must wait for grandma!

Fairbanks-Morse Ball Bearing Pumps

Our new bulletins tell why these pumps have actual efficiencies of from five to ten per cent better than others. They will be sent free on request.

Ball bearing pumps are made in three designs and all sizes. Let our engineering department discuss their merits with you.

We can also supply the prime mover —Fairbanks-Morse Ball Bearing Motors or Diesel Engines. We can thus study your pump problems intelligently and control every factor that enters into the building of the complete unit — the pump and the prime mover. This means undivided responsibility.

Larry Benton Pitches Sixteenth Victory as Giants Down Pirates

New York Ace Stops Parade of Pittsburgh—Cards Increase Lead—Huggins Goes to Coaching Line in Ninth and Yanks Win

NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, July 24.—John McGraw shook up the Giants' batting order with such effect that the New York team outpointed the Pirates, 6-5, here today as the Western clubs began their second invasion of the Polo Grounds.

Larry Benton pitched his sixteenth victory after four defeats and turned in his nineteenth complete game in twenty-one starts. Melvin Ott scored three runs with a homer.

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh	3	12	0
New York	6	11	0

Batteries—Dawson and Hargraves; Benton and Hogan.

Reds Down Phillies

PHILADELPHIA, July 24.—The Cincinnati Reds took the first game of a series with Philadelphia, 5 to 1. Rixey held the tallenders to six hits, while the Reds got to Benge, who weakened in the seventh. Cincinnati turned in four double plays.

	R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	5	12	1
Philadelphia	1	6	1

Batteries—Rixey and Hargrave; Benge, McGraw and Lorain.

Cards Increase Lead

BROOKLYN, July 24.—The Cardinals increased their lead for first place to four and one-half games by defeating Brooklyn, 2 to 1, here today, while the runner-up Cubs were idle. Petty pitched a strong game against Sherdel, but was unable to withstand Bottomley's twenty-first home run and Hafey's fifteenth.

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	2	7	1
Brooklyn	1	6	1

Batteries—Sherdel and Wilson; Petty and Deberry.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

BOSTON, July 24.—Miller Huggins went to the coaching lines here today for the second time this season, and only the third time in two years.

Yanks were just coming to bat for their ninth inning and were trailing Red Sox 3-1. The New Yorkers thereupon made four and nosed out the home entry by 5-3 to even the short series at one all.

The trick was turned on Ruth's third single, Gehrig's double, Meusel's single, Lazzeri's sacrifice fly, a steal to third by Meusel, a perfect squeeze and bunt play by Dugan which went as a single, Bengough's single, and Combs' double. Myer got three hits and stole three bases. Ruth's limit was three singles.

	R.	H.	E.
New York	5	13	1
Boston	3	11	1

Batteries—Pennock and Bengough; Russell and Berry.

COAST LEAGUE

OAKLAND, July 24.—Martin Dumovich, southpaw of the Oaks, displayed exceptional form today, and the Angels went down to a 2-0 defeat in the opening game of the series. A double by Dumovich and Dean's single in the third inning, and a home run over left-field fence by Larry in the fourth, gave the Oaks their two runs.

	R.	H.	E.
Los Angeles	0	6	1
Oakland	2	6	0

Batteries—Cunningham and Hannah; Dumovich and Read.

Thirteenth Straight Loss

LOS ANGELES, July 24. — The Hollywood Stars batted three Seattle pitchers to all corners here today, and scored an easy 15-3 victory over the Indians and picked up 21 hits. The defeat was Seattle's thirteenth in a row.

	R.	H.	E.
Seattle	3	11	1
Hollywood	15	21	1

LARRY BENTON

Batteries—Cole, Graham, Teachout and Borreani, Cox; Murphy and Agnew.

SACS CONTINUE TO WIN

SACRAMENTO, July 24.—Sacramento continued its winning streak today by taking the first of a three-game series with San Francisco, 8-5. It was the eighth straight win for the Senators, now leading the league by two and one-half games.

	R.	H.	E.
San Francisco	5	12	2
Sacramento	8	11	1

Batteries — Thurston, Mitchell, Jones and Sprinz; Vinci, Gould and Koehler.

HUFFT HITS HARD

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—The Missions beat Portland 7-4 today in a listless game, in which the batting of Hufft, left fielder, stood like a lighthouse. He practically won the game singlehanded with a homer, two doubles and a single in four times up. He scored three runs and batted in two.

	R.	H.	E.
Portland	4	8	1
Missions	7	14	1

Batteries—Couch and Whitney; Nelson, Davenport and Baldwin.

ENGLAND WINS SECOND TEST

Defeat West Indies Cricket Eleven by Innings and Thirty Runs — Second Triumph for Old Country

FINAL MATCH WILL BE PLAYED AUG. 11

MANCHESTER, July 24.—England won the second cricket test match against the touring West Indies team here today by an innings and thirty runs. As England won the first match in June, this gives the Mother Country the rubber. The last match will be played at the Oval beginning August 11.

When the West Indies continued their second innings this morning, it was said that Chapman, English captain, and Jupp, who were compelled to retire through injuries yesterday, were not on the team, their places being taken by Leyland and Taylor. A light drizzle was falling.

St. Hill, 33, and Francis, 0, continued the batting for the tourists. Francis was bowled before a run had been added. St. Hill went a few runs later. Constantine was not comfortable and was easily caught, and with his passing the fate of the West Indies was sealed. It required only fifty minutes to get rid of the tourists this morning.

Scores—West Indies, first innings, 206.

COMPSTON BESTS WALTER HAGEN

British Pro. Conquers American Star One Up in 36-Hole Exhibition Match

WAYLAND, Mass., July 24.—Archie Compston, Great Britain, won a close victory over Walter Hagen, American pro., in a thirty-six-hole match at the Sandy Burr Country Club today, one up. They were even as they started the final hole, but Compston took it to carry off the score.

The British golfer was three up at the end of the first eighteen holes. In the afternoon round Hagen squared the match on the twenty-second hole and took a lead on the twenty-fifth.

They were even at the twenty-seventh, Compston holing a ten-foot putt for a birdie three. The lead changed coming in, but the match was squared at the final hole, which Compston won.

BRENTWOOD REGATTA DRAWS LARGE ENTRY

Annual Sports Programme Will Be Held Today—Dance Will Conclude Lengthy Programme

The annual Brentwood Bay regatta will be carried out this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with one of the finest programmes in its history arranged. This event has been carried out with great success for the past eight years, and this year one of the largest entries has been filled.

Following the various events, a dance and entertainment will be held at Anchorage Tea Rooms for the children from 7 until 9 o'clock, and from then until midnight for the older people.

The programme will be as follows: Girls 8 and under, boys 8 and under; girls 9 to 12, boys 9 to 12; girls 13 to 16, boys from 13 to 16; wings under 6, single ladies 17 to 19, single men 17 to 18; married ladies; married men; girls 18 and under, boys 18 and under; wading contest; ladies' rowing; men's rowing; obstacle race; nail driving; greasy pole; guessing contest, and kiddies' dancing. A valuable prize of the day will be awarded to winner of the tombola.

RENE LA COSTE WILL NOT DEFEND AMERICAN TITLE

AUTEUIL, France, July 24. — Rene La Coste has decided he will not defend his American tennis championship this year. La Coste insisted the decision was not prompted by the Tilden controversy. He said he had made up his mind several weeks ago.

Helen Wills Wins

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 24.—Helen Wills defeated Louise Iselin of New Rochelle, N.Y., 6-0, 6-0, in the second round of the women's invitation singles at the Essex country club here, today.

Joe Wright Will Row Singles for Canada at Sports

TORONTO, July 24.—A special dispatch to The Telegram today says that the Olympic team committee has declared that Joe Wright, Jr., will represent Canada in the single sculling event.

The committee considers another trial between Wright and Joe Guest unnecessary, as Wright "proved innumerable times he was the better sculler."

CAPS WILL PLAY TWIN BILL TODAY

Oreas Island Will Be Guests of Local Team in Double-Header—Games to Start at 3 and 6

The snappy ball team from Lopez, Orcas Island, will be the guests of the Victoria Capitals in a double-header today. The first performance will start at 3 o'clock, while the second attraction is billed for 6 o'clock. A big crowd is expected to watch each game.

The American side is coming with a big reputation, but whether or not they can keep the pace of the fast-moving local crew, remains to be seen. Caps are burning up the Vancouver Island League, and have practically cinched the silverware.

Orcas Island is said to be bringing over a pitcher who is ticketed for the big leagues. His name is Nelson, and he is reported to have a perfect record in two years on the mound.

CLOSE FINISHES SEEN AT WEEKLY BICYCLE MEETING

PLAY CONTINUES AT KINGSTON ST.

Close Matches Witnessed in Annual Handicap Tennis—Draw for today Announced

Play continued to advance satisfactorily in the annual handicap tennis tournament yesterday at Kingston Street. Five matches were played, and in most cases results were close. Today, tomorrow and Friday will be busy days at the courts, many matches being left to be played.

Yesterday's results follow:

Miss Kenning (minus 30) defeated Miss Locke (plus 1-2 15), 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Hickey defeated Miss Ballson, 1-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Miss Greenwood and Clayton (minus 1-2 15) defeated Miss Schwengers and Barnes (minus 30), 8-6, 6-3.

Stone defeated Thompsett by default.

Rose (plus 1-2 15) defeated Lindsay (minus 1-2 15), 6-4, 6-3.

Temple (minus 30) defeated Schwengers (minus 30 1-2), 6-3, 6-3.

TODAY'S DRAW

The draw for today follows:

4:00—Miss Greenwood plays Miss Campbell.

5:00—Miss Ballson plays Mrs. Galloway.

5:30—Rose and Clayton play Hodgson and Renwick; Miss Hickey and Miss Marquart play Miss Schwengers and Miss French; Miss Stott and Miss Greenwood play Mrs. Jardine and Mrs. Cheetham; Miss Lang plays Miss Garesche.

6:00—Quayle and Barnes play Alexander and Lindsay.

Mrs. Hutchings Advances in State Tourney

SEATTLE, July 24.—Mrs. Kenneth Reed, Portland, defending champion, fell before Mrs. E. F. Ristine, of Seattle, 6 and 4, in the surprise match of the first round of the Washington State women's golf tournament here today. While Mrs. Reed three-putted several greens, Mrs. Ristine went out in 42, taking the turn 4 up. Mrs. Vera Hutchings, of Vancouver, B.C., eliminated Mrs. Guy Riegel, of Spokane, 3 and 2. Both are former holders of the Pacific Northwest women's title.

Famous Sport Writer Declares It Will Take Champ to Beat Heeney

Walter Trumbull Says Challenger Is Hard as Rock—Thinks New Zealander Will Have to Wear Titleholder Down

By WALTER TRUMBELL
(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

On Thursday night Thomas Heeney, the Gisborne grizzly, will climb through the ropes at the Yankee Stadium and attempt to claw the heavyweight crown from the blond head of Gene Tunney. The gods generally give every man one chance. This is Heeney's.

The plumber's son, who was born of Irish parents in New Zealand, close to the shores of Poverty Bay, will be shooting at fame and fortune. Should he win, he who has been in hard places may lie soft for the remainder of his life. There will be no more work in the blacksmith shop or the mine. Instead there will be white linen and tables set with silver and gold-rimmed china and shining glass and the cushioned seats of the mighty. All this waits for Tom Heeney if he can beat his way to it with a stout heart and padded fists.

Tom learned the ring game in a hard school. Like Bob Fitzsimmons, once amateur champion of New Zealand, he went to Australia and beat Colin Bell in Sydney. This was the city which sent Fitzsimmons, the blacksmith; Peter Jackson, the longshoreman, and Young Griffo, the cleverest boxer of the all, overseas to battle their way to fistic glory.

NO GREAT SUCCESS

In England, Heeney wasn't any great success, partly due to his notion that a man could train on ale and fight about four nights a week. Then he came to America, but there appeared to be some mistake in the reputation it had as the land of opportunity. Tom couldn't make anyone take an interest in the fact that he had landed on our shores.

It wasn't until he landed on George Courtney in a gymnasium bout that he could get by the door of a promoter's office. Fortunately for him, he fell into the hands of Rickard. As a result he is about to fight for the championship of the world.

Let us try to figure out what assets he has for the job in hand. In the first place he weighs around 200 pounds and is just short of 5 feet 11 inches in height. That means that he is a little heavier and a little shorter than Tunney. John L. Sullivan was about the same height, but John L. was built differently. Heeney's reach is four inches shorter than Tunney's, his chest is smaller, his waist is larger and so are his legs.

There isn't a doubt that he is strong and tough. They call him the "hard rock," and it is an expressive title. He has met Paulino twice, Maloney, Risko, Sharkey and Delaney. The only decision in that lot he lost was in his first bout with Paulino—and I thought he won that match. Aside from the champion, these were the best heavyweights we had to offer.

Sharkey stopped Wills and knocked out Maloney and Delaney. Risko is a rough boy, as Godfrey and Sharkey will testify. Delaney had stopped as tough a man as Paul Berlenbach, when Paul was good. Paulino knocked out Wills and gave a number of other heavyweights unhappy evenings.

PRETTY WELL TESTED

So we may say that Heeney has been pretty well tested. Not one of these other contenders could do much to him. Delaney hit him smack on the whiskers with that famous right and, from all appearances, Delaney might just as well have lathered his chin with a shaving brush.

Sharkey hit Tom at least three solid rights on the chin and checked him about as much as a brush pile would check an army tank. Heeney seemed to think that a mosquito had bitten him.

All the others bruised their fists on various portions of Tom's anatomy, but he just kept chugging ahead with the graceful motion of a road roller. Heeney is certainly easy to hit, but the question then arises whether his chin or his opponent's fist will get tired first. So far his chin has won all decisions.

Paulino did upset him, but he caught him on the side of the head and, it seemed to me, off balance. Tom didn't stay on the floor long enough for the crowd to see how he looked there. He scrambled to his feet and started full speed ahead again. There would appear to be no doubt that Tom is a hard egg.

Any many who weighs 200 pounds can hit, but Heeney is no great hitter. On the other hand, he throws his punches fast and from all angles. If he gets a man on the ropes he certainly will hit him a lot of times before the man escapes. Or if he can duck under a left or get inside of a man's arms he will give him a very busy time. Tom is a mauler, on the style of Harry Greb, much slower than Greb, but just as earnest.

MUST WEAR HIM DOWN

To have a chance with Tunney, Heeney must wear him down, keep after him until Tunney tires and fight him in close. If Tunney refuses to tire, Tom's chances will not be so good.

Heeney did look a little too fine on Sunday, but a couple of days of inaction should have remedied that. He is, on the whole, in the best physical condition I have ever seen him. The fat is gone from his neck and shoulders and he seems faster and less inclined to be muscle-bound. He has developed a better left hand than he ever had before, and he is immeasurably improved in the matter of infighting over what he was a year ago. At times he moves—especially his body and head—with astounding rapidity.

Tom's nature is such that it is improbable that he will suffer from any stage fright at meeting a champion or boxing before a big crowd. He is likely to show the best he has in this bout and he seems to be confident that it will be pretty good.

It will take a champion to beat Heeney. He is a hard rock to pulverize.

BALL HONORS AT STAKE TONIGHT

Jokers Will Journey to Sidney to Battle Millmen in Crucial Game—Behnson to Oppose Steele

Jack Bacon's hotel crew, champions of the first half of the Commercial Baseball League, will journey to Sidney tonight to meet the Millmen in a game that may decide the champions of the second half. Sidney are out in front with three wins and two defeats and a win tonight will give them second half honors.

Jokers will start "Speed" Behnson on the mound, while Wade Steele will do the heavy work for the home crew. Should the Westholmes be successful in defeating Sidney, it will create a triple tie in the race for honors and a play-off series will be necessary. Frank Moore will umpire the struggle, which will start at 6:15 o'clock.

QUEBEC RIFLE MEET WILL START AUG. 7

MONTREAL, July 24.—The Province of Quebec Rifle Association will hold its fifty-third annual prize meet here on August 7, 8, 9 and 10, the association offering some $3,700 in cash prizes, together with numerous trophies and medals.

Walter Hagen Praises Colwood Golf Course

American Professional Says Local Club One of Most Beautiful in World—Hopes to Win Canadian Open Title

By WALTER HAGEN
British Open Golf Champion, American Professional Champion.
(Copyright, 1928, in All Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Canadian golf championships are popular with United States golfers, and the open championship which starts at the Rosedale Golf Club in Toronto Tuesday will have a large number of American players entered. Tommy Armour won the event last year and will defend his title.

I have never been lucky enough to win the Canadian open, but I will keep on trying and some day may have some luck above the border. I have played a great deal of golf in Canada from the Eastern to the Western seaboard, and there are many very fine courses there as well as a great amount of interest. The total number of golf clubs in Canada is five hundred and sixty-seven and the best courses there compare favorably with those in the United States.

In 1926 I made a tour of Western Canada, starting with three matches in Winnipeg and playing in Regina, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria and other cities.

One of the most amusing experiences I had was in Edmonton. The finishing hole is a one-shoter over a cavern, and there is a swinging footbridge, just wide enough for one to walk on. It does very well except for an exhibition match. There were well over a thousand out the day I visited Edmonton, and after playing my tee shot at the eighteenth I crossed the footbridge and sat in the clubhouse for an hour, waiting for the gallery to get over, before putting out.

One of the most beautifully located golf courses in the world is the Colwood Golf and Country Club in Victoria. It is one of the favorite spots for the Pacific Northwest championships, the clubs of British Columbia joining with those in the States of Washington and Oregon to make up one of the livest golfing associations on the North American Continent.

Since 1922 American professionals have won the Canadian open. Al Watrous started this run by winning at Montreal in 1922. Clarence Hackney won in 1923 and Leo Diegel in 1924 and 1925. MacDonald Smith won in 1926 and Tommy Armour last year, adding this win to the American open which he captured at Oakmont that year.

The record score for the Canadian open is 278, made by J. Douglas Edgar in 1919 at Hamilton.

Donald Carrick, of Toronto, the present amateur golf champion of Canada, is one of the most interesting athletes in Canada. Besides being a champion golfer, Carrick is the amateur heavyweight boxing champion and rated as good as any professional there. He has represented the University of Toronto in international boxing tournaments for three years and has never lost a bout. Carrick has promised to box for charity before the American amateur championship to be played at Brae Burn in Boston this year.

Both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railroads are doing much for golf in the Canadian Rockies at Banff and in Jasper Park. The Banff course is one of the favorites with the Prince of Wales, who never fails to play there when he visits his ranch near Calgary.

Many Stars Fall in Western Tennis Play At Vancouver Courts

Sparling, Lockwood, Prusoff and Gerald Cunningham Eliminated From Championships—Hope Leeming Advances in Ladies' Singles

VANCOUVER, July 24. — Men's singles created main interest in the second day's play in the Western Canada tennis championships on the Vancouver Club courts today. Play was marked by the elimination of George Sparling, of Jericho Club, P.N.W. sectional singles champion, who was put out by Johnny Risso, one-armed Californian; of Sherman Lockwood, of Tacoma, by Hank Prusoff, P.N.W. junior titleholder, of Seattle; of Stanley Almqquist, of Tacoma; and of Prusoff by Geoff Peers, Vancouver. Leon de Turenne, of Seattle, had no trouble in winning from Jack Muir, of the Vancouver Club, and B. Rhodes, of Jericho. The men are now down to the eighth.

The match in which Stanley Almquist, of Tacoma, was put out by Joe Coughlin, junior champion of California, was one of the best of the day. Throughout the first set came followed service until Coughlin finally broke through in the fourteenth game to win at 8-6.

MAKES MANY ERRORS

Almquist assumed command in the second and won easily at 6-2, but in the third the Tacoman made error after error, while the Californian played steadily, making every stroke count, winning at 6-2.

P. Griffin and Jack Cosgrove, also of California, drew another good gallery. Griffin was handicapped by a bad ankle, sustained while playing in Seattle last Saturday. Cosgrove was generally in control in the first set, to win 6-3. But in one of the finest exhibitions of placements seen in the two days' play Griffin battled point for point until he had taken the middle set at 6-2. The third set was more evenly contested, but the court generalship of Griffin won him the right to enter the finals. Earlier in the day Cosgrove had disposed of Gerald Cunningham, of Victoria, in a hard three-set match.

Bobby Sellers, of California, was given a hard time by Kinoshita, veteran Vancouver Japanese, who was only beaten 6-4 and 7-5. Howard Langlie, Seattle, had little trouble with Watt, Edmonton, winning in straight sets, but was put out by Sellers, 6-2, 6-3. G. Cunningham, of Trail, played well to take one set out of three from Nordstrom, of Seattle. Nordstrom taking the other two.

LONGEST MATCH

Hank Prusoff, Seattle, and Sherman Lockwood, Tacoma, hooked up in the longest match of the day, the three sets, 8-6, 5-7 and 17-15, requiring three hours to conclude. Prusoff winning. Johnny Risso managed to overcome points made against him on two occasions to beat George Sparling.

Everything went off according to schedule in the ladies' events without any serious upsets, the Californians winning again quite handily. Josephine Cruickshanks lost only two games in her match against Miss Wray, of Vancouver. Hope Leeming, of Victoria, scored a good win over Mrs. Wolridge, of Jericho, in three sets.

Miss Hunt beat Mrs. Verley, formerly of Victoria, while Alison King, of Vancouver, downed Mrs. Victor Johnson, of Edmonton. Mrs. G. Meyer Gross scored a straight set win over Mrs. Milne, of Vancouver.

All games are now up to schedule and even with a day's rain can be finished by Saturday afternoon.

Results follow:

MEN'S SINGLES

Bobby Sellers, San Francisco, beat Kinoshita, 6-4, 7-5.

Howard Langlie, Seattle, beat Watt, 6-2, 6-1.

J. Cosgrove, San Francisco, beat Gerald Cunningham, 9-7, 3-6, 6-4.

John Risso, San Francisco, beat George Sparling, Vancouver, 3-6, 6-4, 9-7.

G. Peers beat Denis Murray, 6-3, 6-1.

Bradshaw Harrison, Tacoma, beat New Kirk, Seattle, 6-4, 6-3.

A. S. Milne beat Chuck Rollins, 8-6, 6-3.

J. Coughlin, San Francisco, beat Forbes, San Francisco, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Leon De Turenne, Seattle, beat B. A. Rhodes, 6-2, 6-2.

Muir beat Wood, walk over.

Henry Prusoff, Seattle, beat Sherman Lockwood, Tacoma, 8-6, 5-7, 17-15.

Lloyd Nordstrom, Seattle, beat Lorry Driscoll, San Francisco, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

LADIES' DOUBLES

Mrs. and Miss List, Victoria, defeated Mrs. Hardwick and Partner, Vancouver, default.

Miss Tatlow and Miss Hope Leeming Victoria, defeated Mrs. English and Miss Arnot, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-3.

MEN'S DOUBLES

Harrison and Lockwood, Tacoma, defeated G. Cunningham, Victoria, and Green, Vancouver, 6-3, 6-4.

Peers and Dixon, Vancouver, beat Hanbury, Brentwood, and C. MacLean, Vancouver, 6-1, 6-3.

Langlie and Nordstrom, Seattle, defeated Robertson, Vancouver, and Hanbury, Brentwood, 6-4, 6-1.

MIXED DOUBLES

Miss Munro and Sparling, Vancouver, defeated Miss List, Victoria, and Lawman, Vancouver, 7-5, 6-2.

RUTH FATTENS BATTING MARK

Bambino Hits Three Singles to Gain on Frisch and Cobb for Third Place in "Big Six"

With three members not scheduled to play, and Frisch still injured, activity in the "Big Six" was limited yesterday to Waner and Ruth. The elder Waner pinched off two safeties as the Pirates bowed to the Glants, 6 to 3, in the first game of their eastern trip, and lifted his average one point to .367. Ruth leaped six points forward as result of three singles packed into the Yankees' 5-3 triumph over the Red Sox at Boston, he is now hitting .322 and is in a position to challenge Frisch and Cobb for third honors. The standing:

Tillicums — Heinekey, Fletcher, Smith, G. Freeman, Booth, Bains, Blythman, Tickle, Broadhurst, Turner and Spellar.

JOHNNY FARRELL TAKES UP ACTING AS SIDE ISSUE

CHICAGO, July 24. — Johnny Farrell appears to be as popular a champion in golf as Jack Dempsey was in the squared arena. The national open titleholder turned actor at a loop theatre yesterday for two performances and won large audiences.

Farrell, who is in Chicago to compete in the western open, has decided not to enter the Canadian open.

Gene Sarazen, his golfing mate, has withdrawn from the western, Chicago and Canada open championships this year. He and Farrel have a long exhibition programme ahead.

Johnny Weismuller Makes Fast Time

HAARLEM, Holland, July 24.—Johnny Weismuller beat his winning time of fifty-nine seconds at the Paris Olympics in the 100 meters event today, swimming the distance in practice in 57 4-10 seconds. He was clocked by two watches.

Tunney and Heeney Wind Up Training; Each Is Confident

Champion and Challenger Will Enter Ring for Tomorrow Night's Heavyweight Championship Bout With Supreme Assurance

SPECULATOR, N.Y., July 24.—Radiating confidence and good nature, Gene Tunney wound up his own training for the defence of his title against Tom Heeney Thursday night by going through a hard workout. After the session Jimmy Bronson, the champion's chief second, breathed a sigh of relief for Tunney had escaped without a mark. This is the first time that Gene has ever finished training for a major bout without suffering some annoying injury, generally in the last workout.

Outside of two rope burns on his shoulders, Tunney is in perfect physical shape. Mentally he is in the peak. Today, after slugging the light and heavy punching bags for four rounds, Tunney instructed Harold Mays, his favorite sparring partner, to "step on it."

LIKE CLUMSY AMATEUR

For a round Tunney permitted Harold to be the aggressor, and had him appearing like a clumsy amateur. Mays, who has assisted Heeney in most of his bouts in this country, was following the challenger's style and using all of his tricks, none of which deceived the champion. During the second round Tunney smashed a right hook on Mays' jaw. The sting came through the 16-ounce training glove with force enough to rock Mays' head. Tunney then held Mays upright until his head cleared and let him off lightly for the rest of the bout.

HEENEY CONFIDENT

FAIRHAVEN, July 24. — Tom Heeney today wound up training for his battle with Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, Thursday night, expressing supreme confidence of winning.

"I was never so confident of winning a fight as my championship shot against Tunney," he said. "If I'm beaten, I have no alibis to offer. I am in great condition. You cannot make that too strong. I had never seen Tunney except to shake hands with him at Tex Rickard's dinner, but I have studied his style in motion pictures.

IS WISED UP

My fights against Jack Delaney and Phil Scott have put me wise against Tunney's way of boxing. I have no plans to disclose right now because I'll make them as the fight progresses. All I want to do is to get the feel of Tunney in the ring. It will not take me long to learn how Tunney plans to fight. Perhaps in the first round I will know all that is to be known. Then I will go after him and I will do my share of fighting. He says he is going to knock me out. Maybe I will stop him. I am going in there to do my best."

The challenger plans to spend tomorrow in relaxation.

Old Country Cricket

LONDON, July 24.—Lancashire defeated Surrey by an innings and nine runs at the Kensington Oval, in an English county cricket match today. Lancashire scored 486 and Surrey 219 and 258.

Yorkhsire won from Essex at Sheffield by an innings and 215 runs.

Sussex beat Northamptonshire at Northampton by an innings and 203 runs.

Gloucestershire defeated Glamorganshire by 16 runs.

Hampshire won from Warwickshire by eight wickets.

HARRY COOPER SLIPS BADLY IN AVERAGES

"Wild Horse Harry" Drops From Twelfth to Twenty-Sixth Place in Weekly Golf Medal

WILLIE McFARLANE MAKES FINE GAIN

In a trio of tourneys in Eastern territory, some of the country's ordinarily best medalists have played bad golf with the result that they have slipped well down the list in the seasonal averages. Most notorious of these is Harry Cooper, whose 318 in the Pennsylvania Open pushed him from twelfth to twenty-sixth place. Harry will have to make a garrison finish, such as he accomplished last season, to get near the top again.

Bill Mehlhorn did fairly well in the Eastern Open, but three rounds in 233 in the Shawnee Open, which caused him to pick up his ball, dropped him from twenty-fourth to twenty-seventh place in the race. Henry Ciuci, who had been fourteenth, took 313 at Shawnee and tumbled to twenty-first. Joe Turnesa, who hasn't been going so well this year, revived in the Eastern Open, taking a 291, but it did him little good, for he already had amassed a 318 in the Pennsylvania Open.

While these experts were having their misfortunes, others fared much better. Willie Macfarlane, for instance, scored 291 at Shawnee and 292 in the Eastern Open, the same enabling him to jump from thirty-fifth place to fifteenth.

Leo Diegel and Bill Burke swept along at the even pace which has distinguished their work all year and remained in their usual places.

Wright Winning Famous Diamond Sculls

THIS picture is the first to reach this country showing the wind-up of the Diamond Sculls race at Henley, England. Joe Wright, Toronto Argonaut oarsman, is seen pulling past the finish post well ahead of his English opponent, R. T. Lee, thus winning for Canada the coveted international classic which so narrowly escaped his grasp last year when he became entangled with a rope on a boom along the course.

Race Rider Killed At Hastings Park

VANCOUVER, July 24.—Thrown and kicked in the head while exercising a horse at Hastings Park race track here today, Mickey Moore, an apprentice jockey, died later in hospital.

As Told by Big Leaguers

Talking Today

"PIE" TRAYNOR: The Strangest Home Run I Ever Saw.
MILLER HUGGINS: The Worst Setback I Ever Had.
MAX CAREY: The Catch That Made an Outfielder of Me.

By J. P. Glass

IE Traynor says that positively the most unusual home run he ever saw was knocked in a game between Birmingham and Memphis of the Southern League in 1921. Traynor was getting seasoning that year, having been sent to Birmingham by the Pirates after a Fall tryout in 1920, the Pirates having obtained him from Portsmouth, of the Virginia League. He was then, by the way, a shortstop, and didn't suspect he was going to become the greatest third-baseman in the National League in the course of a few seasons.

"A Sunday game was being played," says "Pie," "but rain broke and almost stopped it in an early inning. If there hadn't been such a big crowd on hand, probably it would have been called off. But the management wanted the money.

"The rain stopped and we went on. The field was a regular sea of mud. It was awful.

"In the fifth inning, with the tying run on third, Yokey, the Memphis second baseman, came to bat and hit a grounder over Stewart, the Birmingham second baseman—he was that "Stuffy" Stewart who was with Washington last year—ran over to stop it, but just as he reached for the ball he slipped and fell.

"He got up and looked all around, but he couldn't see that ball. It was buried in mud.

"Yokey, in the meantime, ran all the way around. While the whole Birmingham infield was digging frantically in the muck, he scored a home run, driving the base runner on third in ahead of him and winning the game.

BAUMGARDNER WAS GOOD

Miller Huggins, who sits so easily on the top of the world as manager of the lordly Yankees, recently searched his memory for the most humiliating thing that ever happened to him, and declared that it came up during the days when he was first acquiring the science of management as pilot of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"The Cardinals were in a city series with the Browns," says Huggins. "I was playing second base in addition to managing the club.

"Baumgardner was pitching for the Browns and he helped me to break a record for major league ball players, I guess.

"In all, I came to bat five times.

"And every time he struck me out!"

The later generation of fans, who never saw Huggins play, will not quite understand the full extent of Baumgardner's pitching genius against the ex-Cardinal. Miller was the hardest man in the big league to pitch to. He was small, he hung over the plate, he had an eagle eye, and he refused absolutely to offer at a ball an inch off the plate. Pitchers seldom were able to outguess him. Few games passed without his getting one or more bases on balls.

In striking out Huggins five times in one game, Baumgardner outguessed him all afternoon, kept every ball over the pan and yet put it where Miller couldn't hit it. This was pitching perfection.

CAREY GETS A BREAK

Outfielders make so many brilliant catches that it is hard for them to recall any particulars ones. But Max Carey opines that one catch he made will always stick in his memory. It made an outfielder of him.

"When I first broke into professional baseball, at South Bend, Ind., in the Central League," says Max, "I was a shortstop. This was in 1906, and I was still in college.

"In 1910 I didn't report to South Bend until I had finished school. By that time Alex McCarthy, who later went to the big leagues, was filling my old job so well there was no chance for me to break in.

"Luckily for me, there was a shortage of players, due to sickness and injury. Bob Wells, the second catcher, was being used in left field and having trouble.

"'Think you can play the outfield?' asked Angie Grant, the manager.

"'I'll try,' I replied.

"Well, the first ball hit out to me was a hard fly right on the left-field foul line. I ran over and stabbed it with one hand. A base runner was on third and he tried to score. He was a big, lumbering pitcher. I threw on a line to the catcher and doubled him out.

"'Boy,' said Grant as I came in, 'you're an outfielder from now on.'"

Max made such a brilliant record as an outfielder that two months later he was sold to Pittsburgh, where he became one of the greatest centre-fielders of his day.

Marathon Committee

A meeting of the marathon committee of the Tillicum Athletic Club will be held at the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow at 8 o'clock. All members and others interested are invited to attend.

SHUT-OUT RECORD

The record for consecutive shutout innings pitched was set by Walter Johnson during the season of 1913, when he registered 56 scoreless frames against opposing batters.

CREATED ATTENTION

Although his fielding was said to be much better than his hitting ability, it has been Chalmers Cissell's batting in the early weeks of the major league race that has created attention.

PLEASE BABE

Pitching offerings of Horace Lisenbee, Washington's hurler, seem to please Babe Ruth. Three of Ruth's home runs this season have been made with Lisenbee pitching.

HELLMANN'S JINX

Harry Hellmann, Detroit's slugging outfielder, has won the American League batting championship in odd years during the past eight seasons. He expects to break his "jinx" this year.

GRANT PURSE WON BY ILLEGITIMATE

Fewell Rates Winner Well to Move Up on Stretch and Win—Favorite Dodgson Out of Money

(Special to The Colonist)

LINCOLN FIELDS, CHICAGO, July 24.—M. Eckman's five-year-old gelding Pheasant, classed as a consistent runner for a couple of seasons back, won the first event today easily. Drawing away at the last post with plenty of reserve, she idled home leisurely a length in front of Theo Fay, the reigning favorite.

Jockey McGonigle up on Horse McGonigle, came down in front with a good price in the second. The favorite, Big Sandy, was bumped out of a smooth stride in the take-off, ran right into a pocket, and remained where he could not be hard driven until the chance had passed.

The fifth race, the Grant Park Purse, saw Dodgson, one of the two heavily-backed pick, flash into the early pace, only to hold it for two of the six-furlong course. Gold Mint was alongside with Illegitimate lapping the second runner. Fewell had the leg up on the winner and rated Illegitimate along behind the pace to the turn in, where he moved up and took command. Results follow:

P.G.A. to Allow Assistants to Play

TORONTO, July 24.—Owing to a number of contentious matters, the fifteenth annual meeting of the Professional Golfers' Association of Canada, held here last night was a lengthy affair, but all questions were settled in a satisfactory manner. The most important action was the ratification of a by-law which allows an assistant who has won the annual competition for assistants to play in the P.G.A. championship, but that once he has played in the senior championship, he cannot again play with the other assistants in their tournament.

Andrew Kay, of the Lambton Club, Toronto, was elected captain of the association. Eric Bannister, of the Winnipeg St. Charles Club, is on the 1929 executive committee.

Marjorie Leeming Shows Form in Canadian Tennis

Finds Stiff Opposition From Halifax Girl, But Pulls Through With Fine Win—B.C. Players Displaying Fine Performances

TORONTO, July 24.—Outstanding features in the third day's matches for the thirty-fifth annual Canadian lawn tennis championships were the brilliant showing of the United States ranking players participating; the wonderful game displayed by the Vancouver junior, Jack Brown, against I. VanRyn, sixth ranking player in the United States; the performance of T. O. Ryall, of Vancouver, in extending J. Doeg, of the United States Davis Cup test squad, in the first set of their match, and the marathon contest staged by A. S. Veysey, of Montreal, Quebec and Western Ontario junior champion, and C. K. F. Andrews, of Toronto, former member of the Canadian Davis Cup team. The latter pair fought for nearly three hours and played forty-eight games before the veteran Ontario player succeeded in overcoming his youthful opponent. The score in the last set was 16-14, and young Veysey four times was within a point of victory.

Almost as long as the game was played in the morning, when W. S. Giles, a veteran from Winnipeg, extended Walter Martin, now of Toronto, but formerly of Regina, and last year's Saskatchewan champion, to three sets and led at the final set, Martin had to show his best to pull the game back and finally won 7-5.

The men's singles has now reached the final sixteen. The display of the junior, Brown, against VanRyn, of Princeton, was most encouraging, the Vancouver boy displaying an excellent all-round game that prevented the United States star from taking things too easily.

Willard Crocker, Montreal, showed some of his old Davis Cup form when he defeated Harold Thurman, of Oklahoma, in straight sets, and Dr. Dunsworth, Edmonton, eliminated a strong Toronto player in Lorne McLean.

Miss Leeming, of Victoria, found tough opposition in Miss Hawsoldt, of Halifax, but despite the latter's excellent play, Miss Leeming won 6-3, 6-1.

RADIO BOARD'S DECISION ENDS

Over One Hundred Broadcasting Stations Were Ordered Off the Air by the First of August

COMMISSION IS WELL ATTENDED

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 24.—Super-power broadcasting commands the attention of the Federal Radio Commission more forcefully than ever as the all-important reallocation project is honored.

Unqualified endorsement of high-power radio by eminent radio scientists marked the legal technical conference of the commission, which formally closed Monday. As a result of the commission's "trial," more than 100 broadcasting stations were ordered to quit the air as of August 1.

John V. L. Hogan, the New York radio consultant, who recently declined the post of chief engineer for the commission, emphasized, in the course of the hearing, the desirability of maximum power on cleared channels in order to transmit programmes of a national scale. He did not recommend any specific number of cleared channels, saying that was a matter of commission policy. But he did urge the necessity of utilizing to their utmost capacity the channels that are cleared, if widely distributed and isolated areas and the regions of sparse population are to be reached.

WAVE LENGTHS AND POWER

The record of the legal-technical proceeding is intended for the guidance of the courts in possible litigation involving the condemned stations and the commission. Essentially, the testimony related to the elementary principles of radio. The question of high power, a moot one in the commission's reallocation task, came up incidentally, but there was full accord on it and on most other points between Hogan and the other engineers, Dr. J. H. Dellinger, of the Bureau of Standards, and Dr. C. M. Jansky, Jr., of the University of Minnesota.

The technical details of Hogan's testimony are much the same as those contained in the record of the several conferences of experts previously called by the commission. He recommended multiple assignments on identical wave lengths for community and regional stations, as does the American Engineering Council's recent report to the commission, provided the stations are far enough apart geographically and use low enough power to preclude interference.

Presuming that some channels are to be cleared for the exclusive use of certain stations—and it is understood that twenty-five or thirty are proposed in a reallocation plan the commission's subcommittee is considering—it was urged that the highest power be used on those channels so that the widest possible listening range might be secured. Hogan acted as a sort of spokesman for the other engineers because his exhaustive testimony was made the basis of the record and theirs was offered in substantiation or in elucidation of points on which they were particularly expert.

POWER STATIONS

The New York engineer cited some important figures pertaining to station service ranges, which will indicate to listeners what the normal listening range of their receiving set should be under ideal conditions of reception.

Barring peculiar conditions in and about a station, like inefficient mechanism, land and air strata and steel building absorption, Hogan estimated that a 50-000 watt station should be heard quite clearly over a radius of 300 to 3,000 miles; a 5,000 watt station, 100 to 1,000 miles; a 1,000 watt station, forty-five to 450 miles; a 500 watt station, thirty to 300 miles, and a 100 watt station, fifteen to 150 miles.

An effort was made by counsel for a group of the respondent stations to rule out Hogan's testimony, the charge being that the witness was biased toward the alleged radio trust whose stations are now the users of super power. Mr. Hogan admitted he had frequently been consulted and called in as an expert witness in legal cases for the Radio Corporation of America and affiliated concerns, but he said he also had been retained by such opposite type stations as WGN, Chicago, and WEVD, the New York Socialist station.

The objection was overruled by Chairman Robinson. Hogan's five hours of testimony and the relatively short statements by Dr. Dellinger and Dr. Jansky completed a record which will probably figure largely in the development of the new field of radio law.

Plague of Flies

BELOIT, Wis., July 24.—Millions of cisco flies, swarming out of Rock River, made walking on Beliot sidewalks as slippery as in Winter, encased store windows so that it was impossible to see through them, and blinded motorists.

At some places the insects drifted eighteen inches deep on sidewalks. Merchants swept bushels of the flies from the fronts of their stores.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

HOW THE HEART WORKS

The blood carries food, oxygen and water to the cells of the body, and removes their waste products, carrying them to the organs of elimination. It also regulates the body's temperature by conveying heat from the warm interior to the cooler parts, or acts like the water circulation of an automobile, by conveying the blood cooled by the skin evaporation to the parts that are too hot. In this way we always maintain a temperature in health of about 98.60.

The flowing of the blood is the principal transportation system of the living cells of our body, which would die very quickly if this circulation ceased.

The circulation of the blood is maintained in an interesting manner. The heart is the most important organ for propelling the blood, but the heart alone in inadequate for all of this work, and it is assisted by a contractive force of the arteries which pushes the blood forward with a pulse-like movement that is easily felt; in addition, the veins and lymphatics are equipped with valves that compel the blood and lymph to flow toward the heart and do not allow a backward flow. This process is greatly hastened by exercise.

The lungs also play some part in stimulating the flow of blood and there seems to be fairly definite ratio between the number of breaths taken and the regularity of the heart beats. This is why deep breathing and exercise improve a poor circulation.

If you double up your fist, you can see just about how big your heart is. There are two streams of blood passing through the heart; one from the muscles and tissues of the body, through the veins, into the right auricle of the heart, which empties into the right ventricle by a valve which closes when the heart contracts, forcing the blood up the pulmonary artery into the lungs. The other flow is from the lungs to the other side of the heart into the left auricle which empties by a valve into the left ventricle, which contracts and forces the blood back to the tissues again, completing the circuit.

The arrangement of the valves is just the same as if two muscular force pumps were placed side by side, each handling a different stream of liquid. One stream is forced through the lungs, and the other through the rest of the body. You see, there are four cavities in the heart. Two are auricles on the upper part of the heart into which the veins flow, and these auricles empty into the lower cavities of the heart which, having the work of pumping the blood forward, are heavily muscled. These ventricles also have valves which prevent a back flow of blood from the arteries after the ventricles have emptied and while they are filling again from the auricles. The left auricle is filled by veins from the lungs containing red blood, and the right auricle is filled by veins from the general circulation and contains blue blood. That makes four sets of valves in the heart. They are little pouches arranged like doors which only permit the blood to flow forward.

The large arteries coming from the heart divide again and again until they end in exceeding small capillaries which run everywhere through the cells. These capillaries are so thinly walled that the nutriment can penetrate out to the cells, and they are so closely grouped that even the smallest needle point thrust into the tissues will rupture many of them. The capillaries then unite together and form the veins which carry the blood back to the heart.

If you place your hand on your chest you can feel the heart beat. This is a little to the left in most people, but in some rare cases the heart is on the other side. The heart is surrounded by a lubricating sac called the pericardium. This is just above the diaphragm, and the stomach and intestines are just below. This is why gas pressure so often affects the heart.

Born in Tunnel

REVELSTOKE, July 24.—The first baby born in a Rocky Mountain tunnel came to Mrs. W. Hackmen, of Vernon, B.C., while the westbound express was passing through Connaught Tunnel, the longest in the Rockies. Mother and child are doing well in hospital here.

Stampede in City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 24.—Fifty head of cattle stampeded through the streets here today, following the midnight wreck of a freight train. Police and motorists staged exciting rodeos in the downtown district. Numerous cars were piled up when the train's locomotive left the rails and three cattle cars were wrenched open. The frightened stock scattered in all directions and soon the police were deluged with telephone calls.

AMUSEMENTS

Capitol—"Cheating Cheaters," starring Betty Compson and Kenneth Harlon.

Coliseum—Esther Ralston in "Something Always Happens."

Columbia—"The Noose," featuring Richard Barthelmess.

Dominion—George Bancroft in "The Drag Net."

Playhouse—"The First Auto," starring Patsy Ruth Miller.

Variety—Richard Talmadge in "The Merry Cavalier."

COLISEUM THEATRE Some persons save postage stamps; some collect floor lamps; others go in for books—but Neil Hamilton is different. Hamilton is Esther Ralston's leading man in her latest starring production, "Something Always Happens," directed by Frank Tuttle, now showing at the Coliseum Theatre. Neil goes in for things magical, and is hailed as one of the best prestidigitators in Hollywood. He is a member of the Society of Magicians and can pull rabbits out of hats and make things disappear almost as well as the Great Herman.

VARIETY THEATRE In "The Merry Cavalier," showing today for the last times at the Variety Theatre, Dick Talmadge seems to represent that spirit of adventurous chivalry which, since the beginning of time, has sent brave men into strange and solitary places in search of adventure and glory of their lady fair. Charlotte Stevens as the "lady fair" is a lovely and capable actress, and must have proved a wonderful incentive for the "stunt king" to perform the hair-raising escapades he does with such apparent sang-froid.

COLUMBIA THEATRE Richard Barthelmess, showing at the Columbia Theatre for the last times today, in his latest First National picture, "The Noose." It is a highly dramatic story of a young boy who falls in with gangsters and narrowly escapes the gallows. Barthelmess gives a virile and convincing performance as the youth, and is surrounded by an exceptionally fine cast.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE "The First Auto," Warner Bros.' romance of the last horse and the first horseless carriage, features Barney Oldfield and Patsy Ruth Miller. The piece is exciting, human and uproariously funny. One of the New York reviewers speaks of it as the epic of the automobile, being to the latter what "The Iron Horse" was to railroads and "The Covered Wagon" to the West. "The First Auto" is showing all this week at the Playhouse Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE Crookdom has changed. No longer do members of the underworld live in cellars, lean over a table with a candle for light, and plot their latest forays against society. Quite the contrary is true, as is graphically shown in "The Drag Net," Paramount's latest production starring George Bancroft, now at the Dominion Theatre. The present day crook cannot be told from the respectable citizen, for he frequents places of entertainment and conducts himself in a regular drawing-room manner. This new style of living on the part of gangsters is brought to light in "The Drag Net," a picture of the laws ceaseless vigil against the underworld.

CAPITOL THEATRE One of the most versatile of screen actresses is Maude Turner Gordon, who plays a prominent role in support of Betty Compson and Kenneth Harlan in "Cheating Cheaters," the Universal Jewel production which plays at the Capitol Theatre today for a sensational run. The stage attractions this week include Morris and Wilma, the sensational Argentine and acrobatic dancers de luxe; Ed. Merrit, the well-known banjoist, and Wilma Brown, lyric soprano, in song selections. Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C., and the Capitol Concert Orchestra will complete the vaudeville bill which will be presented twice daily.

THE BIDDING

Pass	1 NT	Pass	Pass

Final Bid 1 NT Played by West

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 1.—North makes the number—showing lead of his fourth best Heart, rather than lead the top of his sequence. This lead is a conventional exception to the general rule that the top card of a sequence should be led. The lead of a ten at No Trump is reserved for holdings with the ten at the top of an intermediate sequence, as, for example, with K 10 9 5. Declarer holds off to exhaust South's Hearts in case North's lead is from a six-card suit.

Trick 2—South's return of the King of Hearts and North's play of the five mark North's original lead as having been from five cards. South therefore remaining with the Queen alone, blocking North's hand.

Trick 3.—Declarer can count five tricks in Clubs, one trick in Diamonds and the Heart trick already made, two tricks short of game. He can safely take two additional tricks in Spades provided he do so while North's Hearts are yet blocked. Should he take his Club tricks first, South could discard his blocking Heart on a Club, in which case North, if holding the Ace of Spades, could bring in the Heart suit. Declarer therefore plays for two Spade tricks to assure game.

Trick 6.—West declines the finesse, satisfied with the game.

OAXACA STILL HARD AGROUND

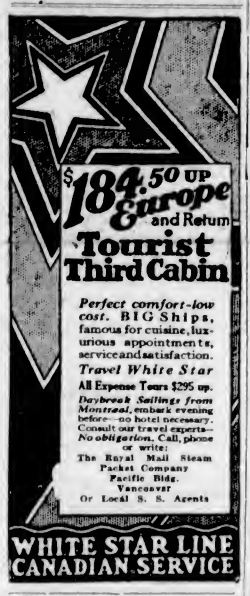

VESSEL RESTS FORWARD AND AFT ON ROCKS AT EIGHTH DEGREE PORT LIST

May Not Be Removed From Burnt Island, Wrangell Narrows, for Month Yet

PRINCE RUPERT, July 24.—The Ss. Oaxaca, Captain G. Allan Hancock, which piled up on Burnt Island, four miles south of Petersburg, on July 13, is still fast on a reef. The vessel passed 125 feet to the wrong side of the beacon in Beecher Pass, Wrangell Narrows, the position of which had been altered during dredging work.

There is a large puncture in the port side of the Oaxaca. From this hole, the only one in the vessel, water enters the engine room and stokehold at high water. It was one hour before high tide that the stranding occurred and at low water the vessel rests virtually high and dry, resting forward and aft on rocks at an eight-degree port list. The boat is considered to be in no danger unless a severe storm, unusual at this season, should come up.

Salvage should be a comparatively easy undertaking but if avail is not taken of high tides it may be another month before it will be possible to patch and pull the vessel off. There was no insurance on the boat and arrangements for salvage were therefore made direct between the owner and the Pacific Salvage Co., whose salvage boat, Salvage King, is now at the scene of the stranding. Meantime, those who were on board the vessel are ashore at Petersburg.

NEW VESSELS FOR O.S.K. COMPANY CONTRACTED FOR

According to Syren and Shipping, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha has placed orders with the Yokohama dockyard for the construction of three passenger and cargo motorships, which are to be completed within twelve months and are intender for service between Japan, Calcutta and Australia.

The craft will be 380 feet in length, with a draught when fully loaded of twenty-four feet six inches. They will have a cargo capacity of 5,300 tons, including refrigerating space. Diesel engines of the Burmeister and Wain type, designed to deliver 3,000 horsepower, will give the vessels a speed of fourteen and three-quarter knots.

STEAMER CRASHES TROLLING VESSEL

Queen City Hit and Sunk by Unknown Ship Off Point No Point on Friday

SEATTLE, July 24.—Customs authorities are endeavoring to find the identity of the unknown steamer which crashed into the fishing craft Queen City off Point No Point on Friday evening. The troller sank with no loss of life.

According to the story told by John Thorgeson, owner of the troller Queen City, he and his partner were proceeding to the trolling banks off Cape Flattery, and while near Point No Point noticed a steamship rapidly overhauling their craft. The larger vessel, when but a short distance away, sounded three blasts, indicating that the engines were in reverse, but a few seconds later she crashed into the stern of the fishing boat and then proceeded on her course. Thorgeson says he sounded distress whistles until the rapid sinking of the craft forced them to launch the small boat in which the two men made the shore.

According to King Brothers, shipping agents, Ss. Uranienburg is expected at Ogden Point docks early this morning to load lumber.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tides rise or fall continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

Esquimalt—To find the depth of water on the sill of the drydock at any time, add thirty feet to the height of high water as given above.

Surcharge to Corinto Has Been Removed

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Guy E. Buck, freight traffic manager of the Panama Mail Line, announced here yesterday that the surcharge on all cargo from the Pacific Coast to Corinto, amounting to twenty-five per cent, had been eliminated. The surcharge was decided upon some time ago by the Pacific Coast-West Coast of South America conference, due to congestion at the port of Corinto. Buck said conditions are such now that there is no necessity for it, and that for the time being it will be eliminated.

WAR VESSELS ARE NOW AT NANAIMO

H.M.S. Durban and H.M.C.S. Vancouver Arrive for Five-Day Stay Up-Island

NANAIMO, July 24.—With the arrival of H.M.S. Durban today, H.M.C.S. Vancouver yesterday, and H.M.C.S. Thiepval, Nanaimo harbor for the next few days should present quite a naval appearance. The Vancouver arrived in port yesterday afternoon, and will remain here for five days. Today, at noon, H.M.S. Durban is expected, and will remain here until Monday next. She will be boarded at 2 o'clock today by the mayor and aldermen, and members of the reception committee, and welcomed to the city. Plans of the committee for the entertainment of the officers and crew of the ships while here will be submitted to the captain today for approval.

The Durban was commissioned in May, 1919; she is 472 1-2 feet in length, with a beam of 46 1-2 feet. She carries a complement of 435 men and officers, and her armament consists of six 6-inch guns, three 4-inch anti-aircraft guns, four 3-pounders, two 2-inch pompoms, two machine guns, eight Lewis guns and four triple torpedo tubes. The Thiepval is a mine sweeper, and will remain here only two days, it is expected.

WORK PROCEEDS ON NEW VESSEL

PRINCESS FLEET SHIP, BUILDING FOR WEST COAST, MAKES PROGRESS

Four Vessels Are Being Operated on That Route This Summer—Traffic Increases

While good progress is being made with the new Princess vessel for the West Coast service, building at the yards of the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Company at Govan, Scotland, no date has yet been set for the launching.

Captain J. W. Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, is advised that the pilot house has been placed in position. He has an assurance that delivery will be given by the contract date in October.

The provision of this vessel, with greater passenger accommodation than the Princess Maquinna, is a testimony to the confidence which the company has in the expanding business of the West Coast of the Island. There are two passenger and freight, and two freight vessels on this route this Summer, three being in use, and the Princess Ena is shortly to follow.

While the pilchard fishery is still slow in getting into its stride, the Nootka is on her second trip, the movement of pulp from Port Alice being the chief cargo offering at present.

GENTLEMAN'S COUNTRY RESIDENCE AT DEEP COVE

A BEAUTIFULLY situated property, comprising about eight acres, greater portion of which is cleared, with the balance treed. Commands a lovely view. Portion of grounds is laid out in flower beds, shade and ornamental trees and shrubs of every description. Small fruits and fruit trees of all kinds.

Residence is of 7 rooms and modern in every particular. Electric light, large sleeping porches, open fireplaces, exceptionally fine bathroom and extra plumbing. There is a never-failing supply of water. Excellent stage services daily; mail and other deliveries. Numerous good outbuildings, and taxes less than $30 a year.

Further information upon application to this office.

THIS BEAUTIFUL ISLAND
FOR SALE

WE have for immediate sale one of the most beautiful islands in the Dominion. It is very delightfully situated about midway between Victoria and Vancouver. It enjoys the old-time charm of pioneer privacy. There are three land-locked bays, stretches of sandy beach, bathing in sheltered waters, good fishing and hunting. A pleasing feature is the easy accessibility of a great portion of the shore line and the charming walks that can be taken on the low grassy banks.

The house is well built and very comfortable, facing southwest. The land is choice, and a considerable area of farming land could be easily put under the plough.

Property is well suited for mixed farming, and fruit trees and berries do very well.

The situation of this island gives it a magnificent sunny climate, mild and healthy, without extremes—a Riviera climate without the Mediterranean winds.

This island has easy access to the conveniences of civilization. Nearby there is a settlement and small steamers are frequent. There is telephone connection. On a neighboring island, and within easy call, is a doctor.

There are about 479 acres in all, which could quite easily be divided into four of five lovely properties and sold at a substantial profit.

Further information upon application to this office.

Northern Pacific reports net income $1,350,888 for June, and for 6 months $7,634,129 against $5,752,513.

Bank of Montreal states in business review that conditions are good in Canada and indications point toward continued good business.

Hornblower & Weeks—Although we expect that the technical reaction will end in dullness without going very far, we feel that the course of least resistance will turn downward temporarily, just as it was upward last week.

J. S. Bache — The immediate course of security prices will probably continue to be influenced by corporation reports, changing call money rates, and the respective technical conditions of the more active stocks. It would appear therefore that nothing better than a traders market is in prospect and we suggest that one's speculative play be guided accordingly.

SUMMARY

Youngstown Sheet and Tube quarter ended June 30 net income $2,490,891 after depreciation, depletion, interest, federal taxes, etc., $2,062,215 in second quarter 1927, 6 months net income $4,154,407 against $4,318,258.

THE MARKET DICTIONARY

Reorganization—The new financing of a corporation which its own credit can not swing. It usually means a surgical operation on the capital structure in which all or part of the security holders sacrifice their legal rights, and ordinarily it provides for new money to be raised. It may be made voulntarily or as the climax to a receivership. It cannot be effected until the company has recovered its earning power, so it is a long drawn out affair.

Flat Top—The market advances to a certain point and then moves sidewise instead of immediately falling again. In fact, the market sometimes remains at or near the top for months.

Specialties—Stocks that are comparatively easy to manipulate. New and unseasoned industries, minor rails and utilities with low earning power, and older industrials with a small capitalization come under this class.

Johnny Farrell May Surprise Golfdom By Winning Title Twice in Succession

BY BUNKER

Johnny Farrell is the first open champion among the professionals since Johnny McDermott who has a good chance to hold to his title for two years in succession.

When they tee off at the Winged Foot Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y., in 1929, Farrell will be just as good a bet to win the championship as anyone of those challenging him—including Boby Jones and Walter Hagen. Indeed, for a number of reasons, he may be a better bet. He has a real chance to dissipate a supposition that is becoming legendary—namely that you can't win the National Open title two years hand-running.

After Olympia Fields, Bobby Jones said: "It would have been a crime for Johnny to have lost."

This was the typical comment of a genuine sportsman and I doubt not that in the final stages of the play-off, Bobby secretly wished right heartily that loyalty to the game, his admirers and himself did not require him to play his very best. Having been blessed with so many honors himself, and without the incentive possessed by Farrell, the Atlantan must have thought how blessed to everyone it would be if he could but dub a shot and so present the championship to his opponent. Of course this was impossible and the struggle continued to the bitter end. It is a tribute to Farrell's great skill and courage that he won under conditions that called for really superhuman golf.

BOBBY WAS RIGHT

But Bobby was right when he said that it would have been a crime for Johnny Farrell to have lost. He is today the greatest medalist among the professionals of America, and even Bobby Jones is not his superior. He has been the most consistent low scorer of his clan for years. But it wasn't until 1927 that he began to get the breaks. Last season, when he swept through eight tournaments, setting an unprecedented record, and this Spring, when he won the Miami La Gorce Open with 274 strokes, shooting the last round in 63, it was quite apparent that he was ripe for the highest honors. His game merited a national title and it was just that he won the open.

Here are the figures on Farrell's medal record for 1927 and 1928, compared to the records of Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen—figures based only on official tournament play:

Player	Rounds Played	Total Strokes	Average Medal
Jones	22	1,602	72 9-11
Farrell	116	8,453	72 101-116
Hagen	50	3,692	73 42-50

This data shows that Bobby has a medal average of 22-1276 (count it) of a stroke lower than Johnny's. This wouldn't help Johnny a bit if it came to handicaps; for all practical purposes Johnny and Bobby are on a level as far as scoring is concerned. If there be any advantage it might be conceded to Johnny on the ground that he has played 116 tournament rounds to Bobby's 22 in the two-year period.

ADVANTAGE OVER HAGEN

Between Farrell and Hagen there is almost a stroke's advantage per round in Johnny's favor. There can be no dispute as to which one is the greatest medalist.

With Johnny's great technical skill, which reaches its apex when he is playing on or near the green, and the confidence that has come to him from his victories, it really is going to be hard to dislodge him from his throne next year. This writer wants to go on record right now as predicting that he also will win the 1928 Open, provided of course that he is able to play in it and is in condition.

He has, as his record indicates, more golf in him than any other player, except Bobby Jones.

His incentive is greater than Bobby's. As the years pass, in fact, Bobby has less and les sinterest in winning the title.

The demands of the Atlantan's profession, will, as time goes on, cut more and more into his tournament practice, while Johnny will acquire lots of additional experience right along.

By the time the National Open starts, Johnny will know the course where it is to be played, like a book. Already he is well acquainted with it, for it lies just over the hill from his own club, the Quaker Ridge, and he has played over it many a time.

MORE COMPARISONS

Since 1923, professionals have won the open three times—Cyril Walker in 1924, Willie Macfarlane in 1925 and Tommy Armour in 1927. None of these was able to repeat, but, fine golfers though they are, they are not quite on a level with Farrel as low scorer, particularly Walker, who has retrograded since he has won the title. Here are the two-year tournament records of this trio as compared to Farrell's:

Player	Rounds Played	Total Strokes	Average Medal
Farrell	116	8,543	72 101-116
Armour	146	10,831	74 27-146
Macfarlane	36	2,680	74 4-9
Walker	42	3,212	76 1-2

Farrell's medal play is nearly a stroke and a half better than Armour's per round, it is approximately a stroke and a half better than Macfarlane's, and it is more than four and a half strokes better than Walker's. Obviously, Johnny has a much better chance of repeating than they had.

A WORD ON PREDICTIONS

Speaking of predictions, before the recent open, the writer suggested that the following had the best chance to finish in the first twelve places, although he did not indicate in what order, except to name Farrell, Jones, MacDonald Smith and Al Espinosa as his favorites to win the title: Jones, Sarazen, Farell, Cooper, Mehlhorn, Smith, Espinosa, Hagen, Diegel, Armour, Watrous and Von Elm.

Here is the record of what they did:

Farrell and Jones tied for first with 294.

Von Elm and Hagen tied for third, 296.

Smith and Sarazen tied for fourth, 299.

Espinosa had fifth best score, 300.

Armour had sixth best score, 301.

Diegel tied for eighth, 303.

Watrous, Mehlhorn and Cooper didn't deliver. Cooper, in fact, was so far off form, that he didn't get into the second thirty-six holes of play.

GREENSHIELDS WINS HANDICAP

Herb Fullerton's Horse Comes to Front in Feature at Hastings—Prospecta Runs Wide

VANCOUVER, July 24. — With Palaes in the saddle, Greenshields, three-year-old gelding owned by H. M. Fullerton, won the Burrard Handicap, feature event on the programme at the third day's meet of the Ascot Jockey Club at Hastings Park this afternoon. Forebec, odds-on favorite, failed to come in the money, finishing fourth. Form employers got a jolt in the second when Prospecta, favorite, ran out on the first turn and finished third, Shortways copping the race.

Olympic Atmosphere Is Becoming Tense

Most of Participants for Sports at Amsterdam Now on Ground—Nervous Strain Beginning to Tell on Athletes

AMSTERDAM, July 24.—The Olympic atmosphere is gradually becoming tense, now that most of the participants are on the ground. The first finals, putting the weight, 1,000 metres, and high jump, will be staged on Sunday.

The six Canadian girl athletes indeed are arriving at the point where nervous strain is beginning to tell. They worked hard today, with the exception of Jean Thompson, 800-metre runner, and Ethel Smith, 100-metre entrant. Miss Thompson will remain off tomorrow, but Miss Smith resumes practice in the morning.

It was stated by officials of the United States team that the speed track, at present soft, will be all right on Sunday, but that its slope is too vertical. Experts, however, hold the angle is correct for the size of the track.

PHIL EDWARDS FAVORED

Gossip favors Phil Edwards, representing Hamilton Olympic Club, in the 800 metres, and figures a close javelin-throwing contest between Lay, New Zealand and Australian champion; Lindstrom, Sweden, and Szepes, reporter on a sporting newspaper of Budapest, who throws easily in practice 212 feet. Dorval Pilling, of Cardston, Alberta, the Canadian javelin thrower, undoubtedly has his work cut out for him.

Percy Wycr, marathoner from Toronto, ran sturdily ten miles today. W. Kibble White, of Winnipeg, 3,000-metre man, was satisfied with a good rub down.

Alfred Phillips, of Toronto, polished up his diving for an hour and a quarter, when the new swimming tank at the stadium was opened today, being accompanied by Mike Riley, of Los Angeles, and Desjardines, of Miami Beach, both outstanding diving contestants.

GO UNDER X-RAY

The Canadian wrestlers, swimmers and marathoners about to proceed to their training quarters today to continue the grind for the Olympic Games were suddenly ordered to the station for X-ray examinations.

The heart, elbows and lungs of the wrestlers and swimmers were examined, and the heart, knees and lungs of the marathon runners received special attention.

The marathoners will undergo a special examination on August 1, four days before the marathon race.

The five Canadian swimmers, Garnet Ault, Ottawa; Monroe Bourne, Montreal; Alfred Phillips, Toronto; Walter Spence, Montreal, and Dorothy Prior, Toronto, have been spending an hour in the water each morning and an hour and a quarter in the afternoon.

Jimmy Rose, the swimming coach, took Miss Prior to the marine dock to practice the 200-metres breast stroke and 100-metres free style.

As for the wrestlers, they are keeping fit by judicious workouts, mainly composed of a mile run around the city, followed by "physical jerks" in front of the railway station.

TENNIS TOURNEY WILL OPEN AUG. 5

Third Annual Esquimalt Competition Will Be Held on New Courts of Hillcrest Club

The third annual Esquimalt tennis tournament will be held on the new clay courts of the Hillcrest Tennis Club, Fraser Street, from August 5 to 12. The tournament is open to any resident of Esquimalt, or any member of an Esquimalt tennis club.

Entrance forms must be in the hands of the secretary, J. Kent-Fawkes, 894 Dunsmuir Road, by Friday, August 3, at 6 o'clock. Forms may be procured from the following members of the tournament committee: J. Kent-Fawkes, R. Butler, H. Davey, P. Mulcahy and Dr. A. Poyntz.

The challenge cups for competition are as follows:

Pooley Cup, (men's singles) held by Ralph Butler.

Esquimalt Merchants' Cup, (ladies' singles) held by Miss D. Thomas.

Hillcrest Tennis Club Cup, (men's doubles) held by A. Porter and A. Jones.

Victoria Brass & Iron Works Cup, (ladies' doubles) held by Mrs. and Miss Thomas.

Harry Maynard Cup, (mixed doubles) held by Miss D. Thomas and E. Stock.

Elks' Swimming Club Cup, (men's consolation singles) held by Dr. McCallum.

Elks' Swimming Club Cup, (ladies' consolation singles) held by Miss I. Green.

NEW YORK, July 24.—Wall Street Financial Bureau, says today: Technical reaction due. Monday's market justified the advice which was given in the later part of last week to carry stocks over the week-end in anticipation of a higher market in the early part of this week. It is anticipated that there will be further points of outstanding strength in today's market, but it is not believed that these issues, which have been outstandingly strong in the past four or five sessions, will be able to add other than a point or two to their rather sharp advances which they have already recorded. Consequently, for traders today should be a day on which attention should be devoted to securing trading profits in anticipation of a technical reaction developing before midweek. The latter development may not put in its appearance today due to the fact that some of the market leaders and secondary leaders which have not accomplished much in the past week will be given belated moves to bring them in line, but after this development a retracement of some ground has been gained is the only logical development to anticipate, particularly in view of the fact that the advance has moderately weakened the technical position and that we have reached a time in the month when it is logical to look for at least a temporary advance in the call rate.

In other words, having unqualifiedly recommended the purchase of a considerable number of issues in June and on the secondary decline in mid-July, a word of caution is simply uttered not to follow stocks too far at the moment in anticipation of any broad advance being inaugurated just at this time, but to realize that at the close yesterday, on the average, stocks were higher than have been at any time since the June bottom was established, with the exception of the few days following the fourth of July vacation. We are still confined within a somewhat limited range, and the fact that we are witnessing the development of not only new high records for the year, but new high records in the history of a number of securities, does not mean that the market as a whole is ready to advance. As we pointed out some time ago, it was anticipated that while we were confined within this relatively narrow range for a period of weeks, both new highs and new lows would be recorded, just as they were in a similar period in November of last year following the October reaction.

If buying recommendations of the past month in Montgomery Ward have been followed, I believe trading profits should be cashed in between 173 and 176 and a switch made to General Motors. American Can should be one of the leaders to pick up its move at this time and make another attack on the 90 level. Would not follow the move in Kroger any higher at this time, but confine buying in the issue from now on to the reaction periods. Texas and Pacific having reached and crossed our objective yesterday, believe profits should be clinched in this issue. Look for a belated specialty move in International Combustion Engineering.

SS. MONTREAL CHANGES HANDS

CANADIAN PACIFIC LINER HAS HAD LONG AND USEFUL CAREER SINCE 1906

As Hamburg-American Vessel, Fredrich August, Was Tied Up During Late War

The completion of the first of the new Duchess type of cabin liner, the very last word in cabin construction, by the Canadian Pacific Line, has permitted the company to examine its fleet with a view to disposing of the ships which do not exactly suit its services today, and under this policy the liner Montreal, which was built as the Hamburg-American liner Koenig Fredrich August, has been disposed of to the Cyprian Fabre Line.

She was built in 1906 by Blohm & Voss, of Hamburg, and was specially designed for the River Plate service, a twin-screw steamer of 9,462 tons, with quadruple expansion engines, giving her a speed of 15½ knots. She had very comfortable accommodation for over 300 first-class passengers and 400 emigrants in the 'tween decks, in addition to hold space for a very considerable cargo. She was christened by the King of Saxony, who took a great interest in her and was present at her trials.

As a passenger and cargo carrier on the South American trade, she was a success from the first, and was one of the ships that was lucky enough to be in port in Germany when war broke out. She was earmarked for service as a transport, should the long-expected opportunity to invade England present itself. As it did not, she remained in port until the time came for her to be surrendered under the Armistice terms, when she was placed temporarily under the management of the P. and O. Line, who put her on to the Bombay service.

It was while she was on this run in May, 1920, with troops and passengers, that a serious fire broke out in her bunkers and forced her to put in to Gibraltar. The Spanish laborers struck work owing to the alleged danger of clearing the bunkers, but the troops assisted the lascar crew, and the work was soon done. In 1920 she was sold to the Canadian Pacific Line, who renamed her Montreal, and for some time this company had her in the Continental services to Canada, both from Antwerp and the Mediterranean.

In the Summer of 1922 she was laid up in the Gareloch for some time, and was then refitted at Liverpool for the St. Lawrence cabin trade, emerging with all her accommodation modernized, and being able to carry 278 cabin and 550 third-class passengers. She was taken off this service at the end of 1924 to undertake a yachting cruise in the Mediterranean in place of the Marloch.

In 1925 and 1926 she spent a good deal of her time laid up in the Gareloch, proving herself a very comfortable ship and a satisfactory dividend earner during the busy seasons. Last year she was employed both on the Liverpool and Antwerp services, and at the end of the season was laid up at Southend, where she has just been delivered to her French buyers.

WESLEYANS ADMIT WOMEN MINISTERS

LIVERPOOL, July 24.—By a large majority, the conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church here yesterday adopted the principle of admitting women into the ministry on the same terms as men. Ordained women are already ministering to several congregations in Britain.

PRICE DRIFT DURING DAY IS IRREGULAR

Efforts to Bring About Further Recovery Meet With Only Partial Success — Sales Still Low

WHEAT REGAINS PART OF LOSSES

NEW YORK, July 24.—Efforts to bring about a further recovery in prices in today's stock market met with only partial success. Several of the specialties were marked up to new high records, and a few new leaders brought forward in the industrials, but several of the recent favorites yielded readily to selling pressure, making final quotations decided but irregular.

Sales were still well below the 2,000,000 mark.

Wheat prices, which broke about 5c a bushel yesterday, recovered nearly half their loss on better foreign news and less favorable crop reports.

General Motors ran into heavy selling and the stock sold down to 184 5-8 and then rebounded to 185 7-8, off 1 1-2 net. Montgomery Ward, which closed yesterday at a new high of 173, dipped to 168 1-2, and then snapped back to 169 7-8. Curtiss, Wright, Radio, Sears Roebuck, Atlantic Refining, Case Threshing and Columbia Gas were recent favorites to show net declines of 1 to 3 points. United States Steel common closed fractionally higher at 138 7-8, after having crossed 140. American Can advanced 4 points to 88 5-8; American Tel., National Radiator, common and preferred, Ward Baking preferred, and International Paper preferred, also sank to new low levels.

Rails showed a firmer undertone.

Foreign exchanges moved within narrow limits, with sterling cables quoted slightly lower at $4.86. Canadian exchange improved slightly on the announcement of a $2,000,000 gold shipment to New York.

The bond market was slightly firmer, but trading was light. Heaviness of United States Government bonds seemed to unsettle trading generally. A few rails sought higher levels, but gains, as in other groups, were mixed with numerous declines.

The St. Paul issues were most active in the railroad group, the 5's of 1975 closing a point higher. Green Bay and Wisconsin debentures advanced 4 points, while Missouri Pacific 6's, New Haven convertible debenture 6's, Northern Pacific 6's B., and N.Y.C. 4 1-2's gained a point or more. Pennsylvania convertible 4's sagged nearly 6 points to a new year's low of 92 1-2.

Liquid Carbonic 6's led the advance in the industrial group with a gain of about 4 points. Indian Limestone 6's, Atlantic Fruit convertible 7's and Morris & Company 4 1-2's registered gains of 1 to 4 points.

The foreign list was firm.

TORONTO, July 24.—The volume of trading on the Standard Exchange today was of fairly good volume, 1,203,879 shares being traded in, and again most of the trading was on the selling side, and, with the exception of two or three issues, every stock on the board lost ground. Amulet opened at $4.26 and sold down to $4.10, closing at the low for the day, losing 20 points. Towagamac also lost, selling from $3.83 down to $3.55 at the close. Noranda was traded in fairly good volume, opening at $57, but quickly sold down to $55.60, but rallied later in the session to $57 and $57.25, but was unable to hold this and sold down again to $55.60 at the close for a loss of 90 points. Abana had quite a hectic day, opening at $3.25, and, after selling down to $3.05, rallied again to $3.30 and closed for a net gain of 2 points at $3.28 to $3.30. Newbec was weak again and off 3 at 27 to 27 1-2. Bidgood was off 3. Granada was one of the few gaining ground, selling from 20 1-2 at the opening to 22 1-2 at the close. Jackson Manion also was slightly firmer from 90 to 97. Malartic opened at $1.35, but reacted in the early session to $1.26 and rallied again to $1.30, closing at $1.29 to $1.30 for a net loss of 8 points. McIntyre was unchanged from $22.25 to $22.50. Big Missouri lost ground today, closing at 59 to 60 for a net loss of 7 points. Sherritt Gordon opened at $6.65, but was heavily sold in the early part of the afternoon and reacted to $6.40, but rallied again in the last hour to $6.60, closing at $6.40 to $6.50 for a loss of 25 points. Sudbury Basin showed considerable strength during the first hour selling to $8.50, but from then on it was heavily sold and lost ground to $7.50.

Mandy was again weak, losing 15 points net at $3.10 to $3.15. Hollinger was again weak, opening at $11.50, and sold down to $11.00, closing at the bottom, a net loss of 40 points.

Winnipeg Grain

WINNIPEG, July 24.—The wheat market was very active today with a fairly large trade passing. There was excellent buying of July, said to be for continental account, and very substantial short covering in October. Altogether the market took on an entirely different appearance from the past two days, and is showing a good upturn and on the extreme upturns were 2⅞ to 2¼ above last night, with July leading the advance. Export sales overnight were somewhat larger than expected, and local exporters appeared to have worked a little business, with total sales probably close to 1,000,000 bushels. Offerings were very large at times and at mid-session the market declined over two cents, getting down to last night's close but again the buying came in and prices reacted to the high levels of the day and held strong. The market had made a break of 10c from Saturday morning, and today's upturn was only natural. There was little change in the general news. Liverpool closed 2⅝ to 3¼ lower about in line with our decline of Monday. Weather conditions in Western Canada continue very favorable, and there is no doubt that a record crop is nearing maturity. Showers were general in Southern Manitoba, but the rest of the West was dry with rather warm temperatures, which are needed. In the cash market there was a fairly active demand for practically all grades, some number 3 northern having been worked for export, while shippers were after the lower grades, which are scarce. Spreads were mostly ¼ higher but the feed grade was 2c better. Winnipeg futures closed 3¼c higher.

Coarse grains—Trade volume was again small in the coarse grains, but the strength in wheat gave the market a stronger tone and a fair upturn was recorded from the early weakness. There was some short covering, but consumptive demand was limited. Oats closed ⅝ lower to ⅞ higher, barley unchanged to ⅝ higher and rye 1⅛ to 2⅞ higher.

Flax—This market was weak in sympathy with the sharp decline in Duluth, not much pressure but demand is very moderate. Closing prices 1⅛ to 1¼ lower.

Coast Copper Reports

VANCOUVER, July 24.—A well-founded rumor reports that Coast Copper have made a strike of bornite close to the Quatsino boundary. They propose getting electric motors for their tunnels and replacing wooden timbering with steel.

An announcement in the near future from the Consolidated regarding a smelter on the Coast would not be surprising.

CANADA—HER GREATEST PROBLEM

IMMIGRATION

CANADA needs MEN—men to plow her lands, to turn her mineral and forest wealth to commercial value—to serve her industries.

Her total population represents but three persons per square mile of her area. Compare this with England's population of 701 per square mile, or Belgium's 665, or Germany's 346, or Japan's 320, or France's 192.

And then compare the position that Canada holds in competition with these nations.

She leads the world in wheat exports; per capita she is second among world traders in foreign markets; she is the world's greatest newsprint producer, and its third greatest gold producer. The world is largely dependent on her for nickel, asbestos and cobalt. With practically one-twelfth of the population of the United States, she does roughly one-fourth the foreign trade of that country.

What would be Canada's position had she her fair share of man power?

The problem of immigration is one that should occupy the attention of every thinking Canadian. It is not a problem only for statesmen—it is a problem for everyone.

NANAIMO GETS HANDSOME SUM

RECEIVES OVER TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS TO USE ON ROADS

By-Law to Borrow That Sum Defeated Prior to Receipt of Government Cheque

NANAIMO, July 24.—The City Council held its regular meeting last evening with Mayor Busby presiding.

Mr. H. Shepherd wrote calling the attention to the council of the condition of the basement of the Elite Hall, which was, he said, flooded from a blocked storm pipe or drain. The matter was referred to the city manager for action.

E. D. Johnson, Deputy Minister of Finance, wrote enclosing a cheque for $10,722.09, being Nanaimo's share of the profits under the Motor Vehicles Act. Mr. Johnson pointed out that the act specified that all moneys received from this source must be spent on roadwork within the municipality receiving same.

Returning Officer Hackwood reported that the by-law voted on last Saturday, which proposed to borrow the sum of $10,000 for street surfacing purposes, was defeated, the vote being 402 ballots cast, 227 for and 175 against, and two spoiled. As it required a three-fifths majority to carry, the by-law was defeated.

Public Works Manager Shepherd reported an expenditure during the past week on streets of $815.89, and on waterworks, $137.93.

Alderman Smith moved that the next band concert be held on August 5, in the Comox Road Park, and also stated that for this occasion more seats would be provided for the public. Alderman Hart seconded the motion, which carried.

Major Busby suggested that during the hot weather, Nanaimo follow the example of other cities, and hold the council meetings every two weeks instead of weekly. Alderman Ironside moved accordingly and Alderman Hart seconded the motion. The next meeting will be held two weeks from last evening.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS JURY'S VERDICT

No Blame Attached for Reserve Mine Fatality—Praise for Bravery

NANAIMO, July 24. — Coroner Hickling held an inquiry yesterday into the deaths of William Cooper and Ilu Ruuski, killed while at work in Reserve Mine on Friday last. The inquiry lasted nearly all day, the jury asking to be conveyed to the scene of the accident before the taking of evidence. The verdict was that the deaths were accidental and that blame cannot be attached to anyone.

The jury added a rider that J. Patterson and A. Dunn displayed great bravery in going to the help of the deceased, at the risk of their lives, and recommended that this be forwarded to the proper authorities.

Fires at Nanaimo

NANAIMO, July 24.—The fire department answered two calls yesterday, the first being a grass fire in the Comox Road Park, which offered quite a stubborn resistance before being extinguished. Hardly had the brigade returned to the hall, when they were called out to a fire at the home of Mrs. L. Lawrence, corner of Comox Road and Prideaux Street. The fire was confined to the roof, and but fifteen dollars' damage resulted.

FORBIDDEN PLATEAU YIELDING SECRETS

Parties From Victoria, Nanaimo and Courtenay Camping in Unexplored Region

COURTENAY, July 24.—A ten-day Summer camp is being enjoyed under perfect weather conditions in the Forbidden Plateau, high above Courtenay and the Comox Valley. Besides a number of local residents, parties under Mr. Claude Harrison from Victoria, and Mr. H. Leighton, from Nanaimo, have joined the camp. The campers are making many interesting trips of investigation into this almost unknown territory, and the information thus gained during the stay in this huge park-like area will doubtless be both interesting and valuable.

SORRELL AND SON A GREAT PICTURE

Much of It Filmed in England With Aid of Author—Is Brenon's Best

Father-and-son love is the theme of "Sorrell and Son," Herbert Brenon's production of Warwick Deeping's best-selling novel, made into a United Artists Picture, and offered at the Capitol Theatre, Duncan, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

H. B. Warner appears as Stephen Sorrell, and Mickey McBan and Nils Asther enact, respectively, the child Kit and the matured Kit Sorrell. The notable cast includes Anna Q. Nilsson as Dora Sorrell; Carmel Myers as Florence Palfrey; Norman Trevor as Thomas Roland; Alice Joyce as Fanny Garland; Mary Nolan as Molly Roland; and Louis Wolheim as Sergeant Buck.

Much of "Sorrell and Son" was filmed in England and with the aid of the author, Warwick Deeping. All of the film "Sorrell and Son" is faithful to the spirit and letter of Warwick Deeping's book, and the ending of the film is that of the book. Herbert Brenon, who made "Peter Pan" and "Beau Geste," says that "Sorrell and Son" is his best motion picture. A father himself, Mr. Brenon believes the story of "Sorrell and Son" is that of any father and any son, and that the appeal of the film as entertainment is supplemented by its spiritual effect on men and women who view it.

Manager J. G. Baiss, of the Capitol Theatre, said that in presenting "Sorrell and Son" to his patrons at popular prices he felt he was announcing presentation at his theatre of one of the five greatest motion pictures ever made.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bayles beat Mr. and Mrs. E. Le Quesne, 6-3, 3-6, 9-7; the Misses Thelma and Christine Brotherston (plus 15) beat Miss Wilma Pike and Miss Winifred Bown, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4; E. Le Quesne and Campbell Brown beat Cyril and Jack Wilkinson (plus 15) 9-7, 4-6, 6-3.

In ladies' singles Mrs. A. E. Bayles (minus 15) beat Mrs. H. A. Hincks, 6-1, 7-6.

In men's singles, Keith Brown (plus 30) beat H. A. Hincks, 6-4, 6-2. E. Le Quesne (minus 15) beat Kenneth Hincks (plus 30) 6-1, 6-3.

Officials Elected for Nanoose Bay School

NANOOSE BAY, July 24.—At the recent school meeting held at the Nanoose Bay School, Mrs. A. McKenzie was re-elected trustee, and Mr. Glenn L. Webster auditor for the coming year.

Duncan United Church

DUNCAN, July 24.—Despite the hot weather, twenty-two members attended the meeting of the Duncan United Church Young People's League, in the church parlors, on Monday evening. Miss Mabel Burkholder presided; Misses Gwen Owens and Ada Burkholder who, with Mrs. R. A. Thorpe, attended the Summer training school recently held at Ocean Park, gave an interesting account of the school activities. Plans were made for a bathing party at Maple Bay on July 30; for the annual social evening at the home of Mrs. John Flett, on August 13, and for the Sunday evening service at the church on August 19. Regret was expressed at the loss of Mr. Don Campbell, who was present for the last time, as a member. He will leave with his parents to reside at Salmon Arm.

DELEGATE FOR COMOX

COURTENAY, July 24. — Mr. Arthur Smith has left to attend a mass meeting of the British Columbia Co-operative Egg and Poultry Pool at New Westminster as delegate of the Comox district.

SERVICES IN SAANICH

Anglican Church services for Sunday, July 29, will be as follows: Morning prayer and holy communion, 11 o'clock, at the Institute Hall, Brentwood; at St. Mary's, Saanichton, 3 p.m. Archdeacon Laycock will preach at both services. There will be no service at St. Stephen's, Mount Newton.

"Tommy," said a young woman visitor at his home, "why not come to our Sunday school? Several of your little friends have joined us lately."

Tommy hesitated a moment. Then, suddenly: "Does a red-headed kid by the name of Jimmy Brown go to your school?"

"Yes, indeed," replied the new teacher.

"Well, then," replied Tommy with an air of interest, "I'll be there next Sunday, you bet. I've been lookin' for him for three weeks and never knew where to find him."

DELEGATES HEAR OF PARK BEAUTIES

Mr. C. S. Wood Lectures to Convention of Associated Boards of Island on Forbidden Plateau

QUALICUM BEACH, July 24.—Mr. C. S. Wood, city clerk of Courtenay, in his capacity as secretary of the Courtenay Mountaineering Club, affiliated to the Alpine Club of Canada, gave an illustrated address this evening to the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island here on the Forbidden Plateau, which is now the scene of a camp at the elevation of about 3,500 feet.

The Associated Boards, whose members are in convention, learned of the beauties of the district, which it is proposed to make into a national park when the property is acquired from the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway, in whose land grant it is situated.

Previous to the dinner, a short business meeting was held, at which the presidential address of Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, reported elsewhere, was read, and Mr. A. Leighton, of Nanaimo, was chosen chairman of the resolutions committee. Mr. P. H. Buller, of Qualicum Beach, was selected as chairman of the credentials committee.

A heavy agenda faces the delegates tomorrow.

MR. GRANT HALL OPENS EXHIBIT

Remarks on Rapid Growth of Saskatoon From Population of 113 in 1903

SASKATOON, July 24.—As the first official act in his annual inspection tour of the Western lines, Grant Hall, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, today declared the Saskatoon Industrial Exhibition for the year 1928 to be open.

After expressing his appreciation of the honor done him, Mr. Hall said "My first visit to Saskatoon was made a number of years ago, when the city was small. In 1903 the population was set at 113, the wonderful growth of the city can only be characterized as phenomenal, the population having reached in so short a time the astonishing figure of 40,000. The growth of the city was primarily due to the opening up of the Saskatchewan Valley for settlement, and to the arrival of the Barry colony from Great Britain, but the most important factor was the extraordinary railroad development in Central and Northern Saskatchewan, which marked the first decade of the twentieth century. The Qu'Appelle, Longlake & Saskatchewan Railway, then operated by the Canadian Pacific, was the first to supply the district with transportation. Closely followed by the Canadian Pacific extension from Yorkton to the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Railway.

"At this particular time," said Mr. Hall, "it is right for me to mention the subject of immigration. While there are a good many conflicting opinions as to how immigration can be best promoted, the necessity for it cannot be doubted, and I venture the suggestion that Canadians should join together, sing their differences as to the methods to be employed and make a supreme effort to arrive at the desired result regardless of the proceedure involved."

Mr. Hall mentioned his regret that the bright spirits of the early days who had laid the foundations of the city truly and well had passed, but was confident that their enthusiasm and pride had passed down and that Saskatoon would continue to progress on sound lines to insure its permanent prosperity.

"You have occasion for special pride in your schools and buildings to develop education, notably the University of Saskatchewan with its enormous enrolment and its record of splendid achievment. These institutions cannot fail to have the greatest effect on the character of the community."

HAMMOND'S NINA WINS LONG RACE

Yacht With Student Crew Crosses Atlantic Ocean in Twenty-Five Days

SANTANDER, July 24.—The yacht Nina, owned by Paul Hammond, veteran yachtsman, today won the Queen's Cup in the Spanish ocean race, finishing at 2:56:52 p.m., while the larger yacht Elena, owned by William B. Bell, of New York, was the first to finish in the larger class for the King's cup entering the harbor at 4:19:55 p.m.

The Nina, manned by a crew of amateurs, crossed the ocean in twenty-five days and finished ahead of all other competitors.

King Alfonso, members of his family, and hundreds of noted Spanish yachtsmen were present for the finish.

Admiral Burridge and many officers from the U.S.S. Detroit, Ambassador and Mrs. Hammond, and members of the embassy staff, were on hand to give the finishing vessels an enthusiastic welcome.

The Nina crossed the finishing line at the entrance of the harbor at 2:56:52. As she came down through the long lane of gaily decorated craft that had gathered, she passed the yacht of the King of Spain. Vociferous greeting was given to King Alfonso from the student crew of the Nina, who used megaphones.

AMERICAN YACHT SALEEMA VICTOR IN DANISH RACE

COPENHAGEN, July 24. — The American yacht Saleema, owned by Vice-Commodore Henry B. Plant, of the Seawanhakha-Corinthian Club, finished third today in the last race of the Danish Royal Yacht Club regatta. The Danish boats preceded the American boat.

Krowa Aground On an Island in Lake Superior

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., July 24.—The steamer Krowa is aground on the Parisian Island, Lake Superior, with a crew of twenty-eight aboard. Word to this effect reached here today when a sailor made his way ashore and told of the wrecking of the ship on Sunday. The coast-guard cutter Chippewa is standing by ready to take the men off if the ship, loaded with pulp wood, is abandoned. The ship is owned by the O. W. Blodgett Company, of Bay City, Michigan.

The recent decision of the British navy to substitute right and left for starboard and port, following an earlier order of the United States navy to the same effect, has prompted an inquiry among Coast steamship companies, and the general feeling is that the time-honored words starboard and port will not be displaced on their lines at this time.

Marine Notes

According to Mr. A. Hebb, local N.Y.K. agent, S.S. Iyo Maru sailed from Yokohama for Victoria on July 16 and should arrive here early on Monday morning. For this port there are sixty tons of cargo and six passengers.

PRINCE RUPERT, July 24.—Halibut landings for the season up to July 20 totalled 14,431,600 pounds, 9,805,600 American and 4,575,000 Canadian, a slight increase over last year.

King Brothers expect Ss. Meiyo Maru to put to sea on Thursday from Ogden Point docks after loading 200 tons of scrap iron and 650,000 feet of lumber. The vessel, in command of Captain M. Jin, will complete at Vancouver.

C.G.S. Estevan left for the Fraser River at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning with Sand Head lightship No. 16 in tow. The lightship was overhauled by the Point Hope Marine Railway Limited.

According to the Marine Department, C.G.S. Berens is working in the Gulf of Georgia and is expected back at the end of the week. When C.G.S. Estevan arrives from the Fraser River she will refit for her annual trip to the Prince Rupert district.

Aorangi Outbound

R.M.S. Aorangi, Captain J. F. Spring Brown, will sail from Vancouver at noon today and should arrive here between 5 and 5:30 o'clock, en route to the Antipodes.

TWO MORE ARRESTED FOR MAIL ROBBERY

TORONTO, July 24.—Toronto and Windsor police have made two more arrests in connection with the recent mail car robbery at the Union Station here. Ray Bovin, charged with robbery and conspiracy, and Mrs. "Bill" Bovin, charged with receiving stolen money and being an accessory after the fact of robbery. Ray Bovin is a brother of Bill Bovin, who is the man wanted by the police most and for whom the recent search in Chicago was conducted. The police recovered $960 of the stolen money at the Bovin home at Windsor.

Five men are now held in connection with the robbery.

A man has been discovered in France who speaks a language unknown to interpreters. Easy French in fifteen lessons, perhaps.

A Stubborn, Itching Rash— quickly cleared away

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I had a very stubborn rash on my legs. It itched and burned and I could get no relief from anything I tried until I learned of Resinol. This ointment cooled and soothed it, and quickly cleared away the trouble. I also find Resinol is very good for chafing."—(Signed) C. E. Cheesman.

The quickness with which Resinol acts in most cases of skin disorder amazes many people. Itching is often stopped at once. Rub on a little of the Ointment before retiring at night. Then wash off with Resinol Soap in the morning. You will be amazed at the results. At all druggists.

For free sample of each, write Resinol, Dept. 21, Baltimore, Md.
